Pledge To Carry Through .

This is the time of year when individuals make resolutions. Many of them we know do it merely because it is the custom, with no particular thought of ever trying to carry out what they resolve. Others are sincere at the time in attempts to break bad habits but do not exert the necessary pressure upon themselves to fulfill their intent.

Still others will make so many resolutions that either they forget what they set out to do, or carry through only a few and let the remainder "ride" for another year.

At this time we are wondering about a pledge that was made by a majority of us before God's altar, either for ourselves or for our children as they were being baptized.

We promised to bring up our children in a Christian manner and to instruct them properly. When we became members of churches we promised to be faithful with "prayers, presence, gifts and service," as one denomination puts it.

It is particularly fitting at this time of year for three service organizations of Oakland to sponsor a "Go to Church" movement. To start out the new year in a proper manner in their aim, and there is none better.

This campaign is not aimed altogether at those who have promised to be faithful to their church and who have neglected their responsibility, but to those who are not at present accustomed to attend church services.

Such a campaign is open to all. It is not limited to Oakland. It is not limited to Garrett county. It is something for everyone to think about and consider its importance.

An ancient proverb says it this wey: "If there is righteousness in the heart, there will be beauty in the character. If there be beauty in the character, there will be harmony in the home. If there is harmony in the home there will be order in the nation. When there is order in the nation, there will be peace in the world."

County Is Covered With 7-inch Snowfall

Garrett county was blanketed with seven inches of snow last week, the heaviest of the year thus far. The snow was recorded on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Strong winds caused drifts to pile several feet high in some areas and the State Roads commission was compelled to keep its plows working to prevent roads from becoming impassable. Several secondary roads in the county were drifted shut but county plows kept most of the roads open to traffic.

Buses and other traffic were slowed to some extent on Friday and Saturday and low temperatures at night have kept the melting to a minimum. Thawing occurred however on Tuesday and rain and snow were predicted for the middle of the week.

The lowest reading of the past few days was on Christmas morning when the thermometer registered one above zero. It was three above on Tuesday and also 51 degrees later in the day for the highest of the week.

A twenty-five inch snowfall occurred in New York City which completely paralyzed activity there for the time being.

Picture of Triplets

Since printing the story of the Ashby triplets along with the picture of them taken a number of years ago, on another page of this newspaper, it was discovered that the photo appeared in the issue of December 26, 1935, and was taken upon the occasion of their 21st birthday anniversary.

Diplomat to Stop Friday

The eastbound Diplomat will stop in Oakland on Friday morning, January 2, to accomodate the New Year passengers desiring to return to their homes, or to visit in Eastern cities.

Around Forty Try New Ski Trails At Sand Flat Over Holiday Week-End

No less than forty skiers displayed their varied adeptness in riding the "sticks" at the newly established Deep Creek Ski Trails on Hooppole Ridge last Sunday. Local talent as well as some members of the Washington Ski club and a few Pennsylvanians tested the slope which the snowfall on Friday made usable for the first time.

Howard D. Naylor, who leased the hill and cleared it of rocks and stumps last July, has divided the slope into three trails which converge near the foot of the ski tow. The slalom trail in the center of the hill has a drop of about 110 feet and is 1,400 feet in length. For those who prefer jumping, a wooden platform will be erected at the extreme right in the near future. The beginners trail starts approximately a third of the way from the bottom.

A 1,000 foot tow, consisting of one inch manila rope and powered by an army surplus truck, extends almost to the foot of the hill. It can accommodate eight persons at one time and can return them to the top in a little less than three minutes.

Mr. Naylor indicated that if the tow is successful this year, a warming hut, wind breaks, and additional sodding will be added to the project.

Hours of operation, with weather permitting, are set for Saturday and Sunday, opening at 10:00 a. m. until 11:00 p. m. All holidays will open at this time as well. The tow will also run on Thursday afternoons and nights, and at any time a party of ten or more make reservation.

If the weather is suitable, about forty members of the Washington Ski Club will use the slope on the week-end of January 10, according to Mr. Naylor. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davidson and Miss Dorothy Keyes of the Club tested the hill during the Christmas holidays.

A limited number of skis and poles can be rented at the tow shack and beginners can receive instruction upon request, Mr. Naylor said. Rates for the use of the tow are $1.00 for persons over fourteen years and fifty cents for those of fourteen and under.

There was also skiing over the week-end at Guntertown, Happy Hills Farm, and at the State Forest at New Germany.

Coddington Seeks $10,000 Damages For Arm Injuries

A suit by titling was filed in the Allegany County circuit court on Monday by George E. Coddington, Jr., individually and also for the use of the State of Maryland and the Department of Maryland State Police, against Floyd Whorton, Flintstone. The suit was docketed by Coddington's attorneys.

According to the latter the action is the result of serious injuries suffered by the State Police Trooper last August when a hydraulic jack dropped off the bed of a truck owned by Whorton, and struck Coddington on the arm. The mishap occurred when Coddington driving east in the Flinstone area, passed Whorton's truck, driving in a westerly direction. The jack, which was lying on the open bed of the truck, fell and struck Trooper Coddington on the arm and elbow. The Trooper had his arm out of the window of his car at the time.

Damages of $10,000 are being asked when the declaration of the case is filed, attorneys said.

The Maryland Tuberculosis association has received $85,000 up to December 28.

Walter W. Dawson, state's attorney for Garrett county, has resigned his position, effective January 1, 1948, and the vacancy has been filled by the appointment of W. Dwight Stover to fill the unexpired term.

The announcement of Dawson's resignation came as a surprise to most court officials. He was elected in November, 1946, for a four-year term, after having previously served as state's attorney from 1930 to 1934.

In tendering his resignation to the judges of the Circuit Court Mr. Dawson stated: "It is with sincere regret that I feel that I should take this action and I have done so only after careful consideration. It is my desire to give my undivided time and attention to my private practice."

Upon order of the Circuit Court on December 29, Mr. Stover was appointed for the unexpired term. The order was signed by William A. Huster, chief judge; Joseph D. Mish and George Henderson associate judges.

Service Clubs Are Sponsoring "Go To Church" Movement

Committee Urges Church Attendance of All People of Community, Especially During January

The "Service Clubs" of Oakland—the Business and Professional Women's Club, the Lions Club, and the Rotary Club are jointly sponsoring a Go-to-Church movement for Oakland and vicinity during the month of January, using as their slogan, "Begin the New Year Right—Go to Church."

Such a movement was sponsored by the three service clubs last year with such success that it is being undertaken again this year with much enthusiam by these groups, according to a member of the committee.

The officers of the respective clubs, as well as the members of the special committees appointed for this project, are not only urging their own members to attend church, but they are entering upon a campaign of publicity through which they are calling upon the people of the community to attend church services regularly, especially during the month of January.

The clubs are not planning to attend any particular church in a body during the period set aside for the campaign but are reminding their members and the public at large that they should attend the services in their own churches of which they are members and to which they owe their loyalty.

Window cards and hand bills are being printed for display in the business places and distribution to the homes of the city. Other items of publicity are being prepared by the members of the joint committee in charge of the project.

The committee members are: for the Business and Professional Women's Club, Mrs. Walter E. Dawson, President, Mrs. A. H. Humbertson and Mrs. F. R. Shaffer; for the Lions Club, Herbert C. Leighton, President, Lewis R. Jones and Robert Ruckert; and for the Rotary Club, Mason Glotfelty, N. A. Coplin and William M. Ellinghaus.

Route 219 Improvement On Spring List of Activity

One of the projects on the Maryland highway program for early spring is relocation of route 219, from Oakland toward Deep Creek Lake, according to G. Bates Chaires, district engineer, of Cumberland.

About $3,500,000 will be expended on the entire program which includes also the relocation of route 40 from Crystal Park, near Cumberland, to a point slightly inside the eastern limits of Frostburg. This latter project will cost in excess of a million dollars.

The Oakland toward Deep Creek Lake road will be about five miles in length and will be a 24-foot asphalt surfaced road. It is expected to cost about $500,000. There will be a relocation for about a mile out of Oakland, and Chaires said he believes all rights of way have been acquired.

Oakland High Quint To Play Fellowsville Team

School Buildings Sold

Two school buildings were sold yesterday at public auction by the Board of Education.

The New Herrington one-room school, located on the Hutton road, was purchased by Rev. Dan H. McAllister, Oakland, for the sum of $450.00, according to F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent of schools. He plans to remodel into a dwelling, it was stated.

The Sang Run two-room building was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Friend, of Sang Run, for the sum of $825.00. They plan to remodel into a home.

Mr. Rathbun said the bidding was spirited. He said there were no protests concerning the sale of the buildings from any residents of those areas. He said the Sang Run school, which was built about 40 years ago, had been unoccupied for six or seven years. The Herrington school had been unoccupied for three or four years, he said.

The sale was conducted Tuesday morning in the Court House with around 30 persons present.

There were approximately 88,000 cancellations of letters from the 15th to the 24th. The records show over 81,000 one and one-half cent stamps and 36,500 three-cent stamps sold at the windows during those dates.

MEMBER AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

THURSDAY, JANUARY 1, 1948

State Will Have 14 Legal Holidays in '48

There will be fourteen legal holidays in the State of Maryland in 1948, according to a record compiled by the office of the State Comptroller. The Presidential election year adds one and Lincoln's birthday adds the second new one for the year.

The Maryland legislature, at its session last winter passed an act declaring February 12 a State holiday in Lincoln's memory for the first time.

The fourteen holidays are New Year's, Lincoln's birthday, Washington's birthday, Maryland Day, Good Friday, Memorial Day, July Fourth, Labor Day, Defenders' Day, Columbus Day, Armistice Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas, national or state-wide election day.

Dr. Horace E. Flack, director, department of legislative reference, supplied the following information about how the Maryland legislature passed the act.

"An examination of the records from 1918 to date show that bills were introduced in the General assembly in 1918, 1927, 1931, 1941, and 1947. All failed of passage except in 1941 and 1947. The bill which was passed in 1941 was vetoed by the Governor on the ground that it was thought unwise to add further to the list of holidays at that time when every effort should be directed toward production, and that any stoppage of work might very well interfere with the proper conduct of business and industry. The bill in 1947 was approved."

Lincoln's birthday is a legal holiday in 32 states, he added. Of the 16 which have not made the date a legal holiday, four of them are in New England. Of the 32 which have made it a legal holiday, seven of them are south of the Mason and Dixon line.

Pleasant Valley 4-H Club Active During 1947

The Pleasant Valley 4-H club was active during 1947, according to Mrs. Katherine Spoerlein, local leader.

The club had its regular meeting in the Pleasant Valley hall on December 18, and planned a party to be given during the holidays. Although there are only six members, the group packed two packages for teen age girls, to be shipped overseas. Required to complete one unit each year, the club members each completed four units, meal planning (by serving a buffet dinner) serving, making quick hot breads and canning.

Free State Forestry

J. E. Paulhamus

How many bankers would withdraw capital from an investment and permit the interest which had accumulated on that capital to remain unused? Yet the "Forest Banker" will from time to time reduce his capital by cutting it and at the same time permit some of the accumulated growth or interest to remain in the woods in the form of unused tops or high cut stumps. Generally speaking, it is the practice to cut stumps as low as practical; however, it is not too hard to find operations where merchantable material has been left in the woods in the form of high stumps. Six inches of length may not amount to much where one tree is cut, but where a large number of trees are cut to the acre as is the general case in mine prop operations, this unused material may soon represent quite a loss to the operator. To be sure, such cutting may necessitate a little extra work in some cases, but we wonder if the increased work would not be offset by the extra material produced?

In addition there is another item to concerned will produce sprouts stumps, especially where the trees concerened will produce sprouts which will form the basis for the next crop of timber from the same area. It has been found that high sprouts, that is, sprouts which start high up on the old stump are somewhat weaker and more susceptible to rot than sprouts from the same stump which started at or near the ground level. Low sprouts are more likely to establish their own root system and heal out any rot which causes decay of the parent stump. On the other hand, rot from the parent stump will in many cases get into the heartwood of a high sprout and result in a decayed butt which will have to be left in the woods when the tree is finally cut.

Therefore, a low stump may not only mean additional returns now but may also mean high quality material in the next crop of timber, an item which is worth consideration.

HEALTH · HAPPINESS · PROSPERITY

ONCE AGAIN we greet the New Year in the traditional manner—with pealing of bells, with fun and gaiety, laughter and music.

Despite his ingenuity, man still persists in "watching the old year out and greeting the new year" in almost the identical manner of his forefathers.

In that same identical manner, I extend my traditional New Year's greeting to you.

· MAY HEALTH, HAPPINESS AND PROSPERITY BE YOURS TODAY AND THROUGHOUT THE NEW YEAR

Beliefs That Matter

Lesson for January 4, 1948

THE first three months of 1948 will reintroduce us to some of the great Christian teachings in regard to God, Man, Salvation and Christian Living. While many of us have studied these great teachings again and again, we shall be greatly profited in the lessons of this quarter, looking at life in today's changing world in the light of these timeless truths.

Dr. Newton

"And many other signs truly did Jesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this Book; but these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name," John 20:30, 31. "Take heed unto thyself, and unto the doctrine; continue in them; for in doing this thou shalt both save thyself, and them that hear thee," I Timothy 4:16.

* * *

The Story of Lydia

SEE how the above truths are borne out in the story of Lydia, Acts 16:11-15. Here was a prosperous business woman, making an honorable living, "whose heart the Lord opened." Paul taught her the way of salvation. She and her household were baptized, she took Paul and his helpers into her home, and became a tower of strength as the Gospel was being spread throughout Europe.

Lydia was not attracted to Paul by his eloquent preaching, but by the story of God's love which Paul faithfully gave. And when she had been saved, she began immediately to translate her faith into works.

* * *

Proving Our Beliefs

JUNIOR boys and girls will like this story about Lydia because it is practical. We can see a woman opening her home to the preachers of God. We can see her in her place of business, inviting her customers to come and hear Paul preach. She was a living sermon.

Every junior boy and girl in every Sunday school in the United States can render the same vital service during 1948. There are literally millions of boys and girls in this country who have never been to Sunday school. They do not know anything about a Sunday school, but they would like to know.

You can start a movement in your community that will solve problems that the mayor and police cannot solve. They will thank you for your help, and God will bless you in time and eternity. Invite that neighbor boy or girl to Sunday school.

* * *

Belief Makes a Difference

YOU are what you believe. Ask the football or basketball coach. Ask the man who teaches people to fly planes in your community. You are what you believe. "Every one who believes that Jesus is the Christ is a child of God," I John 5:1.

And it matters greatly what you believe. You can go wrong very easily by believing what is false about God, just as you can go wrong very easily in flying a plane by failing to believe the right thing about the laws of physics.

* * *

Beliefs That Matter

JESUS is the Christ, the Son of God. That is the number one belief that matters. It was so on the day when Jesus announced, "On this rock I will build my church," Matthew 16:18. It is absolutely basic in every relationship of life.

I meet with business and professional men every day, in widely varying walks of life, who tell me that they are sustained by this belief. During the recent war, men lived in this basic relief. In these trying days at hand and ahead, belief in Jesus as the Son of God is the norm. We cannot face these difficult days without this anchor. And all this quarter we shall be studying, Sunday after Sunday, this great truth and those that grow out of this fundamental concept.

What a privilege to teach this great truth! The Sunday school teachers of our country are the most important single group we have. By their voluntary service, they are pointing our people to the one sure road that leads to the City of God. My prayer is that they shall daily seek to qualify under the formula of I Timothy 4:16. "Take heed unto thyself, and unto the doctrine; continue in them; for in doing this thou shalt both save thyself, and them that hear thee."

PIMPLES
DON'T SQUEEZE THEM! Instead brush on KLEEREX and see how amazingly fast it hides ugly pimples as it dries them—often on first trial. Not a greasy salve that pimples thrive on, but a soothing medicated liquid that relieves itching—drives redness out. Ask for KLEEREX at all druggists. Double your money back if it fails. 49c

THEY ARE SLIGHTLY OLDER NOW

THE ASHBY TRIPLETS

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ashby, of near Grantsville, gave a birthday dinner recently in honor of the thirty-third birthday anniversaries of their triplet sons, Glenn, Burton and Lee.

A number of years ago, when these boys were in Oakland High school, the above picture was taken and used in The Republican in connection with a story about them. They look slightly older today but are still recognizable from their picture.

Taking Inventory . . . . .

Most business men by this time have taken an inventory of the goods they have on hand, have figured the item cost and know about what their stock is worth. They have also figured what items were desirable, what didn't sell and what items were sold that were found to be objectionable. They will take steps immediately to see that history does not repeat.

What we are so careful of in our business, we sometimes fail to carry out when it comes to ourselves personally.

We can learn a lesson from the purpose of an inventory by applying it to ourselves. Take stock of what we have been and what we have done throughout the past year. Have we shown desirable traits of character? Have we done or said things which have rebounded to our discredit? Have we sold a reliable bill of goods? Have we satisfied our own selves? Have we been of service to the community? Have we been critical of the good that others are trying to do? Have we been kind to our fellow men? Have we been honest with them—and to ourselves?

The questions are almost endless. Each person can add a dozen more. But after the questions are asked, answer them honestly, and see if 1948 will not bring an improvement, no matter how high a percentage one might have had last year.

March of Dimes Campaign To Begin Thursday, January 15.

The 1948 March of Dimes campaign will get underway next Thursday, January 15, it was announced by Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, county chairman. The beginning of the drive will mark the tenth anniversary of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

"This year as never before," Dr. Baumgartner said, "Garrett county is going all out in the drive for funds for infantile paralysis patients. Everyone will have an opportunity to share in combatting a dread disease which for the past five years has hit the county with the greatest severity ever witnessed in history."

The cost of fighting polio has increased. Two cases in Garrett county since October now under care in state hospitals, have cost the local organization almost $600, which leaves the treasury with only $142.32.

Last year contributions in the county totaled $1,615, half of which the local chapter retained, and half of which went to national headquarters for continued work in research.

Dr. Baumgartner named his county committee several weeks ago which includes W. J. Glenn, Friendsville; Marshall Brown, Grantsville; L. C. Hutson, Kitzmiller; Mrs. Carroll Pattison, Bloomington; Miss Josie Iden, Crellin; Mrs. Edgar Smith, Loch Lynn; Mrs. E. C. Clatterbuck, Deer Park; Peter Scripp, Kempton; B. O. Aiken, Accident; Arthur Humbertson, Mt. Lake Park; Mary Jane Harvey, Swanton; Charles L. Briner, Oakland.

The county chairman said the coin collectors would be distributed as usual throughout the county, and in addition there would be benefit entertainments, etc., during the campaign. A dance is being planned by the Oakland committee. Collections will be made in all public schools and in all probability in the theatres at particular times.

Maryland's campaign for 1947 showed a slight decrease over that of the year previous and the chairman urged a most active drive for this year.

Two women will speak here next Thursday evening at a dinner meeting of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce, which will officially open the campaign. Dr. Mildred Otanseck, professor of political science, Trinity College, Washington, D. C., and Miss Catherine C. Gaule, administrative director of the state chairman, will be here for that occasion.

County Treated to Variety of Weather

Garrett county was treated to a variety of weather during the past week which included even some thunder and lightning.

The two latter varieties were noted around Deep Creek Lake last Thursday evening, which followed an all-day rain. Streams rose to a high level. The Weber weather station recorded 1.95 inches of rain on the 1st and .65 on the 2nd.

During the week four inches of snow fell on the 5th, 6th and 7th. During these three days there was some sleet which caused highways to be hazardous. There was some drifting and state roads crews were at work to keep highways cindered and clear for traffic.

Sleet was heavier in the Terra Alta, W. Va., section which caused a break in the electric line on Tuesday afternoon. Oakland was without lights for about an hour.

The low temperature of the week was recorded this morning at 3 above zero, with the high being 48 degrees on the 1st. Warmer weather was predicted for the week-end.

Tax Schedules To Be Revised for Next Year

Revised personal property tax schedules adopted by the State Tax commisssion of Maryland, are being prepared by the County Commissioners office, which will be used for the 1949 assessment.

The old schedule forms were used during the past year to prepare for the assessable basis for this year's levy.

Other counties in the state are using the revised schedules this year, but those counties do not lay their annual levies until later in the year. Garrett county's levy must be laid by January 10.

No indiciation was given by the Commissioners this week as to what the tax rate for 1948 would be, but others closely connected with Court House activities were of the opinion the rate would be about the same as last year, $2.10 on each $100 of assessable property.

R. C. McComas, supervisor of assessments for this county, said the new schedules which have been revised by the State Commission include a special schedule for farms and estates and a special type for firms and individuals. The new schedules go further in requesting information as to costs and value of inventories than the old tax schedules. They are more in detail and the farmer or business man will be compelled to list accurately his merchandise in stock, his machinery, etc.

Dixon Motor Team Defeats Independents

Dixon Motor basketball team defeated the Oakland Independents on Monday night in a close contest on the local court 72 to 60. Oakland led at half time 32 to 29 but was unable to keep C. Winters under cover in the last half. He made 23 points, a majority of them coming in the last half. G. Arnold also scored 16 points for the visitors.

Bill Sharps led the Oakland scoring with 16 points, but others were not far behind with Lyons 12, Kahl 11, Marucci 11 and Gibson 10.

The Oakland Independents defeated the Oakland American Legion team in a league game last evening 75 to 44. Independents led at half time 38 to 18.

Sharps led the Independents with 21 points while others scoring were Kahl, 19; Johnson, 16; Lyons, 7; Stewart, 6; and Spoerlein, Marucci and Gibson 2 each. Killius was high scorer for Legion with 15 points. George Stewart scored 10, Davy 9, Kildow and Shaffer 4 each and M. Wolfe 2.

These two teams are matched for another league game on Monday evening. The Legion team will meet the Cumberland Amvets on Wednesday evening.

The Accident Post American Legion team will play the Grantsville American Legion team at Accident in the school auditorium at 8 o'clock on Friday night, January 9.

Prices High at Live Stock Sale

At the regular weekly sale last Monday veal prices went to $34.25 per hundred, but fat hogs were slightly off, the top prices being $28 per hundred.

Two good Hereford bulls weighing 1395 and 1520 pounds, sold for $22 and $21.25 per hundred respectively. These were said to be exceptionally good prices.

Marines sailed January 6 for duty in the Mediterranean area.

Helbig Again Heads County Commissioners

J. Edward Helbig was re-elected president of the Board of County Commissioners at the regular meeting of that body this week.

Following the naming of the president for 1948 the board proceeded to make the following appointments:

N. C. Fraley, attorney; J. Edward Helbig, member of the Welfare Board; W. W. DeWitt, county roads engineer; Thane O. White, janitor of the court house; Earl Wolfe, assistant; Gertrude E. Aronhalt, secretary to the commissioners; Mrs. Bertie Thrasher, secretary to the assessors; Dr. E. E. Sollars, physician to jail; Lewis R. Jones and H. C. Riggs, auditors.

Francis E. Connolly, executive secretary of the Welfare Board, presented its budget for the year. The board requests the county to furnish $44,682.84. The State and Federal governments will furnish $253,517.50, to make the total needs in that board $298,200.34. The amount requested from the county is less than that requested last year, due to a decrease in the amount from the county under the category of "general assistance."

The Commissioners also definitely fixed the tax rate on the Deep Creek Lake Sanitary district at 50 cents on each $100 of assessable property in that particular district.

Kreyenbuhl Girl Is Seriously Injured By Blast From Shotgun

Barbara Jean Kreyenbuhl, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kreyenbuhl, Deer Park road, was admitted to Allegheny hospital in Cumberland last Thursday night for treatment of serious injuries suffered when she was struck by a blast from a shotgun accidently discharged by her 11-year-old brother.

Part of her right hand and two fingers were amputated at the hospital. The girl also was peppered about the neck and body by pellets from the .12-gauge shotgun.

The accident occurred about 5:30 p. m. when Carl Kreyenbuhl accidentally pulled the trigger while playing with the gun in the kitchen of the home. Authorities said the blast went through the girls hand and struck a dish, scattering particles over the room. The mother was preparing supper and had her back turned when the accident occurred. Members of the family said they did not know the weapon was loaded.

Sales Tax Total For November, $2,245,791

When James J. Lacy, State Comptroller and administrator of the Maryland Retail Sales Tax Act, announced this week that the receipts for November reached $2,245,791, that made the total for the first five months of the levy, $10,218,808.

The November amount was $24,577 less than that received for October. That undoubtedly was due, said Walter E. Kennedy, Chief of the Retail Sales Tax Division, to the 14-cent bracket, which went into effect on November 10. Prior to that date, the bracket was nine cents.

Mr. Kennedy hazarded an opinion that the receipts from the levy for December would be the largest received for any one month for 1947. He made his prediction on the fact of the huge buying by the public for the Christmas season.

Deep Creek Property Owners to Get Extra Tax Bill This Year

Recent Law Provides for Sanitary District in that Area, And Provides for Additional Levy

Property owners around Deep Creek Lake will get an extra tax bill this year for the first time, the extra one coming as the result of Senate bill 437 which establishes a Deep Creek Lake Sanitary district and set up a sanitary commission, to be composed of members of the County Commissioners of the county.

The recent law provides for levying up to 50 cents per $100 of assessable property, embracing all of the waters and underlying lands of Deep Creek in districts 1, 6, 7, 10 and 14, and all lands within an area of 1,000 feet from the high water mark. Lands and buildings used exclusively for farm purposes are excepted.

J. Edward Helbig, president of the County Commissioners, said the district included assessable property amounting to $1,500,000. It was estimated there were 600 or 700 properties which would come under the provisions of the district. By actual count of R. C. McComas, Supervisor of Assessments, there are 690 assessments and 425 dwellings within the area.

The act gives the commission power to supervise, regulate, control, establish and maintain operations of any sewerage or disposal system in that area.

The law prohibits any sewerage, drainage or garbage being put into the lake, or tributaries within the boundries of the district.

For several years there have been complaints that sewerage is being drained into the lake and that garbage is being dumped out of boats. The menace to public health has increased each year and the new law is a result, in an effort to stop such practices before the lake become polluted.

The Commission is empowered to appoint an engineer, an inspector, and other necessary employes to carry out the program, and is also authorized to provide for the collection of garbage and trash, to fix charges and enforce collection.

Persons planning to install sewerage disposal systems are required to obtain a permit first from the commission.

Mr. Helbig said there had been no appointment of any workers to date, but that they were planning to have the treasurer mail out separate tax bills to property owners in that area to provide funds for payment of salaries and other expenses of the commission. A levy of 50 cents on each $100 would realize $7,500 for this work.

Garrett Bank Installs Night Depository Unit

The Garrett National Bank in Oakland has installed a night depository unit, which is available to any person of the community who contracts with the bank for its use, it was announced by H. C. Riggs, cashier.

This is an additional service of the bank to the public and was installed to lessen the danger of burglaries in the community, Mr. Riggs said.

The original cost for a money bag with a set of keys will cost $4.00, and the rental for the service will be 50 cents monthly, it was explained. A customer who has money or valuable papers and has no safe place in his home or store for overnight may place these in the bag, drop the bag in the depository which has an outside entrance. The bag drops into a regular safe on the inside with a dual control. When two bank officials are present the next day the safe is opened and the bag is taken to the safety deposit vault, there to await the customer's pleasure. He can then make a deposit, place the contents in a safety deposit box, take it back to his home or store, or take it to another bank to deposit. There is no obligation involved, other than contracting for the use of the depository, Mr. Riggs said.

The total cost of the unit, which is being installed by the Mosler Safe company, will be about $1,500. Mr. Riggs said his bank also had made available 75 additional safety deposit boxes, making a total of 356.

SCHOOL BOARD BUDGET LISTS NEEDS FOR 1948

Estimates Amount Needed as $793,701, of Which County Is Being Asked to Provide $165,736

The Board of Education has estimated that it will cost $793,701 to provide for the operation and maintenance and other expenditures of the public schools of the county during the calendar year, 1948, according to the proposed budget as submitted to the County Commissioners at its meeting this week.

Of this amount the state would furnish $627,965, leaving a balance of $165,736 which the Board requests the Commissioners to provide out of the 1948 levy. The budget, according to F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent of schools, calls for a 65-cent county tax rate for total expenses, which is the least that can be provided under the State school law, as the result of which the county will receive from the State an equalization fund of about $403,634. The minimum is based upon $21,500,000 assessable valuation of property in the county.

For instructional service the sum of $510,002 is listed with $439,632 being provided by the state. The State also provides the entire amount of $135,000 estimated as necessary for the transportation of pupils. The budget sets forth that the state is to provide about $591,565 for the operating and maintenance expenses of the schools which is $204,378 above the 1947 estimate.

The sum of $10,750 is requested for new school buildings for the county as a result of which the budget sets out that $36,400 additional would be provided by the State for that same purpose. Debt service amounts to $11,230, all of which must be provided by the county.

Under other capital outlay estimates the sum of $800 is requested for a fire escape for a frame school building at Friendsville; $75 for fire protection for Bloomington school; $2,337 for typewriters and equipment for the Kitzmiller High school; $255 for a planer for the agriculture department of Oakland High; $319 for furniture for Bloomington school as 40 percent of the cost; and $220 for installation of equipment for installing electricity in the Finzel school. The sum of $8,600 is requested from the county to pay additional salaries of teachers for the four months of September, October, November and December, 1947; $380 is requisitioned to meet State requirements for the full requirements for a 56-cent levy in 1946; $2,000 for additional salaries for vocational teachers; $250 for renting a gymnasium in Elk Garden for use of Kitzmiller high school pupils.

Salary of teachers this year is estimated at $307,502 for elementary schools, of which $24,454 is to be furnished by the county; and $169,550 for high schools of which $20,900 is to be furnished by the county. Last year the county was asked to provide over $48,000 for these salaries.

The salary of the superintendent is listed at $6,500 of which the state will provide $4,333; in comparison to $6,000 last year, and of which the state provided $3,426. Traveling expense was increased $100 in the estimate. Amount for clerks and stenographers was increased from $4,500 to $7,000.

Estimated Federal funds include $4,814 for day vocational schools; $2,000 for school lunches and $3,500 for on the farm training.

The amount which the Board of Education will receive from the county will be determined within a few days when the Commissioners lay the levy.

Amount of Recording Here Double That of Any Previous Year

He listed a total of 1,017 deeds, 541 mortgages and chattel mortgages, 542 oil and gas leases, 335 electric rights of way agreements recorded on the books during the year, and added that the transfers of real estate had been particularly heavy.

The amount of recording was double that of any previous year. The large number of oil and gas leases in the Red House, lake and Accident sections were partly responsible for this. From twelve to fifteen thousand names were added on land indices alone, he declared.

The marriage license bureau also had 2,564 applications and 2,446 licenses were granted during the past year. This was a decrease in the number of permits granted during the previous year. The biggest number were issued in 1941 when the total was 2,994.

During six months last year the number was above 200, with August being the biggest month with 265. June was next with 250. The total by months: January, 186; February, 142; March, 166; April, 180; May, 200; June, 250; July, 224; August, 265; September, 232; October, 226; November, 197; December, 178.

Thirty-seven marriage licenses were issued during the past week ending Monday morning from the clerk's office. Sixteen of those were issued in January.

Gas Company Plans Improvements In 1948

The Cumberland and Allegheny Gas company plans to invest more than $700,000 in gas service improvement projects during 1948.

This budget figure for next year's construction activity is incorporated in the more than $13,000,000 of construction planned throughout the five-state area served by the affiliated gas companies in the Pittsburgh group of the Columbia Gas System.

According to Irvin K. Peck, vice president and general manager, the actual start of many of the proposed projects will depend upon the gas company receiving approvals from Federal and State regulatory bodies. Another important factor is the obtaining of deliveries for steel pipe, valves, pumps and similar equipment.

The gas company plans to build in 1948 a high pressure gas transmission line near Oakland. When completed, it will increase pressure for the delivery of gas from a new field in Preston county, W. Va.

Also planned for next year is the further development of a new field in Tucker county, which seems to have possibilities of becoming a good source for natural gas.

Another scheduled project is a high pressure transmission line which will be laid to improve the gas service in the vicinity of Terra Alta, W. Va.

EVERYONE HAS A STAKE
in the Future of AGRICULTURE

Everyone, whether he or she lives in the city or on a farm, is directly affected by agriculture This is true, whether or not we realize it.

Without a thriving agriculture, which means the application of the most efficient farming practices, this country would be stagnant. Next to coal, agriculture is West Virginia's greatest single industry, with a cash income of over $100,000,000 a year to the farmers.

Still, we do not raise enough certain staple products to come near supplying even our own needs. And we are sadly slow in making provision for a prosperous agriculture in the future. We need more diversified and better balanced programs and greater efficiency on our farms. These will prove the best insurance against future uncertainties.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS AIM FOR BETTER FARMS, MORE INCOME AND CLOSER COOPERATION AMONG BUSINESS AND AGRICULTURAL GROUPS TO BUILD BETTER COMMUNITIES

Working in conjunction with established agencies the Monongahela Power Company has for many years employed specialists in agriculture, farm home design and in the application of electricity to farm work. Lately other specialists have been added to cover heretofore neglected fields—such as farm management, rural recreation, soil conservation, forestry and farm buildings design.

In addition to these general services available throughout the territory we serve, specific programs such as "Farming for Better Living," have been carried out successfully in 24 counties. Activities of this type will be extended to other communities as soon as personnel becomes available and when needs and local interest justify expansion.

Our company considers it merely good business to support wholeheartedly these programs. We know that a good farmer is a good customer not alone for us but for many businesses of his county even though out of each dollar he spends, less than two cents go for all the labor saving, convenience and comfort which electricity brings.

No one can tell how much "Farming for Better Living" and other agricultural programs in which our company has aided have contributed to the remarkable increase in farm income during the last eight years. No one can tell how much good they will do in the future.

We feel the surface has been merely scratched. Widespread cooperation in attaining the main agricultural objectives will promote prosperity and make this country and state a better place in which to live.

OUR CHURCHES MAKE THIS COMMUNITY A BETTER PLACE IN WHICH TO LIVE

THAT IS WHY WE BELIEVE IN THE GO TO CHURCH MOVEMENT

The interests of youth are not enough. As years pass and maturity comes upon us we find less and and less to hold our interest in the activities that once fascinated us. We need something strong and fine and worthwhile . . . not memories, but something to which we look forward no matter how old we become. We need the churches.

We need the faith that close association with a church offers us. We need the opportunity to take part in church activities, the chance to join in the work of helping others. We need the churches for the sake of our children, too.

And because we believe in these things we want to do everything in our power to help the churches of this community grow and prosper.

Tri-State Timber Workers Are on Strike

Some 12,000 timber and saw mill workers of the tri-state area who are members of the United Construction Workers, an affiliate of the United Mine Workers, have gone on strike, virtually cutting off all timber supplies to coal mines and steel mills.

They are asking a 28-percent wage boost which the association is unable to meet unless coal operators agree to pay more for their mine posts and milled products.

The wage fight is not between the union and timber operators but is a battle of both against the coal operators.

Miners which union officials said would be affected include some 6,000 in Garrett and Allegany counties.

The Tri-State Lumberman's Association was scheduled to meet Wednesday in Farmington, Pa., to discuss developments.

It is estimated there are about 300 timbermen and saw mill workers in this county, but the group is not organized. They engage chiefly in mine props and rough lumber.

Ministers Ask For Wednesday As Day For Church Meetings

Would Like Other Organizations to Cooperate In Avoiding Conflicts

An effort to avoid conflicts in meetings concerning church and community activities resulted in a motion by the Mt. Top Ministerial association this week that may go a long way in solving these difficulties.

At the group's last meeting in the Methodist church on Monday morning, a motion was approved asking that Wednesday be observed as church night as far as possible. In other words, Dr. Pickens explained that it was the intention for all churches to hold all their meetings as far as possible on Wednesday nights, and in turn, all other organizations and schools of the community would arrange to have their meetings on the other nights of the week. In this way, those persons who were active in community and church activities would be able to assume their share of both responsibilities.

The ministers were hoping that this endeavor would include all communities in the bounds of the ministerial association which also include Mt. Lake Park, Aurora, Deep Creek, Bayard, Gormania, Accident, Friendsville, Bittinger, and other nearby areas.

They agree that such an arrangement would not always work but expresssed the desire that all would make an honest attempt. Some church meeting nights already have been changed to Wednesday, Dr. Pickens said.

Campaign Bearing Fruit

Local ministers stated they also felt the go to church campaign, being conducted by the service clubs of the community, was bearing fruit. Attendance had improved in all churches.

Mrs. James C. Davis, who has been an auxiliary teacher in the Oakland Elementary school, is being named teacher of the third grade, to fill the position made vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Mildred Alstetter. Oakland Elementary is now a 12-teacher school. Mr. Rathbun said there had been a decrease in enrollment there since the fall term began.

Flood Prevention Survey Underway

As a part of the State Department of Forests and Parks program to aid in flood prevention, 16 large tracts of land containing 7255.9 acres in Garrett and Allegany counties, have been surveyed and reports prepared by assistant district foresters. The work in this county was done by J. E. Paulhamus.

William A. Parr, district forester, explained that public and privately owned timber and woodland tracts were being checked with the view of working out methods of preventing rapid run off of rain water and thawing snow, as a means of helping prevent floods and at the same time, holding moisture in woodlands a longer period.

In this county 2,252.5 acres have been checked. Parr said the surveys include discussions with property owners, a check of the types and sizes of standing timber, study of past logging practices and recommendations for improvements, selection of the best logging practices on timber to be cut, placing of brush piles in logging trails, winding of logging trails, plans for providing new types of cover and other suggestions. The survey will continue until all timberland and woodland has been surveyed and reports prepared.

ADDITIONAL FUND MAKES POSSIBLE $25,000 LIBRARY

E. E. Enlow Promises $15,000 To Be Added to Previous Donation If Library Is Built on Corner

With an appropriation of $2,000 included in the levy of the County Commissioners which was completed last evening, the way was paved for the erection of a $25,000 public library building in Oakland, it was announced by F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent of schools.

Actually the project still hinges on the acceptance of a proposal made to a local property owner, whose property the Library Board now has under option, and final approval of the contributors.

These various angles to the possibility of having such a library has been the result of the promise of an additional contribution of $15,000 from Ephraim E. Enlow, of Sebastopol, California, for construction purposes, providing the library is built on the corner of Second and Center street, Mr. Rathbun explained. Mr. Enlow previously contributed $10,000 for construction, and D. Cal Crim, of Cincinnati, O., contributed $3,000 for the purchase of the Warnick property on Second street where the library was originally intended to be placed.

Simultaneous with Mr. Enlow's promise of additional funds, Charles ised $1,000 toward the purchase of ised $1,000 toward the pruchase of the corner lot.

Mr. Rathbun said the corner property, which has an improved dwelling, and is owned by James Canty, is being held for $10,000. When the proposition for its purchase was presented to the County Commissioners they did not feel that any such amount was available, and this has resulted in the counter proposal, Mr. Rathbun continued to explain. It has been suggested that Mr. Canty be given fifty feet of the north edge of the former Warnick property, upon which he can move his house, which would leave 115 feet on the corner for the library, with the purchase of the corner, minus the house being consummated at a considerably lower figure.

Upon this premise the Commissioners agreed to provide $2,000 this year and a similar amount next year if necessary, to insure the construction of such an asset to the community.

Both the Commissioners and Mr. Rathbun were hopeful that satisfactory arrangements could be made for the transaction at an early date.

Today's Power, Today's Performance, Today's Zip—for Buicks up to Ten Years Old!

MAYBE this sounds too good to be true. But it's a fact!

Even if your Buick dates back as far as 1937, you can have a hoodful of factory-fresh Fireball power—a sleek new power plant that's the same as the engines going into the latest Buick cars.

Everything about it is brand-new. A new carburetor and air cleaner help make every drop of fuel give up all its power. A new distributor, complete with vacuum and centrifugal advance, puts new snap in your getaway and new pep in all driving. A whole new wiring harness prevents electrical loss. And tucked in the flywheel housing is a new smoothie of a clutch that'll make driving more fun than ever.

Yes, it's all new, with the latest Buick engine features you read about—like precision cylinder boring, Oil-Miser rings, Stratoflow cooling and so on.

You can get a new engine like this because engine production is not held back by the shortage of sheet steel which limits complete-car production.

So we're able to put one of these honeys into your car and make it young again—give it new power and performance that will get you set for thousands and thousands more carefree miles.

How much does it cost? Not nearly what you'd expect—often less than a comprehensive overhaul. And it's a mighty good investment because it makes your car worth so much more when it comes time to turn it in.

Nice proposition, isn't it? Surely worth talking over. Won't you come in and let us give you all the details?

HERE'S WHY MOST MOTHERS DO THIS

When Children Catch Cold

Warming, soothing relief from distress of colds starts in a hurry when you rub on Vicks VapoRub at bedtime. Because VapoRub penetrates to upper bronchial tubes with its special medicinal vapors . . . and stimulates skin surfaces like a warming poultice. Then it works for hours to bring relief while the child sleeps! Try it tonight!

AT BEDTIME rub throat, chest and back with Vicks VapoRub. Its relief-bringing action starts instantly to relieve distress . . .

WORKS WHILE CHILD SLEEPS to bring relief during the night. Often by morning most misery of the cold is gone!

CHEVROLET TRUCKS

and here's a "load" of reasons why . . .

Only Advance-Design Trucks Have All These New and Finer Features:

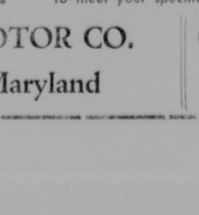
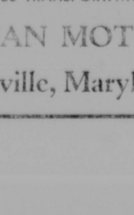
- ★ Cab that "breathes"
- ★ Flexi-Mounted cab
- ★ Uniweld, all-steel construction
- ★ Larger, more durable, fully adjustable seat
- ★ 22% greater visibility
- ★ New, rear-corner windows
- ★ Stronger, new frames
- ★ Full-floating hypoid rear axles
- ★ Specially designed hydraulic truck brakes
- ★ Valve-in-Head Thrift-Master or Load-Master engines
- ★ More efficient loading (stake and high-rack bodies)
- ★ New, thorough sealing insulation
- ★ Standard cab-to-axle-length dimensions permitting interchange of bodies
- ★ . . . and MANY more!

Brother, how these stronger, new frames stand-up! Wheelbases are longer, too, for better load distribution. And the brakes are exclusively designed for greater brake-lining contact!

There's nothing like this cab that "breathes" for comfort! . . . fresh air is drawn in from the outside—heated in cold weather—and used air is forced out.* The cab is cushioned on rubber—Flexi-Mounted—with 12 inches more foot room and eight inches more seating space. There's 22% greater visibility, too, they tell me. The seat is fully adjustable. Man, this is it!



Here's a special, heavy-duty job and an extra-special truck! Take your pick from 107 different models and eight wheelbases. There's one made for your special kind of job.



Look—rear-corner windows!* Now it's a cinch to back up without jackknifing. Yes, sir, these trucks are brand new—really different with Advance-Design. And they're packed with power in the world's most economical engine for its size—Chevrolet's Valve-in-Head engine.

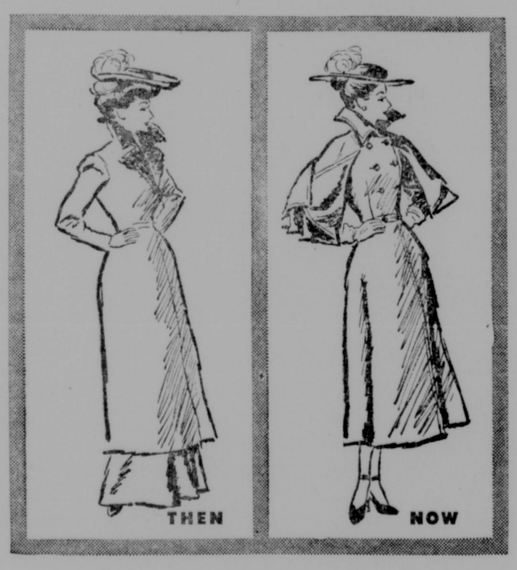
How fashions do change!



THE latest fashion swing takes the ladies right back to where they were when the Gibson Girl was queen! The style magazines hint that hip pads will be worn. Skirts will be long and draped. We're going back to laces, stays, and whalebone!

Back go milady's modes. Back in every respect but one—price! But then, costs on everything else have been sky-rocketing, too!

On everything? Well, practically everything. But we'd like to remind you that the average family is still getting twice as much electricity for its money today as it did twenty years ago. Just think of how many jobs this ready giant does for you—for pennies!

You can bet a 1948 chapeau that your friends and neighbors in this company will go on working day and night to assure you that electricity remains your willing, dependable, inexpensive servant!

OUR CHURCHES MAKE THIS COMMUNITY A BETTER PLACE IN WHICH TO LIVE

THAT IS WHY WE BELIEVE IN THE GO TO CHURCH MOVEMENT

The interests of youth are not enough. As years pass and maturity comes upon us we find less and less and less to hold our interest in the activities that once fascinated us. We need something strong and fine and worthwhile . . . not memories, but something to which we look forward no matter how old we become. We need the churches.

We need the faith that close association with a church offers us. We need the opportunity to take part in church activities, the chance to join in the work of helping others. We need the churches for the sake of our children, too.

And because we believe in these things we want to do everything in our power to help the churches of this community grow and prosper.

PIMPLES

DON'T SQUEEZE THEM! Instead brush on KLEEREX and see how amazingly fast it hides ugly pimples as it dries them—often on first trial. Something to Outgrow . . .

We saw a statement recently which had been made in September, 1890, in "The Tramp," a monthly publication published for a brief time by G. A. Bolden and P. E. Kimmell.

It is a statement which we hope Oakland has outgrown, and we have five reasons for saying this. The five reasons are the planned new high school building, the new hospital, the new library, the new armory and the new community building which is to house the fire department, etc.

Here is the statement: "There never was a new enterprise contemplated in Oakland but what it took years to put in operation—or in its grave." The particular occasion for that statement was that the people at that time were wanting to see electric lights in the town. Of course, the people eventually got electric lights. We don't know just how long it took.

When other places are going ahead with projects, it sort of makes one wonder. Do we get involved in too much red tape? Do we lack push or drive? Or just what is it? We realize, of course, the high prices and scarcity of good material.

Meyersdale is going ahead with a hospital having more beds for patients than the one contemplated here. While they move ahead our red tape calls for a soil test, an air conditioning system, and other items. Other hospital drives are taking place. As we move closer to 1950 when the new high school building here must be completed, there is no tangible evidence that anything has been done toward its construction. In other counties the plans are moving forward.

At this time we are blaming no one in particular. We just hope that events will begin to take shape and that some tangible progress will be noted.

Woman IS Fined On Disorderly Charge

A woman who gave her name as Kaye Frances Hubert, of New Jersey, was fined $10 and costs by Magistrate H. A. Loraditch on Monday morning, on a charge of being drunk and disorderly and disturbing the peace.

She was arrested Sunday night after banging on doors and disturbing the peace in the vicinity of the William-James hotel.

She was also given a suspended sentence of 12 months in the House of Correction, and must remain away from Oakland if she doesn't want the sentence enforced.

Magistrate Loraditch also heard the case against Robert Ferguson on Tuesday. Ferguson is charged with assault and battery upon Lee McComas, who rents a room in the Ferguson home. It was testified that Ferguson slapped McComas and ordered him out of his bed. Mr. Loraditen withheld his decision.

Complete Levy for 1948 Is Published

The complete levy for 1948, as prepared by the County Commissioners, which was given in some detail in last week's issue of The Republican, appears today on page seven.

Since the completion of the levy last Wednesday and the announcement of the tax rate as $2.00 on each $100 of assessable property, tax bills have been printed for the use of the county treasurer. His staff already has compiled a number of tax statements which they are mailing to taxpayers.

The state tax rate this year is .1113.

Named Vice President

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank of Friendsville last Thursday evening, R. Earl Guard was named vice-president, to fill the position made vacant when Norval Speelman retired from the board. Other officers were all re-elected: H. J. Black, president; and L. J. Warthen, cashier.

Tacoma Ranchers Spend Night At Red House Enroute to Capital

Two cowboys on horseback, Francis (Uncle Ned) Kennedy, owner of the Horse and a Half Ranch, near Tacoma, Wash., and his ranch foreman, Cecil Cary, are nearing their goal on a pleasure trip from the state of Washington to Washington, D. C. They left their ranch May 19, 1947.

Reaching Red House last Thursday evening the two spent the night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ritchie, and on Friday morning visited the Red House school, making it a point to stop at as many schools as possible to give the children the treat of seeing real cowboys in full regalia, from hats to chaps and spurs.

Mrs. Gwendolyn C. Warnick's room at the Red House school wrote an account of the visit.

Friday morning, January 16, Red House School was in a state of great excitement. Two cowboys had spent the night at Herbert Ritchie's. The upper grades all wanted to go down right then and see the cowboys and their horses. A group of pupils went down to Ritchie's to invite the cowboys to come up to the schoolhouse so we all could see them.

At recess time the cowboys rode up, leading their pack horse "Kilroy." Shirley Ritchie rode along on the horse with Mr. Kennedy. The other cowboy was Cecil Cary, Mr. Kennedy's foreman. Everyone rushed out to see them and began asking questions.

The cowboys started on their journey May 19, 1947. They were traveling from Tacoma, Wash., to Washington, D. C. They were carrying a bottle of salt water from the Pacific to empty into the Atlantic. The men came over the "Lolo Trail from Columbia River, Lewis and Clark trail to Glendive, Montana; across Minnesota into Wisconsin, up to Ironwood, Michigan, and skirted lakes to Chicago. Around by Aurora, Ill., into Ft. Wayne, Ind., to Columbus, O., across to Parkersburg, W. Va., and then followed U. S. Route 50 on through."

They had travelled through rattlesnake country, desert, mountains, snow-drifted mountain passes, breaking their own trail in many places, across the Bitterroot Range and many interesting places.

One man left the party before they reached Chicago, so three horses, a mule, their ropes, guns and ammunition were then shipped home. They were also out of the open range country and no longer had need of the equipment.

The horses were from their own ranch, and are making the entire trip. Mr. Cary has some blacksmith tools along with which he keeps the horses shod. Mr. Kennedy's horse was named Honey, and Mr. Cary's was named Chester.

When Mr. Kennedy bought his ranch, among other things included in the sale were two horses. There was a question about one horse. Two men had owned it so the one man was paid for his half but they never found out who owned the other half. So Mr. Kennedy just called his ranch "Horse and a Half Ranch." Mr. Kennedy owns 40 acres as a home ranch, has around 4,000 acres "back pasture" and uses 32,000 acres pasture land. They raise Hereford cattle. The cattle are bought in Arizona and taken to Washington for pasture. They sold 1,300 head last year.

Their expenses have amounted, so far, to about $2,500. They travel about 18 miles a day in this region. The men like our country around here very much. The contuor of the land, the friendly people who also set out such good meals, and our square dances are a rare treat. They also think our country is fine because we can raise Hereford cattle, and corn and oats also.

The men stop at schools wherever possible to tell the children about the real west. They posed for some snapshots which we hope will be good.

Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Cary hope to reach Washington, D. C., in about 3 weeks. There they expect to see Mr. Truman. They will get an automobile and trailer there and return home the same route, after a visit to New York City, making special stops at all the same places possible. They are taking moving pictures all along the way with colored film, which they will exhibit on the return trip.

We wish them a pleasant journey.

Fourth and Fifth Grades, Red House School

Mr. Ritchie, who talked to the men for several hours, said that Mr. Carey was an experienced roper and had ridden with the late Will Rogers at a number of rodeos.

Declaring he was "having the time

Fabrics for 1948 Outlined in Talk at Civic Club Meet

"The new look" in women's styles and fabrics for 1948 were outlined in detail by Mrs. Robert T. Hoffman, who was the principal speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Oakland Civic club, held Tuesday at Pickwick Inn. Approximately 50 attended.

Mrs. Hoffman, former home demonstration agent, told of the new colors for spring as being navy, pink, orange, violet and bronze and said fabrics would be conservative but higher in price. The "new look" was scheduled to get closer the ground in regard to women's dresses, with the prediction that the dress would reach within 7 inches of the floor, according to the speaker.

Mrs. Homer L. Bennett was named chairman of a nominating committee to prepare for the coming election in March. A march of dimes contribution amounted to $16.80. William Ellinghaus sang several numbers, accompanied at the piano by Miss Marcella Kerins.

75 Attend Dinner Inaugurating March of Dimes Campaign

Approximately 75 persons attended the dinner meeting of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce at the William-James hotel last Thursday night which officially opened the March of Dimes campaign in this county.

The background for the campaign was outlined by Dr. Mildred Otaneseck, professor of political science, at Trinity College, Washington, D. C., who is also state adviser of Women's activities and Baltimore City Women's chairman for the 1948 March of Dimes; and Miss Catherine C. Gaule, administrative director of the state chairman.

Dr. Otaneseck told of the work being done at the Warm Springs foundation, and pointed out how the costs of polio care had more than doubled during the past ten years.

She urged later that Maryland try to double its amount this year, as statistics show that Maryland is not one of the top contributors per capita as compared with other states.

MERCURY DROPS TO 20 BELOW

Lowest Reading on Monday Morning Is Lowest Since 1936

While thermometers ranged all over the sub-zero field on Monday morning, January 19, as low as 30 degrees below zero, the coldest official temperature in the state was 20 below at the Weber government station south of town.

This was the coldest at that point since 1936 when it went to 20 below twice that winter. Twenty-two below zero was registered in 1935.

That reading was obtained from several thermometers in the vicinity of Deep Creek Lake, while 22 below was registered at the power house of the Pennsylvania Electric company at Sines. One thermometer at McHenry showed 30 below but another hanging on the same building showed 10 below.

One of the coldest spots was at Accident where the thermometer of Rev. Olonzo P. Fike registered 25 degrees below zero. As one Dutch farmer in that area remarked, "That is Koldt." Keyser Ridge, usually one of the colder spots of the county, had readings of one and three below.

The low temperatures were the result of a cold wave from out of the northwest which swept the entire country and even reached into the southern states with sub-freezing weather.

Other cold spots in this section included: Thomas, W. Va., and Deal, Pa., 15 below; Mt. Lake Park, 14 below; New Germany, 12 below; Frostburg, 8 below; Terra Alta and Altamont, 6 below.

It has moderated since Monday and temperatures yesterday were in the 40's. The barometer dropped rapidly yesterday afternoon and the prediction that the county was in for some stormy weather, was carried out this morning with a biting west wind and and a snowfall of some four or five inches.

Residents of Oakland May Register Monday

Persons who may be qualified to become voters in Oakland, who have not previously registered, will have an opportunity to do so on Monday, January 26.

Officers of registration will be at the council chamber on that day from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m. for that purpose.

According to the records there are now 456 names on the books. Arthur Lawton, clerk-collector, said some fifty names would be stricken from the books, including the names of those who had died or who had moved to other areas.

K. of P. Grand Officers To Visit

Garrett Lodge No. 113, Knights of Pythias, and the Friendsville Pythian Lodge will have a joint session in Castle Hall, Oakland, on Friday evening at which time the annual visitation of grand lodge officers will take place.

Grand lodge officials have been in Allegany county all week and the meeting Friday will conclude the sessions in this part of the state.

Visitors will include Grand Chancellor Brawner Z. Harding, Gaithersburg; Alva G. Gortner, grand vice-chancellor, of Oakland; Deputy Grand Chancellor John C. Fisher, Cumberland; and Odith M. Brotemarkle, of Cumberland, supreme representative.

Mr. Harding is expected to outline plans for the reorganization of lodges in the state and discuss steps to expand the work in Maryland. Mr. Gortner has been attending meetings this week in Allegany county, and tonight he and officers of Garrett lodge are scheduled for a dinner and conference in Cumberland.

The local lodge meeting on Friday will begin at 7:30. Refreshments will be served following the business session. A large turnout of the membership is expected.

Scholarships Possible at McDonogh School

F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent of schools, has received a letter from Louis E. Lamborn, headmaster of the McDonogh school near Baltimore, stating that some scholarships in that institution may be available next fall to a number of promising students from the counties of Maryland.

The age limits are between 12th and 16th birthdays, or a boy must have completed the sixth grade. Mr. Lamborn emphasized that they wanted boys of character who would take advantage of the opportunity offered.

Scholarships are available under competitive system. Mr. Rathbun has notified school principals and supervising teachers to be on the lookout for boys whom they could recommend.

Briner Announces Floor Show Plans For Benefit Dance

Further plans on the floor show being arranged by Charles L. Briner, chairman of the Oakland committee for the March of Dimes campaign, were announced this week.

The dance will be held on Saturday evening, January 31, at the William-James hotel, for the benefit of the infantile paralysis fund. Admission will be $2.50 per couple, and no stags, Mr. Briner said.

The floor show will be presented at 11 o'clock and will include the Smith Triplets of Cumberland, Wilda, Wilma and Willa, piano and accordion artists; Donald Keister, Grantsville, youthful cornetist; Mrs. William Ellinghaus, dancing; William Gibson at the piano, and the initial appearance of the Four Fifths Quartet. Identity of the members of the quartet is being withheld until that night. Regis Kerins and his orchestra will furnish the music for dancing.

Meet With Dr. Pullen

J. Edward Helbig, Stewart F. Stahl, Jonas W. Sines, county commissioners; Neil C. Fraley, attorney to the board; Walter W. Dawson and C. O. Bender, members of the Board of Education; Senator L. M. Fraley, and F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent of schools, are in Baltimore for a meeting with Dr. Thomas Pullen, State superintendent of schools, in regard to the school building program here.

Farmers of Gortner Area Seek Improved Telephone Service

In the interest of better telephone service in the area south of Oakland, about 60 farmers gathered at the Sunnyside Grange Hall last Thursday evening to discuss the situation and to learn about any improvements contemplated.

William Ellinghaus, local manager of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone company, said his company was planning to place a cable from Oakland to Gnegy Church, along route 219, to connect with the lines of the Eglon Mutual telephone company there.

This would serve the people in the Gortner and Red House areas, a number of whom are now connected with two lines operated by W. E. Spoerlein. Mr. Spoerlein, who attended the meeting also, said he was entirely in accord with the Telephone company taking over his two lines to improve the service in that area. His lines connect with the C. and P. lines at present but it is admitted that the service is not satisfactory.

Mr. Ellinghaus told the group that the order for the cable had been placed and the work was scheduled for this year, but he was unable to say at what time. He expected the cable would be received about the middle of the year.

Complaints of the inadequate service in that area have been made for several years by farm people, and now that a number of farmers are connected with the artificial breeding circuit organized through the Extension Service, one person remarked that it was doubly necessary that good telephone service be available.

Senator L. M. Fraley attended the meeting and said yesterday he would cooperate fully in getting this service to the people.

Search for Cause Of Gasoline Fumes In Sewer System

A survey was underway this week by Mayor A. G. Hesen and other town officials to try to find the cause of gasoline fumes in the town's sewer system, which had been noticeable in the home of John Murphy, at the north end of Second street.

At first it was thought they might be natural gas fumes, but a test by Russell Brown, gas company employe, in company with Mr. Hesen, proved otherwise.

Mayor Hesen asked that residents be particularly careful not to pour any cleaning fluids down the drains that might cause fumes and also asked garages to check their gasoline storage tanks for possible leaks that might be seeping into the main sewers. He also asked garages and dry cleaning establishments to be careful how they disposed of gasoline offal.

Pocketbook Returned

Through a "Found" advertisement in the columns of The Republican two weeks ago Artenis Sines, of Vindex, was able to recover his pocketbook containing over $40 in cash, which had been discovered in one of the local stores by Mrs. H. F. Stockslager.

Mrs. Stockslager placed the advertisement in an effort to find the proper owner and a letter came to her from Mr. Sines shortly after he had read the item in the paper and he gave an exact description of the pocketbook.

Refusing to receive a reward for her action, Mr. Sines emphasized his desire to repay in some way. She suggested a gift to Miss Grace Jones for use in her health work throughout the county, and sure enough, a few days later Miss Jones received $5.00 from Mr. Sines to use at her discretion on some needy individual.

Oakland High School Wins 4th Straight

Oakland High school cagers easily defeated Friendsville 47 to 20 on the local court Tuesday night. Marl Fauber paced his mates to victory with 20 points. Oakland led at the quarters 10-2, 16-6, and 35-7.

It was the fourth in a row for Oakland. Oakland's next game will be against Accident on the latter's court.

Adult Fellowship To Meet on Sunday

Cards have been sent to all of the young adults of St. Paul's Methodist Church announcing the first meeting of their Fellowship this coming Sunday evening at 6:30 in the Assembly Room of the church. A spaghetti supper is planned to be followed by a program. The recently elected officers for 1948 are serving as the committee in charge of the supper and evening's program, assisted by their wives or husbands. Committees for each month's program are to be announced.

Firemen Called Out At 20 Below Zero

Extinguish Fire in Donald Glotfelty's Home and Answer Two Other Alarms

The home of Donald Glotfelty, north Second street, was damaged by fire about 4:30 o'clock Monday morning when the temperature was at its lowest point for the year, at 20 below zero.

Mr. Glotfelty was up early as he had to leave town to go to his work, and had just left town when the fire was discovered by Mrs. Glotfelty who was returning to bed.

The fire apparently caught from an overheated flue or defective wiring and was spreading through the attic and through one of the upstairs rooms.

The Oakland fireman were called and they succeeded in extinguishing the blaze but not before the rooms were damaged by water. Damage to the building, which is owned by John W. Davis, was estimated at $700 to $1,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Glotfelty and family are now residing in the other section of the double house, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Beeson Glotfelty.

Two Other Alarms

The local firemen answered two other fire alarms this week. One was the result of a small fire in the basement in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Phillips, Alder street, on Sunday morning, which caught after Mr. Phillips had thawed some pipes with a blow torch. There was only slight damage.

An automobile owned by Marshall Biser was practically destroyed Monday morning at his residence in Pleasant Valley, when flames apparently caused by a short circuit enveloped it. The local firemen were called.

Chamber Directors Plan For Election

The Board of Directors of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Green Palm restaurant to act on the resignation of Charles L. Briner, as president, to arrange for the annual election of members of the board, and to transact other business.

Letters are being mailed out this week to the 83 members, informing them of the election, and including a primary ballot upon which they will designate nine members. According to the regulations the high 18 will be declared nominated and their names placed on the official ballot for election. Ballots are to be returned promptly to W. O. Davis, secretary.

To Improve Business

Questionnaires which are calculated to help make business better also will be sent out in the near future by the Chamber, Mr. Davis said. These questionnaires were received through the Pathfinder magazine, and when filled in are to be returned to Mr. Davis. They do not need to be signed. The questionnaires ask about buying habits and how important various things are in attracting a person to a store.

Postmaster Named

Mrs. Myrtle F. Beeman has been appointed postmaster at Vindex, Md., becoming effective January 14, 1948.

This is the first permanent postmaster to be appointed there since the resignation of M. J. Willis. Mrs. Beeman has been employed as post-office clerk in the Vindex office since November, 1943.

YOUTH IS DEAD FROM INJURIES IN AUTO WRECK

Lawrence Shillingburg, 18, Aurora, W. Va., Dies in Philippi Hospital Tuesday Morning

Lawrence Shillingburg, 18-year-old Aurora, W. Va., youth, was fatally injured on Saturday night at 6 o'clock on route 219, two miles south of Oakland, when his car collided with a truck. He died Tuesday morning in the Meyers clinic, Philippi, W. Va., where he had been taken in the Leighton ambulance following the accident.

The driver of the truck with which Shillingburg's car collided was identified as James Schooner, 32, Thomas, W. Va. The latter was placed under $500 bond for his appearance before Trial Magistrate H. A. Loraditch, pending the outcome of injuries, and Mr. Loraditch said yesterday a hearing would be held on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Authorities said the car driven by Shillingburg rounded a curve on route 219 and struck the truck on the right side and then careened from the road over a three-foot embankment where it struck several trees. He was still bleeding from head injuries when admitted to the hospital in an unconscious condition.

Trooper Robert Henline investigated. Police quoted Schooner, who operated the truck for a bottling company, as saying his truck was stopped at the time of the impact, but the car operated by Shillingburg made the turn wide and could not escape hitting the truck.

Trooper Henline said Shillingburg was unconscious when he was removed from the wreckage of his car. He was taken to an Oakland physician by Cecil Wotring, Aurora, W. Va., a passing motorist, and then to Philippi by ambulance.

Police said the cab of the truck which was partially loaded with bottled beverages was "jammed back" against the bed, and described Shillingburg's car as "completely demolished."

Schooner escaped injury.

P.-T.A. Program To Include Round Table on United Nations

A round table discussion of the United Nations, under the specific topic, "We the Peoples," will be the feature of the next Oakland High School Parent-Teacher association meeting, to be held on Thursday, February 12, in the school auditorium. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

Speakers and their topics will include Mrs. Fulcher Smith, "Human Rights;" Mrs. Harold Harned, "Trusteeship and Dependent P ople;" Merle Frantz, "Security;" Mrs. Lewis Jones, "Freedom From Want;" and Mrs. Leo Helbig will sum up the discussion and tell what we can do to make it possible to be a success.

The program is being arranged by Mrs. Frederick Thayer.

Body of Lieut. Hetz Among Ones Arriving

The body of First Lieut. Paul L. Hetz, a son of Henry A. Hetz, of the Cove section, is among the third shipment of 1,753 dead veterans aboard the U. S. Army transport Eric B. Gibson, which docked at New York on Wednesday afternoon.

It will be sent to the Philadelphia Quartermaster depot for final disposition. The bodies were brought from two military cemeteries near Omaha Beach and most of the veterans were casualties in the establishment of the Normandy beachhead.

Occupies New Quarters

The Agency is operated by Wilbert Ridder.

Chest Clinic Scheduled

The regular monthly chest clinic, sponsored by the Maryland Tuberculosis association, will be held in the county health office, court house, in Oakland, on Wednesday morning, February 11, beginning at 9 o'clock, it has been annou ced.

Herd Improvement Offered Through Program

The opportunities which Garrett county dairymen have of improving their herds through the artificial breeding program are being explained in three short articles by John H. Carter, county farm agent. The first of these articles appears below.

Fourteen counties in Maryland, containing 85 percent of the cow population, now are offered service by the Maryland Artificial Breeding Cooperative, Inc., and more than 1,200 farmers have enrolled 18,222 cows. The association has reached this size since service was started in April, 1945.

Evidence of the rapid growth being made by the new program is found in the fact that more than 1,000 cows were bred during the month of November, this year. Harford county was high with 179 while Frederick, Montgomery, and Carroll all had more than 146. Association officials have set a goal of 12,500 services during the fiscal year from July 1, 1947, to June 30, 1948.

The bulls, 22 in number, are maintained at the University from at College Park. Seven of these are Holstein, eight Guernsey, four Jersey, and three Ayrshire. Semen is shipped four times a week to each unit in the state.

Officers of the state association are: William B. Powell, Ellicott City, president; Walter Hahn, Frederick, vice-president; J. W. Pou, Extension Dairyman, secretary-treasurer. Directors are: L. A. Andrus, Queenstown; John Lippincott, Colora; J. Homer Remsburg, Middletown; Philip Knatz, Owings Mills; J. Herbert Snyder, Union Bridge; John Stiles, Rockville; and Russell L. Royer, Manchester.

County Unit Organized

A Garrett county unit was organized on August 12, and at the present time has 78 members with a total enrollment of 700 cows. Baity Ridder is the inseminator, and officers of the unit are: Blair Simmons, president; D. J. Swartzentruber, treasurer; Paul Welch; Artie Dodge, and Wayne Hamilton.

Local farmers in the southern part of the county wishing to enroll part or all of their herd should see County Agent John Carter or Baity Ridder.

Second Unit Organizing

On December 5, 1947, dairymen in the northern part of the county met at Grantsville, and decided to organize a unit to serve that area. A full-time association requires 1,000 cows; however, service can be started with a minimum of 500 cows enrolled. There are 260 cows enrolled in the Grantsville unit. Farmers desiring information or wishing to enroll cows should contact John Carter, county agent; Merle Garletts, agriculture teacher, Grantsville; or Joseph Lewis, Dairy Herd Improvement Association tester.

DIED

Wins Award For Correct Pelt Handling

S. Edmund Butler, of Oakland, is a winner of a Daily Award for correct pelt handling in the Nineteenth National Fur Show conducted by the Raw Fur Marketing Service of Sears, Roebuck and Co.

A carefully handled pelt brought this trapper one of the 85.00 Daily Awards, as a result of its being judged one of the three best handled skins among all pelts received at the Marketing Station in Philadelphia. This pelt is now eligible to consideration for one of the major awards, including the $1,000.00 First Award, to be selected at the final judging, which will be held in April.

Correct pelt handling—the prime purpose of the Fur Show—has proved to be of vital importance to trappers due to the fact that millions of dollars were formerly wasted through careless, incorrect skinning, stretching and drying of furs.

VETERANS! here are the opportunities you've been asking for Thousands of Veterans of all the U. S. Armed Forces have said they'd like to join the Regular Army, IF they could have certain enlistment privileges. Today the Army has four attractive opportunities for Veterans of any of the U. S. Armed Forces to get into a well-paid job with lots of chance for advancement.

SERVE for 3 years with your choice of 8 famous combat units now stationed in the U. S. if you are a Veteran with overseas experience. Here's the opportunity to help build up the defense of the nation at home . . . to help train the new recruits who are joining the Army.

RETURN to an Army job in your old specialty, if you're a Veteran. If yours is one of the needed specialties, you can enlist in the grade appropriate to your training and experience. Veterans can also enlist for service in Europe, the Far East or Alaska.

LEAD your way into high-paid, high-ranking jobs through Army Potential Leaders' School, Army Technical Schools, Officer Candidate School or the U. S. Military Academy at West Point—open to every Army man who can meet the required mental, physical and age qualifications.

CHOOSE far-away places—Japan, Korea. Experience overseas gives your career a broad background. When you enlist, you may sign up for 3 years with your choice of 5 famous Far Eastern divisions. You earn 20% more pay when serving overseas—in addition to all other Army benefits.

Think this over, too: a Private First Class with his $90 a month plus benefits—retirement plan, food, clothing, lodging, medical and dental care—has more net take-home pay than the average civilian who is paying for equal benefits.

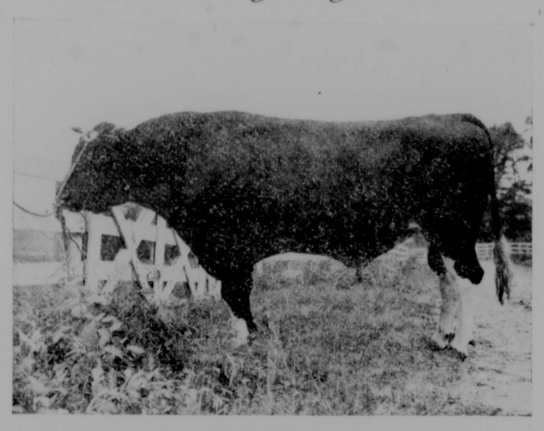
List Opportunities For Dairymen Enrolling In Artificial Breeding Program Here



This Holstein Sire, S J C Valley Emperor Star, gave his daughters a twenty percent increased milk production over their dams.

Editor's note: This is the second of three articles prepared by John H. Carter, county farm agent, explaining the opportunities Garrett County dairymen have of improving their herds through the artificial breeding program. The first pointed out that about 1,200 members have enrolled more than 18,000 cows in the state and that service is offered for Holsteins, Guernseys, Jerseys, and Ayrshires. The first article, held over from last week due to lack of space also appears in this issue.

The artificial breeding program offers most Garrett County dairymen an opportunity to use a better bull than they can afford to own. Most of the twenty-one sires in the artificial breeding stud are proved sires or sons of proved sires.

Among the proved sires in the stud is the oustanding bull S J C Valley Emporer Star. The first five daughters of this good Holstein sire averaged 16,599 pounds of milk and 617 pounds of fat. These daughters showed a twenty percent increase over their dams in both milk and fat production. That the services of outstanding bulls such as this one are needed in Maryland is shown by the state's average producton per cow last year of only 5,140 pounds of milk and 206 pounds of butterfat. Garrett County ranks 19th of the twenty-three counties in milk and butterfat production per cow. Dr. Gordon Cairns, head of the dairy department at the University, has estimated that a minimum of 6,000 pounds of 4.2 percent milk per cow are necessary if the dairymen are to break even. 6,000 pounds of 4.2 milk is above the average production in Garrett county.

Dairymen who have been using the program during the past six months in Garrett County report other advantages: 1. The cost is less than maintaining a bull for a small herd. 2. A dairyman with more than one breed in his herd may have the best of sires for four breeds. 3. The danger of keeping a herd sire is eliminated.

One advantage of the industry as a whole is that the number of offspring from one good sire my be greatly increased. For example, the average number of services per bull in the stud was 450 during the past year. This is in contrast to the thirty or fotry cows that might be bred by natural service. The Holstein Wimbledon Emporer Rag Apple, topped the list with a total of 1,256, the highest number bred to any one bull.

Suicides in Italy were 35 times above those in the United States.

By J. Glenn Beall

The Second Session of the historic 80th Congress is off to a flying start. It will enact its program more promptly than did the First Session because no time is required for organization of the House and Senate, their Committees, etc. All bills introduced in the First Session and not acted upon are still alive and can be brought up if favorably reported by committees. Their life will not expire until officially killed or until the life of the 80th Congress itself expires at the end of the year.

A year ago when Congress was asked to appropriate thirty seven and one-half billion dollars for the operation of the Federal Government for one year, everyone thought the peak in government spending had been reached, however, in the Budget Message last week Congress was asked to appropriate thirty-nine billion seven hundred million dollars to keep the Federal Government going for the next fiscal year. You may be interested to know that this amount is more than four times as much as was ever spent by the Federal Government in any pre-war peacetime year.

Under the Dome

You are all aware of the acute fuel shortage in some sections of the Sixth District and on Thursday I attended the meeting held by the Director of the Oil Section of the Department of the Interior to work out plans for the allocation of oil and kerosene during the present emergency. After checking with county and municipal officials and civic leaders, I requested that Montgomery County to approximately seven miles from the Frederick County line be under the direction of the District of Columbia Coordinator as a matter of convenience for the residents of that county. The most critical shortage exists in Frederick County and I have conferred with the Maryland Coordinator, Judge Emory Niles, and relief has been promised.

I talked with Dr. Hobart Corning, Superintendent of the District of Columbia Schools, concerning tuition bills received by residents of Montgomery county whose children are now attending District High Schools. We were advised many months ago that those students enrolled before July 26, 1947, would be exempt from the payment of tuition this year. The parents were also notified. Since that time, in fact this past November, the Corporation Counsel ruled that enrolled as used in the law meant actually being a student at the school in June of last year. Since this ruling, which I feel is unfair, has put an extra burden on many parents unexpectedly, it is hoped something satisfactory can be worked out for all concerned.

It looks as if the completion of the Savage River Dam is on the road to success, especially since the Bureau of the Budget approved the completion of this worthwhile project which was started before the war but all work curtailed during the war. It is hoped that Committee action will come in the very near future.

This week I introduced a resolution asking that a five-man Congressional Committee be appointed to investigate the sugar industry. I feel that we should find out the real reason for the high prices of commodities and I believe there should be a complete investigation of each so the trouble can be found and prices brought down to a level the housewife can afford to pay. That is one of the reasons for my requesting an investigation of the sugar industry as I well realize how difficult it is for the housewife to make her allowance buy the foods her family should have and I can assure you this is just the beginning of my efforts to make your dollar go further.

Committees

Committee activities have been brisk this week. Armed Services Committee heard an overall report on the Army by the Secretary of the Army, Mr. Kenneth Royall.

The Committee on Expenditures in the Executive Department discussed procedure to be followed in connection with the investigation on paroles granted to four Chicago gangsters. Foreign Affairs continued hearings on the general question of U. S. foreign policy for a postwar recovery program. Secretary of State Marshall testified before the Committee urging the Congress to enact promptly an adequate four year European recovery program. Education and Labor Committee met on the American Federation of Musicians investigation and herad discussions on the association's attitude toward the musical recording ban as well as testimony of the Radio Manufacturers Association and others intercsted. As Chairman of the Sub-Committee on Public Service, Streets and Traffic of the District of Columbia Committee, I conducted hearings on H. R. 4572 providing for issuance of learners' permits and H. R. 4849 providing for construction of Arizona Avenue through Canal Road and Tenly Circle.

The House passed H. R. 2575, a bill amending the Articles of War, to improve the administration of military justice, to provide for more effective appelate review, and to insure equalization of sentences. This was known as the Courts Martial Bill.

of my life," Kennedy who is 61, is making the trip strictly for vacation. The trip began as the result of a bet to prove his stamina and has turned out to be one of the most wonderful experiences of his life. He said he becomes more enthusiastic and amazed with the greatness of the land, the goodness and hospitality of the people the further he travels.

When they reached Chicago Kennedy's nephew quit the venture. They are to be met in Washington by Senator Harry P. Cain and Washington State congressmen at the capitol, and hope to talk with President Truman. Along the way they have stopped at first class hotels, have spent the night in barns in their sleeping bags, with mayors of towns through which they pass, with farm people and with many prominent persons.

Kennedy plans to meet his wife, who is now visiting her mother in New York, in Washington, and she will make the return trip with them. Mr. Ritchie said they were making plans to show his movies of the trip when they stop at Red House enroute home around the middle of March.

Kennedy declared he was thinking of writing a book and entitling it "Start Your Fan at 61."

Report Given on Two Coal Mines Inspected Recently

Recommendations to correct more than two score violations of the Federal mine safety code at the McNitt Coal Company's 250-ton-a-day Hamill mine at Kitzmiller, are given in an official re-inspection report released by the Bureau of Mines. When re-examined in November by Inspector Joseph Marshalek, the development employed 65 men.

Stating that "coal was blasted on shift with granular and pellet black powder fired with squibs", and that "the miners used open-flame lights to ignite squibs any time during the shift", Inspecter Marshalek recommended the use of permissible explosives and approved shot-firing units for onshift blasting.

Under ventilation the inspector recommended the coursing of more air to a number of working faces to dilute and remove blasting fumes and other harmful airways and preshift examinations for explosive gas and other hazards.

In reviewing haulage and electrical operations, Marshalek proposed maintenance of unobstructed clearance along some haulage roads, use of permissible trip lights, driving of shelter poles at switch throws where clearance is restricted, and numerous electrical precautions including more effective guarding of the trolley wire and overload protection for the locomotives.

Recent beneficial changes cited in the report embraced removal of effective timbering of some loose roof, proper maintenance of the flame-safety lamps, clearing of loose rock and coal from one haulage road, proper bonding of the main-line haulage track and other electrical safeguards, wearing of snug-fitting clothing by haulage men and maintenance of adequate first-aid supplies near the working places.

Other recommendations called for prying down or adequate timbering of remaining loose roof, effective fire protection underground, universal wearing of safety apparel, use of permissible electric cap lamps by all underground workers, and a ban on smoking in the mine.

Mine at Vindex Inspected

Another Bureau of Mines reinspection report describes a routine safety survey of the Garrett Coal Corporation's 475-ton-a-day Earl No. 2 mine, 2 miles east of Vindex, commending several recent beneficial changes and also suggesting a few additional safeguards. The Garrett County mine had 90 employees when it was revisited in October by Inspector Arthur C. Jones.

Improvements effected during the inspection included repair of defective flooring in an elevated platform leading to the tipple, removal of some doubtful top coal, guarding of the belt drive of the main fan, and provision for a warning device on the battery locomotive.

Other recent betterments included safe surface storage of lubricants, removal or support of loose roof previously observed, approved location of underground explosives containers, shelter holes at main track switches, wearing of safety-toe footwear by all underground workers and goggles by those in eye-hazardous work.

31 Marriage Permits Granted During Week

Thirty-one marriage licenses were issued during the past week ending Monday morning from the office of the clerk of the Circuit Court, being the total for January thus far to 81.

Subscribe for the Republican

For further conformance with the Federal Mine Safety Code, Inspector Jones recommended improved ventilation in last open crosscuts in the Nos. 7 and 8 section in the west portion of the mine, clean areas around the surface explosives magazine, discontinuance of riding loaded cars by workmen, surface-underground telephone service, guarding of the drive belt on the shop grinding machine, and adequate underground fire protection.

Grantsville Girl Convention Delegate

Among the delegates to the statewide convention of 4-H clubs held last week in Baltimore was Miss Betty Beachy, Grantsville, a teacher in Montgomery county.

Miss Beachy has occasionally taken leaves of absence from her job to represent her state at conventions in West Virginia, Chicago, and other parts of the country. She is a daughter of Mrs. Eva B. Beachy and the late Marshall Beachy.

Commenting upon the variety of activities included in the 4-H club program, Miss Beachy stated, "I've been a 4-H'er since my pigtail days and I don't know of any organization that does more toward developing a well rounded personality.

"A good bit of the social life of rural young people centers around 4-H. We have parties at the drop of a hat and even go to other counties frequently to attend social affairs held by other clubs.

"One of the fellows here mentioned something about the Baltimore county group being a regular 'matrimonial agency.' I think that's true of nearly every club in the state.

"You'd be surprised at the number of 4-H boys who have married girls in their own clubs recently. It just seems to happen that way."

She declared that 4-H clubs are deeply concerned about the plight of farm boys and girls in war-stricken countries abroad, and are doing something about it.

Miss Beachy said her own 4-H group has been sending packages of food and clothing to European and Asiatic countries for many months and plans to increase such activities during the coming year.

"We do have one really big plan which I hope to see work out this year," she said. "We hope to send two Maryland farm youths overseas to live on a farm in some European country. It will be part of a program sponsored by the 4-H clubs in the states along the Eastern Seaboard, by which 10 to 25 girls and fellows will be sent abroad in exchange for 10 European young people, something like the exchange system which the colleges are operating.

"Our boys and girls will go to Norway, Belgium, Holland, Britian, Italy, Sweden and Switzerland, to see how people in those countries live, and to work on the farms.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to secure the foreclosure of all rights of redemption in the following described property, which was sold by the Collector of taxes for the County of Garrett and the State of Maryland to the plaintiff in these proceedings: 50 acres of coal assessed to John R. Annual Report Shows Conservation Work By County Farmers In Past Year

There are now two hundred farmers cooperating with the Garrett Soil Conservation District, all of whom have worked out and adopted conservation plans for their farms, and are in various stages of applying the practices to the land, according to the annual report prepared by William W. Nace, district conservationist.

Usually it takes 2 or more years to make the change to conservation farming. Of the 200 District Co-operators, a few have completed the application of all the conservation practices that were planned. Almost all of them have done some of the work, and will do the rest of it as fast as they are able, Mr. Nace stated. The report continued:

"The District program is aimed toward using each acre for the purpose to which it is best suited, and treating every acre according to its needs. With this in mind, conservation plans are made to cover all of the work needed on the farm. Each practice planned must not only be needed, but must be practical and must pay its own way. The plan should not only suit the needs of the land, but should meet the farm needs, insofar as possible, for pasture, hay, grain and other crops.

"No two conservation plans are alike, because there are no two farms alike. However, most plans in the Garrett District include strip cropping on cropland, the use of cover crops after clean-tilled crops, drainage of wet land, sod waterways in draws running thru cropland, liming and fertilizing of pastures, use of perennial hay on steeper cropland slopes and management of farm woodlands.

"In addition, some farms require diversion terraces on long cropland slopes, tree planting on very steep or very poor open land, clearing of fence rows between fields to be strip cropped, or clearing of brush and trees from pastures. A windbreak may be needed to protect farm buildings or a farm pond for stockwater, fire protection or fish production.

"The plan is developed jointly by the farmer and the soil conservationist. There is no compulsion about carrying out the plan, and no cost for the technical help needed in making the plan and laying out the different practices. We do not know of any farmer who has made the change to conservation farming who would change back to conventional methods.

"Of the 200 conservation farm plans now operating in this District, 78 were prepared in 1947. This is an increase of 10 over the number in 1946. Shown below are the amounts of several of the more important conservation practices that have been established on the land, the first figure indicating amount established last year, and the second figure the amount established since 1944:

Contour Strip Cropping, 986 acres, 2801 acres; Pasture Treatment, 1221, 2863; Tree Planting, 32, 81; Farm Drainage, 153, 292; Clearing of Pastures, Fence Rows, 145, 206; Establishing Perennial Hay, 326, 479; Establishing Sod Waterways, 9000 linear feet, 23,500 linear feet; Woodland Management Cuttings, 1,106 acres, 2,807 acres; Windbreak Planting, 5,800 linear feet, 6,630 linear feet.

"In carrying out its program, the District has received help from a number of agencies. The Soil Conservation Service supplies technicians who help farmers make farm plans and help lay out the field work. It also supplies tree and shrub seedlings, a limited number of which are furnished free to cooperating farmers for windbreaks and forest tree plantings. The Extension Service, thru the County Agent's Office assists in the District's Educational Program. The County Agent is Secretary of the Board of District Supervisors. Vocational Agriculture Teachers have helped by teaching courses in Soil Conservation.

"During 1947 Perry Steiding, of Accident, won the State Prize in the Baltimore and Ohio Conservation Contest. This contest was based on the amount of conservation practices applied on the land in the year ending October 1, 1947. Several other District Cooperators had records almost as high.

"A surplus CCC Truck Shed was secured and has been erected near Oakland to house the District Tractor and Terracer.

"In an election of District Supervisors, two new members were added: Dorsey Guard, Friendsville, and Arthur Fitzwater, North Glade. Other members are Foster Yost, who is chairman, G. E. Bishoff, Treasurer, and Otis Riley.

"Each year of Soil Conservation Work has shown greater numbers of cooperating farms and greater amounts of work on the land than the last. This trend will unquestionably continue in 1948. Conservation farming has proven its worth.

"Garrett County Farmers have always been mindful of the need of preventing soil losses and are comparatively quick to accept the new, but proven methods of doing the job."

The distance is always a little shorter when good neighbors work together. Telephone service is better, too, when party-line neighbors co-operate.

Co-operation on the party line means:

Keeping calls reasonably brief;

Allowing an interval between calls, whenever possible;

Answering the telephone as promptly as you can;

Not interrupting when the line is in use, except in an emergency;

By continuing to be a good neighbor to the other families on your line, you'll help them and help yourself to better telephone service.

Restore Christian Values . .

We have a news release this week from "The Christophers" pointing out that only eight states require instruction in the Declaration of Independence, and urging citizens to urge their states to adopt laws requiring such instruction.

No we don't know "The Christophers" from "Adam", but the idea is not a bad one, and if, as the article reveals, the organization is a nationwide movement to encourage individual effort in restoring Christian values to every phase of American life, their purpose is to be commended.

The group insists that we strive hard to preserve in all fields the "basic American teaching that our rights are God-given," terming this more effective than merely being against subversive groups now working to destroy our country.

"These groups are fighting to make the Declaration a dead letter, because it lays down the fundamental American principle that each individual gets his rights from his Creator, and that a prime purpose of the state is to protect these God-given rights."

In the Declaration of Independence, we recognize God as "the Supreme Judge of the World." We state that "all men are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights," and on American coins we put the words, "In God We Trust."

More and more articles are appearing in magazines declaring that western civilization is on the decline and the only way to start it on the upward swing is the acceptance of true Christianity. Unless we put this basic American doctrine back into every phase of American life, all the dollars that we keep in America or spread abroad in Europe will not cure the mess the world is now in.

Such is the gist of the message of "The Christophers", and there are thousands who will agree with this.

Local Dump Truck Owners Organize

At a meeting in Oakland High School on Tuesday evening a large group of local dump truck owners met for the purpose of forming an organization, to be known as the "Independent Truckers' Association."

The fact that the strip mine operators in this county have been hiring out of state trucks to do their hauling when local trucks are available has caused much concern among local dump truck owners, according to Mr. Hamilton. "Many of these truck owners had purchased dump trucks on the strength of promises of employment by the various stripping operators," he said, "only to find that when the operators began mining they had trucks from out of the state to do the hauling."

"One of the purposes of the Independent Truckers Association is to correct this situation."

Hamilton also pointed out that much public interest has been shown in regard to this matter and as a result the organization has made it possible for interested persons, not truck owners, to become members at an honorary membership fee of $2.50 per year.

He stated all local dump truck owners could become charter members by paying membership before February 4.

To Observe Scout Anniversary Week

Members of Oakland Troop No. 31, Boy Scouts of America, will participate actively in the observance of Scout Anniversary Week, February 6 to 12, inclusive, and definite plans will be made at the regular meeting tonight, according to William G. Fife, scoutmaster.

The week will mark the 38th anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scout movement in America. Since 1910 more than 14 million American boys and men have been members. Today there are 2,120,000 scouts and leaders in the nation.

The theme of Boy Scout Week this year is "The Scout Citizen at Work," in his home, community, nation and world.

There will be a service of rededication, attendance at some church, a Board of Review, and other activities, according to Mr. Fife.

The bid was for $761,430.85. The Cumberland Contracting company was second low bidder and the T. Edgie Russell company of Frederick was third.

The State Roads commission has not as yet awarded the contract, according to Harold Rook, in charge of the local office of the State Roads commission.

All patrons and friends of the school are invited.

County Continues With Rugged Weather

Zero temperatures, continuous subfreezing weather and the worst snowstorm of the current winter were dished out to Garrett countians during the past week, but a pleasant surprise awaited them this morning when the thermometers stood around 10 above. It had been 14 below about 10 o'clock last night but the temperature began to rise shortly after that time.

A severe snowstorm from the east last Saturday brought trouble to this area. The wind piled state and county roads to such a depth that workmen had difficulty in keeping them open to traffic and two of the state roads were actually closed for about three hours. State Roads officials stated the Sand Flat-Deer Park road was blocked for a time, and route 219, near Sand Flat, was also closed. The driving wind sent snow through the louvres on numerous cars and trucks literally "drowned" the motors and caused no end of difficulty to road crews and others who had to be on the highways.

The temperature since last Thursday has remained below freezing, with the lowest recording 15 below zero on Monday morning, according to the Weber station. At Weber's there was a total of 6 inches of snow, with 3 inches falling on the 24th, and 3 inches on the 27th. Ralph Weber said the average depth now is about 7 inches.

W. W. DeWitt, county roads engineer, reported about 85 percent of county roads open by Tuesday.

Moderate weather is promised by weather officials by the week-end. Next Monday will be February 2, Groundhog Day, which the superstitious will watch with interest. For on that day, according to the tradition, that famous animal will come out to sniff the air. If he sees his shadow he will return to his winter home for another six weeks. But if he does not see his shadow he will remain in the open and spring is "just around the corner."

Ada Maust's Herd Highest For December

The herd of Ada P. Maust was highest among herds of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association No. 1 at Grantsville, for the month of December, it was announced by Joseph A. Lewis, herd tester.

The herd of Sherman Beachy was second, Raymond Loechel, third; Jonas Tice, fourth; and Crist Yoder; 5th.

The herd of Jonas Tice had the three highest producing cows for the month, one having a total of 1,228 pounds of milk with a butterfat content of 70 pounds. The second cow showed a total of 800 pounds of milk with a total butterfat content of 65.6. They are known in the report as "Myrtle" and "Sarah." "Pansy" had a total butterfat content of 62.3 pounds.

The other high cows in the twenty listed answer to the names of Lulu Belle, Topsy, Tippy, Piney, Pet and Princess and the like, and the butterfat content ranges from the three highest to 50.1 pounds. Owners of these cows from fourth to twentieth are Jonas Tice, Ada P. Maust, Crist Yoder, Paul Kinsinger, Raymond Tice, Dorsey Guard, Sherman Beachy, John J. Hafer, Joel A. Beachy and Eli Yoder.

While Ada Maust's herd was the highest listed, only two individual cows were in the first high twenty, placing 13th and 15th.

60 Persons Register At City Hall Monday

Registrars Strike Off 122 Names, Leaving Total of 498 Eligible to Vote in March

Sixty persons registered Monday at the city hall in Oakland, at the annual registration day. Some of those listed had lived here for years but had previously let the annual day slip by without a thought. Others were newcomers to Oakland.

The registrars, however, struck off 122 names of those previously registered. Some had died, some had moved to distant areas, and still others had moved only a short distance, but outside the corporation limits. Only those who are residing within the corporate limits and who are duly registered are entitled to vote at the annual municipal election. There are now 498 names on the registration books.

The election this year will be held on Monday, March 8. The last day for filing for office is Friday, February 27, at 4 p. m. Thus far no candidates have made their appearance, but it was intimated that present councilmen whose terms expire, would file for re-election. Mayor A. G. Hesen's term expires, as does that of Miss Julia A. Rowan, treasurer. Whether or not they would file for re-election was not known at this time.

Benefit Dance Date Changed to Friday, Jan. 30th

The date of the benefit dance for the March of Dimes campaign has been changed to Friday, January 30, and it will be held in the Manhattan hotel, it was announced by Charles L. Briner, chairman of the Oakland committee.

The date and place was changed because of condition beyond our control, Mr. Briner explained. The floor show will be as scheduled and admission will be $2.50 per couple. Mr. Briner said the floor show would be presented at 11 o'clock. Music for dancing will be furnished by Regis Kerins and his orchestra.

Mr. Briner announced last night the addition of another entertainer for the floor show, in the person of Oscar Parrish, of Cumberland, a magician of note, who has appeared in the county upon former occasions.

Benefit Basketball Game

It was announced that there would be a basketball game for the benefit of the March of Dimes fund, to be held Sunday afternoon in the school auditorium between the Oakland Independents and the Oakland American Legion team.

L. E. Glaser Named Telephone Manager

The appointment of L. E. Glaser as telephone manager of the Oakland area was announced today by H. M. Smith, C. and P. telephone manager, at Cumberland. He will succeed William Ellinghaus, who is being transferred to Annapolis.

The new manager will begin his duties here on Monday and Mr. Ellinghaus will remain here for ten days or more before going to Annapolis. His family, however, will move before that time, going next week to Baltimore to reside with his parents until suitable housing accomodations can be found.

Mr. Glaser is a native of Western Maryland and has been with the company for seven years in various managerial positions, Mr. Ellinghaus stated. He is married and the father of one child. He was a member of the armed forces from September, 1941, to February, 1946, serving in the southwest Pacific area for over two years.

Mr. Glaser plans to move his family to Oakland as soon as living quarters are available.

The house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ellinghaus, at the north edge of town, has been purchased by Dr. and Mrs. F. D. Custer and they are moving next week.

Addresses Lions Club

Dr. W. R. Cemeron, director of cancer control, American Cancer society, with the State department of health, Baltimore; and David F. Hayes, public relations director, were speakers at the regular meeting of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions club on Monday evening.

They presented a program in the interest of cancer control in Maryland with the ultimate goal of eventually setting up a county-wide organization in Oakland.

They also showed a moving picture, "The Traitor Within," to the club members and guests.

The fund raising campaign for cancer control is held in April of each year. It is the hope of the society that a clinic may be established in this county. At present there are eight in the state.

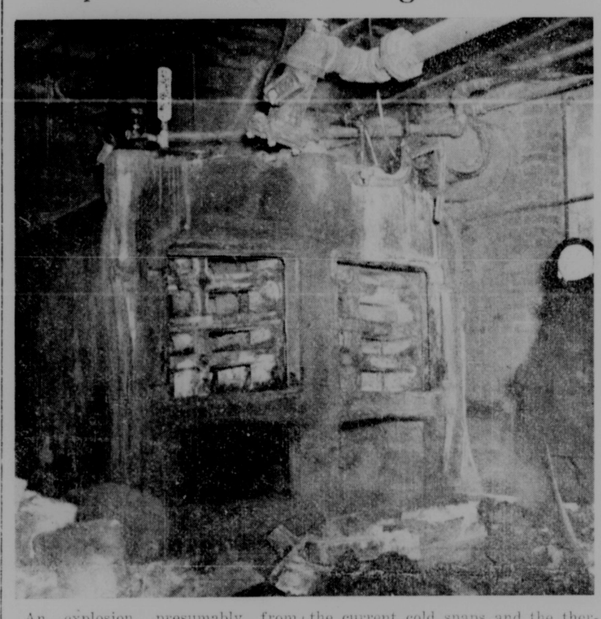
Explosion Wrecks Garage Furnace



An explosion, presumably from coal gas, completely destroyed the large furnace in the Ralph Pritts Garage on Liberty street last Sunday evening about 10 o'clock, and the vibration shattered the large plate glass windows in the front of the building.

Jasper Purnell, night watchman, was the only person in the building at the time. He was in the office at the time of the explosion and was not injured. The force of the explosion demolished the partition around the furnace room, tore out the foundation under it and ruined some of the boiler sections.

The Oakland Fire Department was called, but no fire resulted.

The blast occurred during one of the current cold snaps and the thermometer was around zero at the time, subsequently going to 15 below zero. Huge pieces of canvas were placed over the window frames which kept out some of the cold, and early the next morning burnside stoves and heatrolas were erected and repairs were begun immediately.

Ralph Pritts, owner, said his insurance would not cover the loss, except on the plate glass windows, and that it would cost $2,500 to $3,000 to repair the damage. The plate glass windows were replaced by Tuesday morning. Business was resumed on Monday morning.

Believe In Dreams? Here's A Good One

Last Saturday as Albert Kahl went to work as usual at the Oakland Lumber company, Merlin Gnegy said, "Don't operate these saws today." When Kahl asked why, Gnegy merely repeated the demand with emphasis. So Kahl became busy with other things. Later Frank Propst was operating one of the saws and Kahl was standing nearby. A splinter from the board being sawed broke away and pierced Kahl's wrist, going entirely through the flesh.

Propst extricated the splinter and workmen applied first aid.

It was not until then that Gnegy told Kahl that he had a dream the night before wherein Kahl was seriously injured while operating the saw, and that was the reason he was so insistent that the man not operate the saws that day.

Kahl was back at work on Monday and the wound is healing satisfactorily.

Death Termed "Suicide"

Dr. William Gilbert Eckles, 48, professor of educational administration at the University of Maryland, was found dead on January 27, a gunshot wound in the mouth.

Dr. James I. Boyd, Prince Georges county medical examiner, termed the death a suicide. He said Dr. Eckles left a note complaining of ill health.

Dr. Eckles had been scheduled to make a survey of the school building needs in this county.

No Fuel Shortage Apparent In Oakland

There are very few oil burners, there seems to be plenty of coal dealers, and in a statement last night Carl Stone, local manager of the C. and A. Gas company, said he had received no complaints this winter of any trouble with gas pressure.

Large users of the product were informed that they should be careful and not use any more than actually necessary. In several parts of town additional pressure was made possible by cutting over early this winter to the high pressure lines, eliminating the necessity of all gas going through the town where there are only small gas mains.

Series of Church Ads Starts Again

With this issue of The Republican begins another series of "Support the Church" advertisements which are sponsored this time by twenty-two local business establishments.

These advertisements are prepared by E. E. Keister, of Strasburg, Va., and are endorsed and supported by the American Bible Society, one of America's best known non-denominational religious organizations and the world's largest distributor of the Bible.

The advertisements will continue for a period of 26 weeks. This week there are ten sponsors and next week there will be twelve sponsors. These groups will alternate every week until the series is complete.

ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS IS APPOINTED BY BOARD

Announcement Made in Joint Statement Following Meeting in Baltimore With Dr. Thomas Pullen

The appointment of R. Bowen Hardesty, of Aberdeen, as assistant superintendent of schools of Garrett county, was announced this week by the County Board of Education, in a joint statement by the Board of Education and the Board of County Commissioners, following a meeting in Baltimore last Thursday with Dr. Thomas Pullen, state superintendent.

Mr. Hardesty will report for duty on Monday, February 1, and his particular duties will be to assist in the building program and take over other duties in connection with the office. F. E. Rathbun, present county superintendent, will reach the age of retirement in December of this year, and the appointment of an assistant was termed advisable by both boards.

The complete statement of the boards is as follows:

County Commissioners J. Edward Helbig, Jonas W. Sines and Stewart F. Stahl, and Messrs. Walter W. Dawson and Charles O. Bender, members of the County Board of Education, conferred jointly last Thursday afternoon with Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, State Superintendent of Schools at Baltimore concerning the School Building program for Garrett County as authorized by the last session of the General Assembly.

After the passage of this Act and several conferences between local officials and Dr. Pullen, it was thought advisable that a county wide survey of the schools should be made by experts in the educational and building field and arrangements were made to have Dr. Engelhart of New York City, an outstanding specialist in this field, as well as representative from the State Department of Education, to come to Garrett County to conduct such a survey.

It was also felt that it was advisable, in view of the fact that Mr. Rathbun, County Superintendent of Schools, would reach the age of retirement the latter part of this year, there should be appointed an Assistant Superintendent of Schools for Garrett County to assist in the building program as well as take over other duties in connection with the office.

In November of 1947, the Board of Education met with Dr. Pullen in Baltimore at which time a number of persons qualified for the appointment were interviewed and a selection was made from one of the group, the understanding being that the appointee would report for duty in the County on January 1st of this year. Shortly before that date certain conditions arose that made it impossible for the appointee to accept the position. Immediate steps were taken by the Board to make another selection, but by reason of the illness of Dr. Pullen, it was not possible to meet with him until last week.

The Board of Education has appointed R. Bowen Hardesty to the position of Assistant Superintendent and this appointment has the full approval of Dr. Pullen, who highly recommended him, and stated that he was one of the outstanding school men of the State. Mr. Hardesty has been engaged in school work since 1933, holds a Master's degree from Columbia University and it is the feeling of the School Board that they were fortunate in securing his services. He is a married man with one child and will report for duty on February 1st.

There was full cooperation between the Board of County Commissioners and the Board of Education and Dr. Pullen expressed gratification of the harmony that existed between the Boards and gave assurances of the full assistance of the State Department of Education. The importance of early commencement of the program is realized by both Boards and all necessary preliminary steps have been taken to get started at the earliest possible date.

WALTER W. DAWSON,
President,
Board of Education.

President,

Bruceton Woman Is Victim of Gun Wound

Mrs. Ruby H. Ryan, 42, Bruceton Mills, W. Va., died at Heiskell Memorial hospital, Morgantown, as the result of a self-inflicted bullet wound last Wednesday, January 21.

William Edward Ryan, husband of the victim, told West Virginia state police he found his wife lying on a davenport with blood running down her face and a .22 caliber rifle lying beside her. He declared his wife had been in ill health for about six months.

The Ryans were former residents of Franklin, W. Va., and stayed with Mr. Ryan's sister, Mrs. Arlie Blake, in Oakland for about four or five weeks before moving on to Bruceton about six months ago.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Ringer, of near Albright, W. Va., who survives in addition to the husband and the following children: Mrs. Marjorie Myers, Bruceton; Alberta Ryan, Franklin, W. Va.; Elaine, Donald and Playford Ryan, all at home; also three sisters, Lulu Ringer, Brandonville; Glenna Liston, of Centenary, and June Ringer, of Albright.

Eli Yoder Opens New Locker Plant At Grantsville

Eli Yoder announced recently the opening of his new and completely modern locker plant at Grantsville. It has a capacity of 800 lockers, with 500 now available.

An account of the locker plant and about Mr. Yoder appeared in a recent issue of the Meyersdale Republican, a portion of which is reproduced here.

Mr. Yoder has been in the slaughtering and meat canning business for a number of years. "Recently he learned that some of his customers, who always had their winter's supply of meat canned, were beginning to use the more modern method of freezing their meat and keeping it in frozen food lockers."

A trip to the eastern part of the state to visit 16 locker plants, caused his decision to build one. Mr. Yoder began construction in May. In addition to his 800 lockers he has a preparing and wrapping room, waiting room, aging room, freezing room, curing room and storage room.

The Meyersdale account continues:

As the meat is brought in it is taken immediately to the aging room where it remains from one to two weeks. After it is properly aged it is removed and cut to the specifications of the customer on an electric meat and bone cutter. It is then wrapped and sent into the quick freezing room where the temperature registers 20 degrees below zero.

Frozen as solidly as a rock the meat is ready for storage in any one of the 500 lockers. Most of these lockers are 24x30 inches and will hold approximately 250 pounds of meat. Yoder reported over 100 lockers sold to date.

The temperature in the quick freezing room is controlled by a huge fan. This fan is also used to circulate the cold air throughout the locker room, and hence eliminates the necessity of having a series of coils which always require defrosting. The quick freezing room is the only room that needs to be defrosted.

Large Curing Room

Adjoining the aging room is a large curing room, which is used to sugar-cure hams, bacon, etc. In this room the temperature ranges between 38 and 40 degrees, and it takes from two to three weeks to cure the meat properly after which it is smoked.

Two large 20-horse-power compressors with 5x5 inch cylinders produce the cold for this locker plant. Water is secured on the premises from a large eight-inch well which is 172 feet deep. It was tested for a period of 33 hours, during which time a total of 66 gallons of water a minute was pumped.

Mr. Yoder intends to build a large reservoir to retain this water after it is used for the cooling process. He also plans on purchasing a large 25-horse power generator to be used to generate electricity with the aid of a tractor, in case of an emergency.

By next summer Yoder is planning to add a blanching room so that his customers can bring in their garden vegetables for quick freezing. A fresh fruit and vegetable stand is also anticipated.

Son Operates Plant

Henry Yoder, 28-year-old son, will be in charge of the new plant.

Slaughtering Process

Getting back to the slaughtering process, your reporter was shown through every department of the plant.

Hogs and cattle are kept in pens in the rear of the building. After the hogs are killed, they are rolled into a dehairing machine which removes all the bristles. From here they are lifted by electric hoists to a track from which point they are cut up for canning or freezing.

Water for washing is furnished from a spring, and is heated by steam produced in a large boiler. A small steam engine also provides the power for a sausage grinding machine, and steam-heated kettles cook the meat.

Other equipment includes a pressure cooker, 20-ton pressure lard press, electric saws, and special coolers. Last year they canned 55,000 quarts of meat. Yoder and his Amish relatives and friends canned a large amount of meat during the year which was sent abroad for relief purposes.

January 10 and 12, 1948, were set aside for butchering and canning more meat to be sent abroad for the starving people. Practically all of the meat is donated and the Yoders donate their time and the use of their equipment.

Ten Buck Deer Are Released in County

Ten buck deer from game farms in Wisconsin were received and distributed in the county on Sautrday, January 17, according to game officials. Ten others which are on order, are to be distributed here in the near future, it was also stated.

Lloyd Cook, game warden, said those received on the 17th were released on the north end of Meadow Mountain and Backbone Mountain. When the others are received they will be released at Swallow Falls and the South end of Backbone Mountain. Cook said the deer were very fine young males and appeared in a healthy condition.

When the next shipment arrives Cook said Emory Adams, president of the local Sportsmen's association, would be notified and that some members of the organization would be present to witness the release.

He said there were also orders for 780 cotton tail rabbits which were beginning to arrive. One hundred forty-four already have been received. These are turned over to sportsmen's clubs and landowners who have lands open to hunters. The balance of the order is expected within the next thirty days. These rabbits are trapped wild in Missouri and Kansas and are the same as native rabbits, it was pointed out.

Ernest Bevin, British foreign secretary, announced steps taken to form a western European bloc to combat a "ruthless" attempt by Russia to dominate the continent.

ditor's Note: This the final of e articles prepared by John H. ler, county farm agent, explain- the opportunities Garrett County ymen have of improving their ls through the artificial breeding ram. The first stated that over 0 members have enrolled more 1 18,000 cows in the state and service is offered four major y breeds. The second pointed out by using the service, the dairy- may have use of better bulls he could afford to own.

ne of the first questions a dairy- asks about the artificial breed- program after he has heard its ntages listed is, "What does it ?" The answer is that a lifetime bership fee in the cooperative is dollars. The breeding fee per cow ve dollars. This covers three ser- s. Extra services cost two dollars ; however, technicians do not ad- additional services until the cow been examined by a veterinarian. armer with a ten-cow herd will to pay fifty dollars a year as his l breeding costs.

igures show that the cost of feed e for a herd sire ranged from one lred to one hundred fifty dollars 1947. Thus a dairyman with ve cows, the average size herd in yland, could breed artificially for than he could feed a bull. This s consideration of all the other s involved in keeping such an al. "Sell the bull, and give his and grain to a good cow, and the its will more than pay the breed- costs" is the recommendation of y farmers who have used the ram.

Garrett County, within fifteen s of Oakland, dairymen in the ram should phone Oakland 132 week days and Oakland 138 on day and holidays when service is ed. Health Record For 1947 Was Favorable "Favorable health conditions in 1947 are indicated by the fact that mortality rates from most causes were the same as or lower than in 1946," according to an announcement made today by Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health. "Although the general death rate increased very slightly—from 10.9 per 1,000 population to 11.0—this was to be expected in view of the increased number of old people and infants resulting from extension of the average length of life and higher birth rates in recent years.

"Diseases of the heart were the 1947 is the lowest ever recorded in this State. This death rate for the population as a whole declined from 56.0 to 53.5 per 100,000, the decrease occurring to almost the same degree in both the Negro and the white populations.

"Infant and maternal mortality continued to decline this year. They have reached a point so low that further decline may be slow and hard to achieve.

"Diseases of the hearth were the only cause of death showing a higher mortality rate than in 1946. This increase may be attributed to the large number of old people in the population. However, the cancer death rate, which might also have been expected to rise as the number of old people increased, declined slightly in 1947.

"The birth rate was 26.1 per 1,000 population, a considerably higher rate than in 1946. In fact this year's rate is higher than any previously recorded since 1916, when Maryland entered the Birth Registration Area of the U. S. Census Bureau because it could meet the criterion of 90 per cent completeness of registration.

"About 8,000 fewer cases of reportable diseases occurred in 1947 than in the preceding year. Decreases are on record for the group classified as children's diseases and also for diphtheria, syphilis and tuberculosis."

Brethren Planning Achievement Sunday

February 15 will be a significant day for local congregations of the Church of the Brethren.

That day has been designated as "Achievement" Sunday—at which time the national brotherhood of the church expects to close a successful campaign to raise $1,200,000.

These funds have been budgeted primarily for home and foreign missions and for overseas relief and rehabilitation. The church maintains missions principally in Africa, China, India and South America. Among the relief measures originated by the Church of the Brethren was the shipment of heifers to needy families overseas.

3 Unions Block Labor Peace—Refuse Wage Boost Already Accepted by 19 Other Railroad Unions!

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and the Switchmen's Union of North America, representing 125,000 railroad employes, have refused to accept the offer of the Railroads of a wage increase of 15½ cents an hour.

This is the same increase awarded 1,000,000 non-operating employes by an arbitration board in September, 1947.

This is the same increase accepted by 175,000 conductors, trainmen and switchmen by agreement on November 14, 1947.

Agreements have been made with 1,175,000 employes, represented by nineteen unions. But these three unions, representing only 125,000 men, are trying to get more. They are demanding also many new working rules not embraced in the settlement with the conductors and trainmen.

Incidentally, the Switchmen's Union of North America represents only about 7% of all railroad switchmen, the other 93% being represented by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and covered by the settlement with that union.

Strike Threat

The leaders of these three unions spread a strike ballot while negotiations were still in progress. This is not a secret vote but is taken by union leaders and votes are signed by the employes in the presence of union representatives.

When direct negotiations failed, the leaders of these three unions refused to join the railroads in asking the National Mediation Board to attempt to settle the dispute, but the Board took jurisdiction at the request of the carriers and has been earnestly attempting since November 24, 1947, to bring about a settlement. The Board on January 15, 1948, announced its inability to reach a mediation settlement. The leaders of the unions rejected the request of the Mediation Board to arbitrate. The railroads accepted.

What Now?

The Unions having refused to arbitrate, the Railway Labor Act provides for the appointment of a fact-finding board by the President.

The railroads feel it is due shippers, passengers, employes, stockholders, and the general public to know that throughout these negotiations and in mediation, they have not only exerted every effort to reach a fair and reasonable settlement, but they have also met every requirement of the Railway Labor Act respecting the negotiation, mediation, and arbitration of labor disputes.

It seems unthinkable that these three unions, representing less than 10 per cent of railroad employes, and those among the highest paid, can successfully maintain the threat of a paralyzing strike against the interest of the entire country—and against 90 per cent of their fellow employes.

The threat of a strike cannot justify granting more favorable conditions to 125,000 employes than have already been put in effect for 1,175,000, nor will it alter the opposition of the railroads to unwarranted wage increases or to changes in working rules which are not justified.

A glance at the box shows what employes represented by the Engineers and Firemen make. They are among the highest paid in the ranks of labor in the United States, if not the highest.

Compare these wages with what you make!

Here is a comparison of average annual earnings of engineers and firemen for 1939 (pre-war) and 1947. Also shown is what 1947 earnings would have been if the 15½ cents per hour increase, offered by the railroads and rejected by the union leaders, had been in effect throughout the entire year 1947.

January 16, 1948

The Oakland Chamber of Commerce
Oakland, Maryland
Gentlemen:

During the recent Christmas holidays several members of The Ski Club of Washington, D. C., had the pleasure of skiing on the recently developed Deep Creek Ski Trails. Such a good time was had that I feel that Mr. Howard Naylor, the developer, should be commended for the work he has done.

The Ski Club of Washington is tremendously interested in developments of this kind within motoring distance of Washington, especially since the boom in this sport is already causing nearby Pennsylvania resorts to become crowded on week-ends. Not only is such a development appreciated by Washingtonians but it can become very important in the recreational plans for the young people of Oakland.

As a member of the National Ski Patrol, I would like to offer the services of our local members in assisting this development and in a training program, or even in an advisory capacity if it is possible. It will be a great loss to the young people in the area facilities are not maintained so that all may take advantage of it cheaply, comfortably and under proper supervision. Some method should be found by the citizens of Oakland to aid this program.

Patrol Leader,

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce last Thursday evening, the resignation of Charles L. Briner, as president, was accepted. A letter of thanks for his past services was extended.

The board considered the survey questionnaires, which are to be sent out within a few days. Members urged the prompt return of the ballots by chamber members naming their choices for the board of directors for the ensuing year. The election is to be held in March.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT.

If The Lord Loves Us—

Thoughtful men agree that the dangers threatening this country from within are greater than any that threaten us from without. There is also general accord that a basic essential for the economic recovery of Europe through the Marshall plan is to meet and master the domestic crisis caused by an alarming inflation coupled with a debt of unprecedented proportions and a Federal Government the size and cost of which is out of all reason.

—o—

This combination creates a situation too grave to exaggerate. Yet, it is conceded, that with determination and sense it can be successfully dealt with. Unhappily, it seems clear that these qualities are not going to be used by those clothed with power and responsibility. On the contrary, their course promises to continue lacking in candor, in courage and in reason.

—o—

The best evidence of this is the reception accorded the recent recommendations of Mr. B. M. Baruch. Asked for his advice by the Senate committee, and favoring the Marshall plan, Mr. Baruch laid down a program to check inflation, reduce the debt and recapture control of our fiscal affairs. He recalled that inflation started in the country when back in 1942 the OPA, disregarding his warning, attempted to control prices without controlling wages—a manifest impossibility. He did not recall—though he had every right to do so—the undeniable fact that if his advice for a single directing head of the War Production Board had been taken when given instead of delaying eighteen months until the indefensible Roosevelt scheme of a dual head—Knutson and Hillman—had bogged down—we would have had a shorter war and saved lives as well as millions.

Among other things, Mr. Baruch urged that through legislation, direction and voluntary self-discipline, farmers be induced to accept reduction in food prices in exchange for the guarantee of an assured price for their crops for the next three years; that in return for this food price rollback, labor abandon all strikes and wage demands and accept stabilization of wages for three years; that industry accept a 50 per cent restoration of the excess-profits tax, with wartime amortization for new plants and expansion; that all tax reduction be postponed two years, after which a five-year orderly reduction, coupled with substantial lowering of the national debt, which is a "terrible threat to our security," be effected; that all unessential Federal, state and municipal works be postponed.

There, of course, was more to the Baruch recommendations than this. But the ones above suggested are the principal proposals for rescuing this nation from its concededly perilous position, giving it the strength needed to extend adequate aid to Europe without wrecking ourselves. Privately, almost every candid man in Washington agrees they are not only practical but necessary. There is nothing new nor startling about them. So far as taxes are concerned, Mr. Baruch merely repeats what he said two years ago when, despite warning, the Truman Administration entirely wiped out the excess-profits tax, which not only cut hugely into revenue which could have been used to reduce the debt but started the first wave of wage demands that sent prices spiraling again.

Even if these suggestions had not been made by a man with an impressive record for being right and who obviously has no personal ax to grind, their essential soundness ought to be enough to insure action in face of the crisis. However, there will be no action. Mr. Baruch's program not only will not go through as an entirety but no part of it will go through. As during the war, the advice he was asked to give will not be taken. Nothing he has suggested will be done—quite the reverse. One does not have to search far for the reason. One word is enough to tell the story—politics. This is the presidential year and there is no leadership in either party sufficiently high-minded and unselfish to risk offending any of the great groups of voters whom Mr. Baruch's plan, in their own interests, calls upon for sacrifice and self-restraint.

—o—

Nine months before an election and there isn't the courage in either White House or Congress to make a vital fight for the safety of the nation as a whole against the selfish insistence of the organized groups on their "rights." The Republicans say that no steps such as Mr. Baruch proposes can be taken until there is a Republican President in the White House who will co-operate with a Republican Congress. The Democrats say nothing can be done so long as a Republican Congress refuses everything the Democratic President asks.

Neither is telling the truth. The truth is that for purely partisan and political reasons both are headed in the exact opposite to the direction Mr. Baruch urges them to go in which the intelligent among them know they should be going. Thus, there exists a deeply discouraging state of affairs which presents a devastating indictment of our political system and the quality of our national leadership. If the system is to be saved, a political miracle must occur. If the Lord loves us, He will raise up a real leader.

His Work of Salvation

Lesson for February 1, 1948

PROFESSOR WILLIAM JAMES was once asked to give a definition of Christianity. He replied, "I doubt if there is a satisfactory definition of Christianity, but I can give you an example of it — Dr. Phillips Brooks."

Dr. Newton

Our lesson for Sunday tells us many things about Jesus, his work of salvation chiefly. But before we can understand what he does, we must look again at who he was and is. We begin with Isaiah 53:1-12. Who can read those majestic words without tears? And then we come to Matthew 1:21, "And thou shalt call his name Jesus, for he shall save his people from their sins." Then go on to read Matthew 5:17-28, Luke 19:1-10, and Hebrews 4:15, 16.

The key verse, it seems to me, in Sunday's lesson is Luke 19:10, "The Son of man came to seek and to save that which was lost." Hold to this key, and every door will open in this lesson.

JESUS HELPS ZACCHAEUS

IN THE first ten verses of the 19th chapter of Luke we have the fascinating story of Jesus calling Zacchaeus down from the tree, forgiving his sins, and entering into his house. The disciples complained that Jesus had gone to lunch with a man that was a sinner. It was then that the Master declared, "The Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost."

Zacchaeus is but an illustration of what Jesus seeks to do for every man. He has not come to save a few, but "whosoever will." He will not force himself upon any man, but he waits in hope of saving every man.

The "worst" boy in your community may be saved — will be saved — if only he will do as Zacchaeus did, come to Jesus, just as he is, confessing his sin and believing on the Lord Jesus Christ.

HOW JESUS CHANGES PEOPLE

JESUS saved Zacchaeus by forgiving his sins and putting a new attitude in his heart. He had harmed many people, or at least they thought he had. They would not forgive him.

He may not have asked them to forgive him, but when he met Jesus and was changed by the redeeming grace of the Saviour, he proposed to restore fourfold wherever he may have wronged anyone. More than that, Zacchaeus offered to give the half of his goods to the poor. He gave convincing evidence that he was a changed man. So will every man who believes in Jesus.

But we must remember this, Zacchaeus bared his soul to the Saviour in repentance of his sins and believed on him as the Son of God before he manifested a changed attitude.

THE PURPOSE OF JESUS

RECALL again the words of the angel to Joseph, "Thou shalt call his name Jesus, for he shall save his people from their sins." It was to save sinners like Zacchaeus that Jesus came down from heaven and died on the cross. That was and is his purpose.

"He went about doing good, for God was with him." Acts 10:38.

We shall never understand the work of Jesus until we come to see him at work in every age and amongst all mankind to do the will of the Father in saving any and all who will come unto him in faith believing.

"SO SEND I YOU"

JESUS calls upon you and upon me and upon every follower of his to accept as the central purpose of our lives this mission of winning lost souls unto him. "As the Father hath sent me, so send I you."

I sat in a boat with two prominent business men, fishing in a private lake one afternoon last November. Mr. Asa G. Candler of Atlanta and I were guests of Mr. Carr P. Collins of Dallas. We were at his Wild Briar farm, a few miles from Dallas. We were talking about the plight of the world. Mr. Collins said: "What is money worth if we think of it apart from the purpose of God? Until we come back to the words of Jesus, 'So send I you,' we cannot hope to improve the sorrowful plight of our frightened day and generation. All men are lost until they come to know him as Saviour."

Let this testimony of one of God's gentlemen be heard and heeded by laymen and preachers alike, and fear will give way to faith, and the kingdoms of this earth will become the kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

Crop Increases Listed By Agronomist

Just as grain saving is important this winter, maximum feed production next summer will be an important undertaking for Maryland farmers. One of the big helps of that production will be the full use of available supplies of commercial fertilizer and manure; but, according to agronomy officials at the University of Maryland, some uses of fertilizer will increase production more than others.

Heading the list of recommended practices is spring top dressing with nitrogen, if supplies are available, those fields or parts of fields likely to yield less than 20 bushels per acre without treatment. John Magruder, the Exentsion Agronomist, states that an increase of 22 pounds of grain may be expected for each pound of nitrogen applied up to a total of 20 pounds total.

Next on the list of crop-increasers is the use of from 150 to 250 pounds of 3-12-6 or similar grade fertilizer on corn. It should be applied near the row or hill. Alfalfa yield may be stepped up by putting on 400 pounds per acre of 0-12-12 or 0-14-14 immediately after harvesting the first cutting. Generally 50 pounds of borax should be mixed with each ton of fertilizer for alfalfa.

Timothy and other grass hay or pasture should be top dressed in early spring with nitrogen or a complete fertilizer such as 7-7-7. Ladino clover needs 400 pounds per acre of 0-12-12 or similar grade. This should be applied in the early spring or immediately after the first crop is removed.

Magruder also explains that generally greater total return will result from manure which is reinforced with superprosphate and applied in relatively light amounts for corn. Other effective uses for manure are light top dressing of small grain in winter on soils medium in fertility, top dressing of ladino clover-grass pasture, fall manuring of permanent pasture, and winter manuring of mixed hay.

19 Marriage Permits Granted During Week

Only nineteen marriage licenses were issued during the past week ending Monday about noon from the office of the clerk of the Circuit court, bringing the total for January thus far to exactly 100. Cold weather and the snowfall were regarded the causes and not any lack of enthusiasm on the part of the contracting parties.

Inspector Commends Mine Improvements

Numerous safety improvements carried out recently at the Johnstown Coal and Coke Company's 1,100-ton-a-day Manor No. 3 mine are commended and other protective measures suggested in a Federal reinspection report issued by the Bureau of Mines. When reexamined in November by Inspector P. M. Shay, the Vindex development employed 243 men.

Inspector Shay cited such recent safety advances as provision of well-constructed explosives magazines, safe underground storage of blasting materials, employment of permissible blasting units and wooden tamping bars, face and roof examinations before and after blasting, coursing of more air through one last open crosscut, installation of doors in pairs to form air locks, prompt closing of ventilation doors, rerailers for the locomotives, wearing of safety headgear by men handling cras, and 100 percent wearing of safety-toe shoes.

To help minimize remaining deviations from accepted safety standards, Shay proposed replacement of defective timbers along the 4 right haulageway, circulation of greater quantities of air through two last open crosscuts, thorough rock dusting of specified dry areas and cleaning of coal-dust accumulations from the mine, stemming of boreholes with incombustible material and firing of each shot or series of shots immediately after charging during onshift blasting, several additional electrical safeguards, eye protection for workers exposed to flying particles and a strict ban on smoking in the mine.

44 Traffic Deaths In State In December

During December there were 1,693 traffic accidents investigated in Maryland by the several police agencies in the State. These accidents were responsible for 44 deaths and 807 persons injured. The Baltimore City Police Department reported 904 accidents with 13 deaths and 386 injuries —while the State, County and Local Police Departments reported 789 accidents with 31 deaths and 376 injuries.

A total of 17,732 traffic collisions were investigated in Maryland during the past year, with 405 deaths, and 8,799 persons injured—this being an increase of 1,505 accidents and 526 persons injured over the total figures for the year 1946. The records reveal, however, that 13 less persons were killed during 1947 than during 1946.

Maryland's toll of traffic casualties averaged 1.1 persons killed and 24.1 persons injured every day—42 percent of those killed were pedestrians, 24 percent were drivers or passengers in motor vehicles in collision with other motor vehicles, and 29 percent were drivers or passengers of vehicles that overturned or collided with fixed objects, in most cases, because of excessive speeds.

Six counties experienced a fatality-free month—Calvert, Cecil, Garrett, Howard, Kent and Somerset.

By J. Glenn Beall

As I sit down at the end of each week to write these dispatches, I try to think of the things that have happened during the week that would interest the people in my Congressional District.

High on that list now is the statement issued by General Dwight D. Eisenhower that he could not accept a Presidential nomination if it were tendered.

Being an admirer of the General for the tremendously outstanding good job he did during the war and for his personal magnetism, I believe his value as a patriotic American citizen has been enhanced by his statement and that there is every indication that this heroic war leader will continue to play a great part in the future destiny of our country.

I am not going to give my choice at this time of the man whom I believe would make the finest Republican nominee for President, but I think it would be interesting to look over the leading contenders.

From now on until convention time we will probably see much activity on the part of Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio and former Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota. On the sidelines and almost in the arena are Governor Earl Warren of California and our Speaker of the House, Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts.

Senator Taft's activities will be well publicized in his role as a leader in the United States Senate.

Governor Dewey, as Chief Executive of our largest state in point of population, has a perfect sounding board to allow the people of the country to know what he's doing and thinking.

Former Governor Stassen has an energetic young group behind him besides, he has been traveling around the country giving his views about almost every vital subject. His present conflict with Mr. Edwin W. Pauley over commodity speculation has made his the vocal point of public interest.

I don't believe Speaker Martin will do anything to bring attention to himself except to do his important job well. The same is probably true of Governor Warren of California.

From now until the Republican Convention in Philadelphia, speculation, polls of public opinion and millions of political words will center on the gentlemen mentioned. It is possible that many more prominent men will be heralded before the public from time to time as possible dark horses. Everything points to several lively months of comment.

On the Democratic side of the fence, the top man is, of course, President Harry S. Truman. While it is possible that Mr. Truman will decline to run, there is nothing on the surface at the present time that would indicate such a move.

While home politics seem to be getting in the normal groove, there are a great many problems facing us in this country and in the world in general that seems far beyond the normalcy state. I hope our actions in Congress will reflect a thinking of the overall situation instead of allowing a political campaign year to influence us too deeply.

Under The Dome

I hope the legislation introduced by me this week will ultimately mean something fine for the towns of Brunswick, Emmittsburg, Gaithersburg, Hancock, Kensington, Lonaconing, Thurmont, Westernport, Williamsport and Woodsboro.

All of these Maryland communities were declared eligible for new Post Offices and my bill would provide the necessary authorization for the acquisition of sites and the plans for the building.

Also introduced a bill which would grant an exemption from income taxes for persons living on retirement or annuities. This legislation was referred to the Ways and Means Committee. I will keep you posted as to its progress.

The Chairman of the Public Works Committee appointed me to the Special Sub-Committee to study and report on stream pollution. This has been a chief interest of mine for several years and I hope some real good can come out of this committee particularly constructive recommendations for the Potomac River.

I am happy to tell you that the Public Lands Committee reported favorably my H. J. Resolution 150 for the restoration and preservation of the Francis Scott Key Mansion—and H. R. 3807 which will make the Catoctin Recreational Area a permanent recreation center.

The highly discussed and much needed legislation affecting a reduction in income taxes will be brought to the Floor of the House this week. While there will be several days debate, I hope this debate will bring forth a bill which will give all taxpayers the much needed relief.

It will be recalled that the Congress passed such legislation on two previous occasions and both times the President vetoed the bills. Even though the House then passed the bills over the President's veto the Senate failed to give the two thirds majority by the scant margin of two votes. I do hope the present bill will be enacted into law.

The Reserve Officers Association of Western Maryland is a fine organization and it was a great pleasure to be a guest speaker at its dinner last week in Cumberland. The members of this group know the importance of keeping abreast of world happenings and it is through such organizations as this that I find much food for thought.

MT. LAKE PARK

Mrs. Hiller and a number of young people are planning to attend mid-winter week-end institute, being held by the Parsons sub-district Youth Fellowship at St. John's Methodist church at Parsons. Marrow, Davis; Community Service, by a student of Wesleyan college; Recreation by Rev. W. E. Albright, Fort Ashby. It begins at 6:30 Friday evening, January 30, and will end Sunday night.

The WSCS is having its World Service Day program at the U. B. church Sunday evening. Rev. Alberts, of Kingwood, will show a series of movies of the missionary work in the Philippines.

WHY GENERAL ELECTRIC PUT LOWERED PRICES AHEAD OF OTHER THINGS

General Electric lowered prices because we wanted to do our part to stop the present spiral of inflation.

General Electric lowered prices on electrical appliances in greatest demand—because that is where lowered prices on General Electric products will do the most good and have the greatest effect.

We did this because we know that in the long run General Electric can prosper only as the people of this country prosper. We believe that producing more goods for more people at less cost is the soundest way of running a business. And we feel that inflation in this country has reached a dangerous level—for the wage earner, for the man with savings, and for industry alike.

Do you know what inflation can do to you?

As money buys less and less, your savings lose their buying power. Life insurance policies dwindle in value. Money saved to take your wife to the hospital won't pay the bill when the time comes. Pay checks buy less and less. Retirement money won't pay for retirement.

This applies to the man who brings home a weekly pay check, to the man with a little savings in the bank or a life insurance policy, and to companies that have to build new plants and buy new machines to fill future needs and provide future jobs.

Inflation is a sinister thing. It steals up on a country and its economy in a gradually accelerating two-step of prices and wages—each trying to get one step ahead of the other—and there is no red line to show when the danger point has been reached.

Inflation is like a fire. Once it gets well under way, it can never be checked until everything is destroyed.

Self-restraint by industries and individuals the best check

You as an individual can do most by buying less and saving more—thus avoiding bidding up the prices for scarce goods. Business and industry can do much by lowering prices whenever and wherever possible—voluntarily.

We Must Destroy Inflation or It Will Destroy Us

Wins Award For Correct Pelt Handling

Ernest N. Schrock, of Oakland, is winner of a Daily Award for correct pelt handling in the Nineteenth National Fur Show conducted by the Jay Fur Marketing Service of Sears, Roebuck and Co.

A carefully handled pelt brought his trapper one of the $5.00 Daily Awards, as a result of its being judged one of the three best handled skins among all pelts received at the Marketing Station in Philadelphia. This pelt is now eligible to consideration for one of the major awards, including the $1,000.00 First Award, to be selected at the final judging, which will be held in April.

Correct pelt handling—the prime purpose of the Fur Show—has proved to be of vital importance to trappers due to the fact that millions of dollars were formerly wasted through careless, incorrect skinning, stretching and drying of furs.

These hands might have painted the world's greatest masterpiece. These hands might have played faultlessly the most difficult concerto. These hands might have mixed a compound that would destroy disease. These hands might have been raised in blessing over a trusting mankind.

Instead they are chained. Somewhere, somehow, they failed. Perhaps they reached over a counter and stealthily snatched a jewel. Perhaps they searched a safe and took what other hands had worked for. Perhaps they held the gun that wiped out a life. Somewhere they went wrong. Somewhere they failed.

Hands do not act by themselves. Personalities control them—personalities swayed by impulses and convictions, good and bad. The Church, your Church, is waiting to guide hands, minds, hearts and lives. Here good impulses, right convictions are born and nurtured. Here, in God's House, hands learn to move aright to find life's work, unchained and triumphant.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend service regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

County's Rural Property Shows Huge Valuation

Farm property in Garrett county is now worth more than $7,670,000, and rural homes here and throughout the state are in the best condition in history, according to a report just released by the Tile Council of America.

More than 75 per cent of farm dwellings in Maryland and the South are in excellent condition or need only such minor repairs as painting or general maintenance, the report revealed. Only 61.1 per cent were in good repair in 1940. The report was based on Bureau of the Census surveys.

"The rise has been accompanied by an increase in the number of rural homes equipped with modern conveniences."

More than 59 per cent of all farm homes now have electric lights, in contrast to 31.3 per cent in 1940.

More than 32 per cent of rural dwellings in the United States today have running water, and 20.1 per cent have private baths, according to the report. In 1940, 17.7 per cent had running water and only 10.6 per cent private baths.

Free State Forestry

J. E. Paulhamus

Anyone who expects or wants to plant trees in the spring should give some consideration to the problems which arise in connection with this work before the choice of the tree species to be planted is made. The person who wants to plant white pine in this area should consider the problem of the White Pine Blister Rust. Blister Rust is a bark disease of European origin which was first found in the state in 1931. The Rust requires two plants to complete its life cycle—the white pine and the gooseberry or currant, either wild or tame. The disease lives part of its life on the pine and the other part on the gooseberry which is known as the alternate host.

By 1940 this rust had been found in all of the counties west of the Chesapeake Bay with the exception of Anne Arundel, Charles, Howard, and St. Mary's.

The control of this disease consists in the removal of the alternate host or the currants and gooseberry bushes within nine hundred feet on all sides of the white pine. European Black Currant is particularly susceptible to the disease and its removal for a distance of one mile from the planting is recommended. It can be seen that such control measures will envolve a good bit of expense where gooseberry bushes are abundant.

The pine stand and the protective zone may have to be covered several times within a period of five to ten years for adequate control of the rust.

It has been found that gooseberrys make little or no growth under a pure well stocked stand of other conifers or under a well stock stand of hardwoods where the shade is quite heavy. Part of the control zone may thus be made up of plantings of species other than white pine. Likewise a lake or large stream as well as cultivated field or used pastures may be used in the same manner. It appears that gooseberries are probably most prevalent in old pastures, rock slopes or cutover brushy areas.

The smaller the planting of white pine, the greater the area to be controlled per acre of pine.

It is not impossible to control this disease and the demand and value of the pine may warrant the expense envolved in gooseberry eradication; however in some cases another specie of pine or other conifer may be substituted for the white pine which will give satisfactory results without the additional expense of blister rust control.

The CIO executive board officially opposes any third party in the 1948 political campaign.

Soil Conservation Termed Vital Link In European Aid Plan

Emphasizing that "the future prosperity of the nation depends largely upon the sustained productivity of its agricultural lands," Edward M. Davis, state conservationist of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, declared recently "it would not be too much of an exaggeration to say that the very future of mankind, and of civilization with which we take steps to conserve our remaining supply of topsoil."

"We all know," he stated, "that food—which is produced by this upper layer of soil—was an important weapon in the recent war. Today, in our struggle to preserve the ideaology for which we fought, food has become an even more powerful weapon than before."

"Anything which tends to weaken or diminish the fertility of our food-producing soil," he pointed out, "also serves to weaken our position internationally. And, with so many nations of the world depending upon us for their food and clothing during the next few years, the task of conserving our soil fertility becomes a very real obligation."

"In order to provide adequately for the needs of our own people and at the same time, to increase our shipments of food and clothing to deserving peoples overseas, Secretary Anderson has indicated a long-range agricultural policy of 'organized, sustained, and realistic abundance.' It is significant that in the same speech in which he first enunciated this policy, Mr. Anderson remarked that a great deal needs to be done, and needs to be done quickly, in the conservation of our soil and forest resources, if we expect to continue to meet our obligations under this (European Recovery) program."

Davis made his remarks during the first of a series of thirteen radio discussions which will be heard each Saturday during the next three months at 12:05 p.m. over station WBAL, Baltimore. These broadcasts in which civic-minded citizens from all walks of life will participate, are being sponsored by the Maryland State Soil Conservation Committee in an effort to enlist the interest and support of all citizens in the state's soil conservation program.

Winter Driving Habits Motorists Must Adopt

Elaborate surveys made by the National Safety Council over the past eight years have proved that "snow belt states have shown a winter jump in the mileage death rate of 24 to 53 per cent as compared with summer."

Motorists, through advertising and publicity have long since recognized the necessity of preparing their cars for the frigid winter months. They change the oil, grease, have their brakes and tires checked, fill the radiator with anti-freeze, get new windshield wiper blades, replace sluggish storage batteries, install heaters, adjust their carburetors and otherwise prepare their cars for any emergency.

All of these precautions come to no avail, Mr. Ritchie points out, if the man behind the wheel does not winterize his driving habits. The safest automobile in the world will turn killer with a heavy foot on the accelerator and snow and ice on the highway.

The following simple suggestions may save many lives in this community if they are observed by all:

1. Insist on clear visibility if you are behind the wheel. Good defrosters will help and it may be necessary to lower a window to keep the glass clean.

2. "Feel" your way for a block or two until you know how your car operates on the slick roads. Assuming that the tires are well treaded, pump your brakes and gun your motor for the acid test.

3. Keep a greater driving distance between your car and the one ahead. If you must pass, do it, on a long stretch of road where you can cut out, accelerate and cut back into your driving lane without danger.

4. Allow plenty of spare when taking curves. Reduce speed enough to move from the outside of your lane to the inside and out to reduce the side thrust of your vehicle.

5. Never reduce the air pressure in your tires to gain added traction. The reduced pressure will increase, not decrease your skidding and it will make your tires vulnerable to bead and sidewall breaks that will mean blowouts later on.

6. Make it a rule to start in second gear, especially on a slight uphill grade. Once the tires start spinning, there is practically no traction and a spinning tire will wear hundreds of miles from the treads in a few seconds.

7. Don't pull out from your parking spot into a line of traffic until the road is clear. Use your hands for road signals, even though the weather is cold. Surprises and unexpected changes of direction are dangerous on slippery roads.

Lou Heldman happens to be a Warehouse Superintendent in Baltimore. He might have been a tank truck driver, an accountant, a research chemist, or president of our company—the basic story would run the same.

He came to work for Standard Oil of New Jersey years ago. His work has been steady and his pay has been good. At 65, he'll retire with a life income under the company pension plan. In the Thrift Plan, he's got a tidy cash nest-egg saved up. He's had regular vacations with pay, and special protection in case of sickness or accident.

In short, Lou has a high degree of the things that mean most to a man with a job.

He has them because it was planned that way. For over 30 years, this company's workers, their unions, and the management have worked in common agreement that people's needs as human beings are the most important thing in the world.

And it's not mere generosity. It has proved plain good business all along the line.

The average Standard Oil of New Jersey worker today has been with us over 14 years. More than 8,000 of them over 20 years. That's a lot of seasoned manpower to have on your side in the competitive business of making quality gasoline and other petroleum products.

And its benefits extend clear out to you...

Right now the whole petroleum industry is straining to meet the greatest demand for its products in all history—and this staff of skilled, experienced people is your assurance that everything possible is being done with this company's facilities to meet your needs for more and better petroleum products.

As your neighbors, too, people like these are good citizens, steady customers of local stores, steady payers of local taxes.

And year after year, as makers of products you depend on in your car or factory or home or on your farm...they're second to none in ability to give good value at modest price!

VOLUME 71. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., FEBRUARY 5, 1948. NUMBER 50.

To Recognize Youth . . . . .

The Boy Scouts of America will be 38 years old on February 8, and scouts and scouters throughout the nation will celebrate this event. Members of Oakland and other scout troops in the county will be among them.

Calling Scouting, "a pattern of living that strengthens the nation," Dr. George J. Fisher, national scout commissioner, pays tribute to the movement's efforts to enrich home life. Dr. James E. West, chief scout, urges the boys to "understand and care about other people," and to "be tolerant and respect the rights of others."

The boys themselves ask for no specific recognition. Their daily "good turns" have always been without any reimbursement, but they merit more than a friendly, distant approval, or a casual acceptance of their efforts to be better citizens.

Their theme this year, 'The Scout citizen at work: in his home, his community, his nation, and his world," is a pattern for all organizations, both young and old.

While we focus our thoughts on them now and give them whole-hearted support to assist them in succeeding in their character-building mission, we can also give some study to all youth groups, and the need for more leaders and guides to show them the proper way.

Garrett county alone should have a dozen more youth groups, with interested leaders to plan wholesome activities. The time and effort expended would bring results for better citizenship in the years to follow.

FORESTRY BOARD APPROVES 7-IN. DIAMETER LIMIT

Trees Under That Minimum May Not Be Cut for Commercial Purposes Under Conservancy Act

The Commission of State Forests and Parks has approved, provisionally, a recommendation by the Garrett County forestry board that the minimum diameter limit to which timber may be cut in this county, under the provisions of the Forest Conservancy Districts Act, be set at 7 inches, measured one foot above the ground.

This announcement was received Tuesday from the Department of State Forests and Parks, at Annapolis.

In fixing this diameter limit, which is less than that authorized in other counties of the state, the commission reported it was taking into account special conditions which exist in this county in that timber cutting here is mainly for the production of mine props. That the mines would take props down to seven inches is a fact that, in the opinion of the Commission, must be taken into account in the establishment of cutting regulations for this particular section of the state.

At the same time, the Commission announced it was determined that whatever regulations are finally determined upon shall result in a permanent, rather than a temporary, mine prop industry for the Garrett county region. It was pointed out that, of great interest to the citizens of the county was the greatest amount of mine prop production over an extended period to insure a future supply and the greatest employment of labor over a long period.

It was also pointed out that the practice formulated of cutting to 7 inches is at any time subject to review both by the Garrett county board and the Commission, and that from a "practical standpoint the future production of mine props should not be sacrificed for temporary expediency."

It was stated that the Commission "plans to maintain a close check on mine prop operations in the county in order to determine whether the 7 inch diameter limit meets the requirements of a permanent source of revenue for landowners in that section."

Future action by the Commission, of any, will be predicated upon the results shown by the present 7 inch regulation, the news release concluded.

Six Streams In County Are Closed

The State game and Inland Fish Commission moved to close six trout streams in Garrett county for a three year period.

The proposal was among three approved by the agency at its first 1948 meeting on January 29, in Baltimore.

Streams to be closed are White Rock, Hoyes Run, Shields Run, Middle Fork and Tributaries from Water's Run to source, Big Run from the mouth of the Monroe Run to its source, Blue Lick and Big Run.

The other regulations adopted were one that would open Evitt's Creek in Allegany County from route 40 to the Potomac River for all species other than trout during the regular seasons and one that would make it lawful to catch white perch in non-tidal waters from February 15 to November 30 throughout the state.

Helbig Accepts Appointment To Soil Commission

J. Edward Helbig, president of the Board of County Commissioners, has accepted an invitation to serve on Gov. W. Preston Lane's 11-man commission to study the effects of soil erosion on flood control in Western Maryland reaches of the Potomac river.

State Engineer John B. Funk will head the group which the governor has designated the Upper Potomac River Flood Control Survey Commission.

Funk is expected to call an organization meeting in the near future. The survey will be financed by a $2,700 federal appropriation to the U.S. Soil Conservation Service in Maryland. Congress has authorized the Department of Agriculture to carry out a flood control program by preventing soil erosion.

Lane said money available to Maryland could be used most effectively by surveying "the run-off water flow retardation problem in the Upper Potomac watershed."

Others named to the commission include Mayor Thomas S. Post, Charles N. Wilkinson, Jr., and Harold W. Smith, all of Cumberland; mayor, president of the board of Commissioners and secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, respectively; Dr. T. B. Symons, dean of the college of agriculture and head of Extension service, University of Maryland; Chairman John E. Clark, Board of Natural Resources; State Forester H. B. Buckingham; director Ernest H. Vaughn, of the Game and Inland Fish Commission; Dr. Vernal L. Bennion, chief of the water resources branch, U. S. Geological Survey at College Park; and State Senator L. Harold Sothoron, (D-Prince George's.)

To Move Elm Tree

The Washington Elm tree, planted by the Civic club in memory of George Washington's 200th birthday, now standing on the lot in front of the Episcopal Parish House, will be moved as soon as weather conditions permit, according to Mrs. Edward H. Sincell, chairman of the Civic club committee in charge of the work.

The tree will be moved to a site on the hospital grounds, replanted and marked to the memory of the Civic club's late president, Miss Lottie Loar, who gave the trees, it was stated. The moving will be in charge of the H. Weber and Sons company.

The seedling from the famous tree was planted in 1932 and has been growing steadily since that time. The tree is being moved to clear the ground for the erection of a six room house, for the Episcopal rectory. It is the great grandchild of the elm under which George Washington took command of the American army in the Revolutionary War, at Cambridge, Mass.

World Day of Prayer

The service for the World Day of Prayer will be held Friday, February 13, at 2:30 p. m., in St. Paul's Methodist church, Oakland, it has been announced.

The general theme is "The World at Prayer," and the program will center around the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. William W. Grant will be the leader, assisted by members from each church in the community. All Protestant churches in Oakland, Mt. Lake Park, Loch Lynn, the Deep Creek Baptist church and St. Paul's Lutheran church at Accident, are participating.

ENGINEERS MAKE REPORT ON CITY WATER SOURCES

Recommend Drilling of Additional Well or Wells at Present Instead of Impounding Dam

Augmenting of Oakland's water supply by the drilling of additional wells, but consideration of the advisability of developing a surface source of supply from a long-range outlook, were recommended to the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland in a thirty-page report of the Chester Engineers, of Pittsburgh, which has just been completed.

The City Council accepted the report as submitted at its regular monthly meeting on Monday night and prepared to contact well drillers for the cost of a new well near the Wilson dam, northeast of Oakland, with an 8-inch bore, with a depth of from 200 to 300 feet. The site selected was the first recommendation of the Engineers. All water at present is supplied from wells and springs.

Other specific recommendations were the drilling of a second new well as soon thereafter as the need arises, preferably east of lower Eighth street; the saving of electric energy by installation of automatic controls between reservoirs and pumps, improvement of the distribution system piping layout to better the fire protection facilities and save water now used in blowing off dead ends; installation of proper size electrical transformers close to present pumping station with new wiring to the motors.

A study of the populaiton trend led the engineers to state it was reasonable to expect 3,500 or 4,000 persons here by 1955. With a maximum yield of 216,000 gallons of water per day from present sources, it was pointed out the future pumping needs would reach 300,000 gallons. Present pumping equipment is capable of handling 360,000 gallons per day, sufficient for years to come.

It was not considered economical at the present time to secure the additional water from impounded surface sources, due to prohibitive costs, but suggested such a procedure in the long range program. Bradley run was considered by far the most economical and practical, with a low earth fill dam on Bradley run north of the municipal golf course and the Sang Run county road crossing. This has a drainage basin of 335 acres, free of pollution, with a gravity flow to a filtration plant which could be erected near the present spring house.

A dam located about 370 feet upstream from the center of the Sang Run road crossing, with the spillway crest 15 feet above the valley floor level, would impound a body of water about 20 acres, or approximately 50 million gallons of water, or enough for over four months supply for Oakland. The cost of the impounding dam, reservoir and filtration plant was estimated at $100,000.

The engineers also investigated other water supplies with the cost of obtaining water from the Herrington Manor lake section at $200,000. Deep Creek Lake, various nearby runs, Landon's dam at Mt. Lake Park, the Little and Big Youghiogheny rivers were all studied, in addition to well sites.

Arrangements for this study by the Chester Engineers were made several months ago by the City Council when the quantity of water needed during the late summer and fall months could not be supplied by the present system.

It was pointed out that new construction probably this year would increase the need for an additional water supply, and that if there was sufficient water that several industries would locate in this area.

A study of precipitation showed an average of 48.30 inches with only 38.13 in 1946 and 43.57 in 1947.

Quality of Water

A physical analysis of a sample of water collected on June 17, 1947, by the Maryland State Department of health, shows it to be "excellent in turbidity and color, free of pollution, non-corrosive, low in total solids, satisfactory in iron content, and quite soft with very little permanent hardness."

The nation's automobile industry still has a huge backlog of unfilled orders for both passenger cars and trucks after 2½ years of postwar operations.

Kitzmiller Elects Glenn Barton Mayor

Glenn Barton was elected mayor over Russell Fichtner 90 to 47, and four councilmen who were named at about the same ratio of votes, were Thomas Baucom, Fred Burrell, John DeLoach and Carl Mosser. DeLoach had the highest number with 103 votes. Edith Pew was named tax collector for the year over her opponent, Mrs. William Moore.

Unsuccessful candidates for council were Joe Arnold, Ember Barrick, John Bishop, Clarence Keller, William Moore, and Herb Sims.

Barton will succeed Leslie Sharpless as mayor. Sharpless served for twelve years in that capacity and would not consent to serve another term.

To Place Question of Time on City Ballot

Referendum on Issus Will be Taken at March Election— Other Matters Discussed

The City Council of Oakland passed a motion on Monday night to put a referendum on the municipal ballot at the March Election, noting the voters' preference for or against daylight saving time. The motion was made by Dr. E. I. Baumgartner and seconded by Mayor A. G. Hesen.

A number of other matters were brought before the Council at Monday night's meeting.

William Shaffer and Mr. Dyer, the latter of the Osgood Bus line, were before the council in reference to moving the bus station to Oak street, instead of Alder street, as at present, with suitable rest facilities at Carrie's Restaurant. The council advised that the State Roads commission was opposed to parking space on main state highways, and the request for a permit was tabled until the Roads commission was consulted.

C. M. Sincell, city surveyor, advised that the only way the council was involved in construction of the new state road at the north edge of Oakland was in the water and sewerage lines which might have to be changed to comply with grade levels. He also discussed the proposed water and sewer lines for the new hospital site.

A permit was granted to Roland Schoch to construct a garage 24 by 24 in rear of his home on Oak street, with a four-room apartment overhead.

The report of I. J. Bosley on the municipal golf course was accepted by the council. The report showed expenditures of $7,287.42. Actual earnings were listed at $1,305. The golf course was leased last year to Mr. Bosley for an annual rental of $550. The city agreed to make repairs to the club house and paint it, which amounted to $1,816.19 this year. The city is now receiving $300 per year from rental of the bungalow near the spring.

Movie tax for the month of January was $92.00; traffic fines brought in $11, and the water test proved O. K.

Receipts for January totaled $5,476.77 which included $3,181.60 from water, and $1,140.10 from the town's share of money from the state's race tracks. Expenditures were around $5,000 which included repayment of a loan of $1,000 from a local bank, $1,500 as part payment on new truck, salaries of council and mayor, and other ordinary bills. Balance was noted at $684.00.

Sherman While, Stanley Calhoun and Harvey Winters asked for a street light at the north end of 8th street. Council a eidsvdonpweNIATESH R Council advised one would be placed there and also on Reese street between 7th and 8th, when materials were available.

Files for Re-election

Ralph Pritts, member of the Oakland Town Council, whose term will expire in March, filed as a candidate for re-election prior to leaving last Saturday for Florida, it was announced by Arthur Lawton, clerk.

Harry L. Stemple and Earl Shartzer are the other two councilmen whose terms expire. Mayor A. G. Hesen declared on Monday he would be a candidate for re-election, in order to have the opportunity to complete some of the street and water projects that had been started.

County Buried Under 13-Inch Fall of Snow

Garrett county and the balance of the tri-state area were buried under a new snow fall ranging up to 13 inches, since Sunday. About 10½ inches fell yesterday and since midnight last night, according to measurements at the Weber station south of town. A total of 2½ inches was recorded on the 1st.

Believers in the tale of the groundhog had their faith renewed when Tuesday the second was bright almost the entire day, giving the animal ample time in which to see his shadow and scamper home. Then the heaviest snowfall of the year began.

There was very little drifting and state roads crews kept all highways open to traffic. County roads were mostly kept open.

Oakland Elementary school was closed at noon yesterday to allow bus children to return to their homes.

Along with the county's heaviest snowfall, also came the highest temperature of the past ten days or two weeks with a maximum reading yesterday of 33 degrees. The lowest reading was 2 above on the 31st of January.

The moderate weather caused the snow to settle and the average level throughout the area was estimated at about 12 inches.

The continued cold weather during January caused a number of water lines to freeze in Mt. Lake Park and Oakland, and these have been thawed with electrical equipment from the power company. Water mains in Oakland were frozen on Fourth, Liberty, Seventh, Second and Oak streets.

Snow Removal Causes Labor Trouble Today

The record snowfall and storm here yesterday caused another storm to break in Oakland this morning—between the town and the Independent Truckers' Association. The latter organization was objecting to the use of what they termed "out of state" trucks in hauling the snow away from Oakland's business streets, and as a result the loader of Owen Martin's being used by the town was called off the job.

Mr. Martin said he would order the loader back to work if the town used local trucks.

A. G. Hesen, mayor, said one of Albert Kresge's coal trucks was ordered to work yesterday afternoon and today, which Kresge was offering to the town at no cost. This, added to the town's trucks already in use, were enough for the job, Mr. Hesen said, and no other trucks were authorized to report for work.

The Truckers Association, which last night went on record as objecting to the use of out of state trucks, had four trucks on the job this morning, one of them being owned by Edward G. Schmidt, a member of the city council, and driven by Roy Martin. Martin said Schmidt did not know the truck was in use. When these trucks were not authroized to work, the strike resulted. Martin declared they had received authorization last night to go to work today.

Mr. Hesen said that the county loader would be obtained as soon os possible, probably this afternoon, and that the removal of snow would continue. If no other way, we will load by hand and use a wheelbarrow, Hesen said.

New Garage To Open

The early part of next week will probably be the opening date of a new garage business in Oakland, following the purchase of the William R. Browning garage building on Liberty street several weeks ago. Messrs. Harvey Sanders and Earl Hershman, until recently associated in the Dairy business in the Promised Land section of Garrett county, bought the Browning Garage building and upon the arrival of some additional equipment, expected this week, the new proprietors will begin operations in their new venture early next week.

In New Location

Dr. F. D. Custer, veterinarian, and his family, moved on Tuesday to the corner of Omar and Second streets, into the property recently constructed by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Seefeld. The family of William M. Ellinghaus occupied the home for several weeks, but they moved this week to Baltimore.

Dr. Custer will maintain his office in a part of his residence.

December Sales Tax $2,919,590.75

James J. Lacy, State Comptroller and Administrator of the Maryland Retail Sales Tax Act, announced that the receipts for December were $2,919,590.75, making a total of $13,138,408.15, for the first six months of the levy.

The receipts for December are the largest received for any one month for 1947. The second largest amount received was for the month of October.

March of Dimes Is Continued To Feb. 15

The March of Dimes Campaign will be extended until February 15, because of the severe weather, according to State Chairman, George L. Radcliffe. A telegram of this announcement was received by Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, county chairman, last Friday. "I know," Mr. Radcliffe said, "how difficult it has been for the volunteer workers to make their contacts through the snow and the severe cold. While it is not the policy of the Committee to extend the campaign beyond January 30, the National Foundation executives have decided that contributions all over the country have been held up by the unusual weather. Therefore, Maryland will continue its campaign until February 15. This will give an opportunity for all chairmen to get in their coin cards and other contributions."

An appeal for immediate mailing of filled coin cards was also made by the State Chairman. Only half of those mailed out have been returned to date, he said.

About $60 will be cleared from the benefit dance of last Friday night, according to C. L. Briner, chairman of the committee. Approximately 65 couples attended.

Drivers' Training Course Planned For High School Students

A drivers' training course for students in the five high schools of the county was arranged yesterday at a meeting of representatives and principals of the schools with the superintendent and assistant superintendent of schools.

The course will begin the first of February with two periods each week, for which a credit of one-fourth unit will be given for satisfactory completion. The classes for the time being will be limited.

Instructors will be Carl Everly, Oakland; Marvin Callis, Accident; Jones Griffin, Friendsville; Leslie Amtower, Kitzmiller; and William C. Grimm, Grantsville. These five persons attended a conference in Baltimore January 5 to 9, sponsored by the State Department of Education, and took the course which consisted of thirty hours of class work and ten hours of road work. It dwelt on formulating driving technique and presented instruction material for giving the course in high school.

Also at yesterady's meeting were principals W. J. Glenn, Marshall G. Brown, Thomas V. Baucom, B. O. Aiken and F. D. Bittle. They met at the Court House with F. E. Rathbun, superintendent, and R. Bowen Hardesty, assistant superintendent of schools.

Other details are to be worked out as the course gets under way, Mr Rathbun stated.

To Build 9 Homes

Announcement that he planned to construct a row of nine homes on his property facing Fourth street, was made this week by Joseph W. Hinebaugh. At the same time he declared that plans for his hotel on the corner opposite the Hawkinson Tread service, were being abandoned for the present due to the shortage of good material and the excessive cost.

The row of houses will be brick veneer construction and each home will contain five rooms and bath. Construction is to start sometime in March, as soon as the frost is out of the ground.

Mr. Hinebaugh appeared before the city council on Monday evening and told of his plans, and asked for sewer and water lines. The application for the permit was presented on Tuesday morning.

NEW DUTIES ARE ASSUMED BY R. BOWEN HARDESTY

Appointment As Assistant Superintendent of Schools Confirmed at Meeting on Monday

Appointment of R. Bowen Hardesty as assistant county superintendent of schools was officially completed at a meeting of the County Board of Education on Monday afternoon. At the same time the Board of Education directed that it be made a matter of record that Mr. Hardesty is to be appointed as the County Superintendent of Schools upon the retirement of F. E. Rathbun, present incumbent. Both acts had the unanimous approval of the board, and also that of Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., State Superintendent of Schools. Mr. Rathbun's retirement becomes effective in December of this year.

Mr. Hardesty began his duties on Monday, conferred with the Board of Education Monday afternoon, and with the Board of County Commissioners on Tuesday morning relative to his immediate duties and responsibilities which will be principally the direction of the School Building program as authorized by the General Assembly of 1947, along with other duties. He will immediately undertake a school pupil census.

Mr. Hardesty attended public schools in Calvert county and later attended Randolph-Macon college, Ashland, Va., where he was awarded the Bachelor of Arts degree in 1932. In 1934 Mr. Hardesty received his Master of Arts degree at Columbia university, New York. He attended Western Maryland college, Westminster, during the summer of 1935 and participated in the Baltimore County workshop in 1941. Further professional training was taken by Mr. Hardesty at William and Mary college, Williamsburg, Va., University of Maryland, and Johns Hopkins university.

He has taught in Maryland since 1933, first in Anne Arundel county and later in Baltimore county. He became principal of Carroll Manor Junior High school in 1936 and in 1945 served as principal of Elkridge high school. Howard county. He became principal of Aberdeen High school in 1946.

Teachers Appointed

At a meeting Monday afternoon the Board appointed the following teachers to fill vacancies, upon nomination of the county superintendent: Augustus B. Dean, principal, Bear Hill; Mrs. Elizabeth Ryan Blake, Mt. Lake Park; Mrs. Gwendolyn Chisholm Warnick, Red House. An additional teacher was approved for Accident High school as authorized by Dr. Pullen, contingent upon attendance requirements.

The Board also awarded a contract to George B. McCullough for transportation of school children from the Mill Run community to Friendsville. A new 60-passenger school bus is to be used.

Librarian Resigns Committee Named

The resignation of Miss Eleanor Ray as librarian for the Garrett County Free library was submitted to the library board at a meeting yesterday afternoon. The resignation will take effect on Saturday, February 14.

Miss Ray has accepted a position as librarian at Teacher's College, Springfield, S. D., a position she had held for four years before coming to Oakland in July, 1946.

F. E. Rathbun, chairman of the advisory board, said a committee which included him, Bernard I Gonder and Mrs. F. D. Bittle, was named to find a successor.

Another committee including Mr. Gonder and Mr. Rathbun was named to secure approval of proposed changes in the Library site from D. Cal Crim, Cincinnati, who had given $3,000 for purchase of the site on Second street.

The board received Miss Ray's semi-annual report, July to December, 1947, which showed a total circulation of 10,312 books to 4,320 adults, 3002 juveniles, and 2990 in schools. A total of 1525 books had been sent to schools. There are 621 borrowers listed on the library's cards, with a total of 2,534 books catalogued.

Miss Ray said the Bookmobile probably would be put into use this spring.

Rotary Club Plans Community Forum

A community forum on Domestic and International affairs will be presented in Oakland by the Oakland Rotary club on consecutive Mondays beginning March 1st. This was announced today by Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, chairman of the committee on arrangements. Four speakers who are outstanding in their respective fields will be featured during the series, he said.

The forum participants have been obtained independently by the local club and the committee believes they will be superior to any presented at similar affairs in the past.

The forum is being presented by the local club as a community service. This year the net proceeds of the series will be donated to the local hospital building fund.

Further details regarding names of speakers and subjects they will discuss will be found in next week's paper.

The place of the meetings will be the Assembly Hall at St. Paul's Methodist church.

Ladies' Night Planned

Plans were also made this week for the annual Ladies' Night, to be held on March 18, at which time Governor W. Preston Lane will be the speaker.

This week's meeting is in charge of the classification committee, and Prentice DeBerry, chairman of the committee, will be the speaker.

Replanting Program May Restore Chestnuts —In Fifty Years

A replanting program to make chestnuts again available is being conducted by the State Forestry Department, it was revealed by H. C. Buckingham, district forester, at the meeting of the personnel of the Western Maryland District, department of State Forests and Parks, in Cumberland, on Tuesday.

Mr. Buckingham related how experiments have been conducted in the production of a chestnut tree which is believed to be blight resistant, and outlined a huge planting program as getting underway.

If successful, in a half century from now in the fall of the year, youngsters may go again into the forests of Maryland to gather chestnuts as was done until a blight destroyed the groves in 1920.

The Chinese or Asiatic chestnut and the American chestnut have been cross bred into what appears to be a blight-resistant chestnut. Thousands of seedlings are being raised for transplanting and some of these have been planted in the New Germany area. Much of the experimental work has been conducted at Beltsville.

A huge tree planting program with 3,000,000 seedlings, to be transplanted in the next few years, is the goal of the department. The program is designed to reforest waste land, prevent soil erosion, help in the flood prevention program and to beautify forests, parks and highways.

The accused was driving south in one of three new Pontiac automobiles enroute to the Meyer Motor Sales when he collided with an automobile occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Owen Frazee and Mr. and Mrs. William Burdette, enroute to Sang Run.

Trooper Henline who investigated, said Kingereski sustained head injuries while Mrs. Frazee and Mrs. Burdette were badly bruised. All received medical attention in Oakland.

Several hundred persons, more than the Bolden Funeral Home could accommodate, were in Oakland Monday afternoon to attend the funeral of Mark Roy McCauley, 36, Davis, W. Va., strip miner, who was executed last Friday at Moundsville, W. Va., for fatally shotting a West Virginia State policeman nearly a year and a half ago.

Over a thousand persons came to view the remains, some of them coming in bus loads Sunday from Kitzmiller and Davis. Almost a steady stream of callers kept up from Saturday when the body arrived, until the service was concluded. With the service starting at 2 o'clock on Monday, the Funeral Home was completely filled at 1 o'clock.

Two Assembly of God pastors officiated at the funeral service, Rev. G. W. Burkhart, Elizabeth City, N. C., and Rev. W. C. Long, Mt. Morris Pa. Interment was in the Oakland cemetery.

McCauley was born in Kitzmiller. The family later lived in Crellin for several years before moving to Davis 25 years ago. He was in the U. S Navy for three years and received an honorable discharge in 1932.

McCauley's parents, Rev. and Mrs. R. A. McCauley, and a sister, Mary, reside in Davis. Also surviving are one son, Jackie Lee McCauley, Elkins, W. Va.; a brother, Rev. Paul R. McCauley, Mason City, Ill.; and two other sisters, Mrs. Blanche Hunt, Philadelphia, Pa., and Mrs. Ruel Rosser, St. Louis, Mo.

Cites Progress Of Forest Work Under Recent Act

The progress being made under the Forest Conservancy District Act was cited and the work of Maryland foresters praised by former state Senator Bernard I. Gonder, Oakland, a member of the Commission of State Forests and Parks, as he addressed the foresters on Tuesday at a meeting in Cumberland.

Mr. Gonder pointed out that lumbermen are realizing that the act is designed to bring long-term benefits to all people and will go a long way toward keeping the timberman in business. He said under the plan much timber is given a chance to grow and the old practice of stripping the land is no longer permitted.

He said a number of other states have requested and received copies of the act for consideration in solving some of their own forestry problems.

William A. Parr, district forester, said all operators had registered under the act and that opposition had dwindled to a vanishing point. H. C Buckingham, state forester, declared the problem had been one of education of the land owner, farmer and timberman. "Once these producers realize that they benefit, and their lands benefit in the long run, and at the same time they get the help of trained forestry technicians from the department, they begin to comply with cutting regulations," he said.

PONTIAC

A Product of General Motors

Today, Pontiac announces a series of notable advancements in the car that has already won the wholehearted endorsement of more than a million owners and friends.

Foremost among these advancements is the great General Motors Hydra-Matic Drive—now offered as optional equipment on all Pontiac cars. Pontiac is the lowest-priced car in the world to provide this great mechanical masterpiece—which shifts gears automatically, and completely eliminates the clutch pedal.

Coupled with this great engineering triumph is a striking improvement in beauty and luxury. New exterior smartness extends from the new radiator grille to the streamlined rear bumper.

Interiors, too, are remarkably improved. Upholsteries are more beautiful and are expertly blended to achieve new attractiveness and charm. Instrument panels are finished in a smart design adapted from quarter-sawed mahogany—and an adroit use of chrome moulding adds a deft touch of modernity.

Engine and chassis have been refined wherever possible—but they remain, basically, the same engineering masterpieces which have become synonymous in the automotive industry with goodness and dependability.

There are many more things we could tell you about the new Pontiac, for there are countless improvements which add to its traditional quality and value. But we feel that, for those who know Pontiac, we need only say—

We wish only to add that it is here—on display in our showroom—and that you are most cordially invited to see and inspect it.

Decrease Noted In Savings Bond Sales

Figures showing sale of U. S. Savings bonds in Maryland for the year 1947 were released by Richard H. Dixon, Jr., state director, and a comparison with the 1946 figures shows some decrease.

The total series "E" bonds in the state totaled $43,104,906, in comparison to $50,851,013 for 1946. In Garrett county the total was $230,248 for 1947 in comparison with $351,888 for 1946.

Sale of series "F" and "G" throughout the state totaled $37,179,438, in comparison to $45,936,563 in 1946. Sale of these series in Garrett county amounted to $107,960 in 1947 as against $135,771 in 1946. Total of all bonds in the county was $338,208 for 1947 as compared to $487,659 for 1946.

Savings in all forms is recognized to be a valuable anti-inflationary measure, according to Mr. Dixon and he urged a continued vigorous sale of Savings bonds to serve a two-fold purpose in that it acts to retard inflation while encouraging the habit of thrift.

What Kind of a Lighting Job Are You Doing on Your Farm?

(Our lighting specialists are often asked what type of farmyard lighting we would recommend. Here is an answer that will apply to many farms).

Before daylight and after dark chores will be safer and more pleasant for everyone in the farm home if the path between the house and barn is well lighted.

If the barnyard is small and located fairly near the house, the area can often be lighted with just one lamp high on the outside corner of the barn.

By placing the lamp on an extreme corner as shown in the picture at the top, and at least 15 feet above ground in order to scatter as much light as possible, one 150-watt bulb will light both the end and side area of the barn.

Farm lighting specialists recommend either a projector floodlight which combines the lamp and reflector in one 150-watt unit of weatherproof "oven glass" or a 150-watt inside frosted bulb in a weatherproof metal reflector. The inside frosted bulb, however, will need to be protected with a porcelain lamp holder to prevent breakage from rain or hail.

"Norris-Doxey Law"

Act of May 18, 1937 (50 Stat. 188), 568-b, title 16, U.S.C. To authorize cooperation in the development of farm forestry in the States and Territories and for other purposes.

"That in order to aid agriculture, increase farm-forest income, conserve water resources, increase employment, and in other ways advance the general welfare and improve living conditions on farms through reforestation and afforestation in the various States and Territories, the Secretary of Agriculture is authroized in cooperation with the land grant colleges and universities and State forestry agencies, each within its respective field of activities, according to the statutes, if any, of the respective States, wherever such agencies can and will cooperate, or in default of such cooperation to act directly, to procure and distribute forest trees and shrub planting stock; to make necessary investigations; to advise farmers regarding the establishment, protection, and management of farm forests and shrub plantations and the harvesting, utilization, and marketing of the products thereof; and to enter into cooperative agreements for the establishment, protection, and care of farm or other forest-land tree and shrub plantings within such States and Territories; and, whenever suitable Government owned lands are not available, to lease, purchase, or accept donations of land and develop nursery sites for the production of such forest planting stock as is needed to affectuate the purposes of this act, but not including ornamental or other stock for landscape plantings commonly grown by established commercial nurserymen, and no stock grown in Government and cooperating nurseries shall be allowed to enter regular trade channels. No cooperative reforestation or afforestation shall be undertaken pursuant to this act unless the cooperator makes available wihtout charge the land to be planted. There is hereby authorized to be appropriated annually not to exceed $2,500,00 for carrying out the purpose of this Act.

By means of this act, the Federal Government has cooperated with the various State Governments through financial aid, in the encouragement of good forest practices. The Act appears to be particularly designed to aid and encourage the farmer forest owner. It is estimated that out of 345 million acres of privately owned forest land in the United States, about 76% is in tracts of less than 5000 acres in extent and in this class of ownership about 3¼ million owners are farmers as compared to about one million non-farmer owners.

This law has been in force some time in Maryland and has operated somewhat as follows. Upon application from any woodland owner within the State, a Department of Forests and Parks representative under whose jurisdiction this Act is carried out, will go over the ground in question with the owner or his representative. This examination is for the purpose of getting some idea of the quantity and the quality of the timber. Suggestions and recommendations may be offered for the owners use. It is up to the owner to make use of these as he sees fit. Under this Act there is no compulsory regulation as to how the timberland must be handled, rather the idea is to encourage the owner himself to adopt and put into effect good forest practices. This service is intended for those who want it and there is no charge whatever for this examination with the owner.

In some cases the owner has desired the Department to mark trees to be cut. If such is the case, one day's marking service is rendered free of charge and if additional time is required to cover the tract, a charge is made to cover the marking service as no appropriation is available for this purpose. The Department will be glad to give the one day's free service and then encourage the owner to complete the job himself. Generally, one or two additional men are used in this operation; the owner may supply this help or if the Department has to furnish it, the owner will be charged the actual cost of the helpers.

After marking, the owner will be given a written report on the marking containing a list of the trees which were marked by species and diameter classes.

The Department will make no pretense that it can answer all of the questions which may arise from time to time in connection with this work; however, if such questions arise, an attempt will be made to supply the owner with an answer if possible. The owner himself may have some good ideas on the subject of Forestry which the Department will welcome should he care to pass them on.

Prior to the enactment of this Act, the State of Maryland has been carrying out the above program under the Maryland Plan of Cooperation with Woodland Owners. This program has been in effect for a period of over 4 years.

The thought behind the cooperative Forestry program as set up in the Norris-Doxey Law was the encouragement of good Forestry; not regulation!

To Observe National Heart Week 8 to 14

"A physical check-up is an excellent way for apparently healthy people to observe National Heart Week," in the opinion of Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health. "This is particularly important for people of middle age or older who have not gone to their physicians for complete examinations within the last year.

"National Heart Week will be observed throughout the county during the week of February 8-14, inclusive. This special observance is sponsored by the American Heart Association with the support of the United States Public Health Service. National service organizations and representative medical, pharmaceutical, industrial and business groups are cooperating in the 1948 campaign.

"Heart disease has become an increasingly important public health problem in recent years and is now the leading cause of death in Maryland and in the country as a whole. In this State deaths attributed to diseases of the heart increased by 4 per cent in 1947 as compared with 1946, according to the provisional figures now available.

"Like other degenerative diseases, heart disease has become more prevalent as the number of older people in our population has increased. The last generation has seen marked declines in infant mortality and in deaths from communicable diseases attacking children and young adults, with the result that a larger proportion of people are surviving to the ages affected principally by such diseases.

"A physical examination is urged because heart disease can be treated most effectively if diagnosed in its early stages. If the physician does detect danger signs prompt treatment and restriction of harmful activities can conserve health and prolong life, often for many years.

"Although most deaths from this cause occur in the older age groups, no time of life is secure from the threat of heart disease. Congenital deformities and rheumatic heart disease cause illness and deaths among children and young adults. Heart disease associated with high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries occurs most frequently during the middle years or later. At any age prompt treatment and adjustment to a life of limited activity are essential."

Herbert Hoover urged that Congress cut administration program on aid to Europe to around four billion, and to make it for fifteen months instead of four years.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT.

It Ought To Stop

At a recent White House press conference President Truman was asked this question: "Mr. President, have you given any thought to your 1948 running mate;" To this he naturally — and smilingly — replied: "No comment." There was nothing else for the man to say.

—o—

Perhaps because there is nothing to say is why so many ridiculous things on this subject are being written and said. The two most absurd are: (1) That Secretary of the State George Marshall is likely to be "drafted" for the Democratic vice presidential nomination; (2) that Chief Justice of the Supreme Court Frederick M. Vinson is likely to resign from the bench in order to accept the same nomination. Certainly, it is difficult to think of anything less likely than either. Yet hardly a week goes by that one or the other of these reports does not appear in print.

It really ought to stop—not only because there is such a complete lack of foundation but because it belittles and embarrasses two men doing exceedingly important and difficult work. Also, it tends unnecessarily to confuse the public mind, never any too clear about public men and public affairs, anyhow. Nor does it reflect favorably upon either the intelligence or sincerity of those who sponsor and promote such ideas. It does seem that they must know better.

—o—

Take the case of General Marshall. More than a year ago, when there was strong sentiment for him as President, the General made an unsolicited statement on the matter. It deserves to be recalled. He said: "I will never become involved in political matters, and therefore I am not now, nor will I be available for any political office. The popular conception that no matter what a man says he can be drafted as a candidate would be without any force or effect with regard to me. I never could be drafted." The General said this with such conviction and such emphasis that since then literally no one has suggested him for the presidency. On the contrary, his declaration has been generally accepted as a final and complete elimination as a presidential possibility.

Yet, despite this, here he finds himself constantly being referred to as a vice presidential possibility. Everybody knows he cannot be drafted for first place, but some insist on talking about drafting him for second place. It makes no sense whatever. And the same thing can be said of the "draft" Vinson talk. Chief Justice Vinson occupies the highest and most dignified public office in the country—in some ways higher than that of President. Far removed from politics, he has a lifetime tenure. When and if he retires it is with full salary.

To suggest that the Chief Justice would resign from that high and secure post to accept a vice presidential nomination with certainly no better than an even chance of election is to suggest that there is something very wrong with his head. It is true that one of the Chief Justice's colleagues—Associate Justice William O. Douglas—is also boomed from time to time for the vice presidency, but not many take that seriously either, though it is recognized that Mr. Douglas loves the publicity and does not discourage the idea.

However, that is very different from stepping down from this exalted bench to the lower position of Vice President (and it is a lower position) —even were election assured. So, while Mr. Douglas does not shrink from the suggestion and likes to have his New Deal and "true liberal" friends clamor for him, it is altogether likely he would shrink from this step if ever he has to make the decision whether or not to take it. Certainly, he hardly could step down with any semblance of dignity at the request of unsavory city bosses such as Frank Hague, of New Jersey, and Eddie Flynn, of the Bronx, whom we are now told are sending messages to him through the not too bright ex-Democratic chairman, Mr. Gael Sullivan. The idea is that these politicians will next put pressure on Mr. Truman to ask Mr. Douglas to run. This seems a position a justice of the Supreme Court should not want to occupy—or a President either.

At Mr. Douglas's age—50—it is a great honor to be on the Supreme Bench. It isn't logical to think that a man deliberately would relinquish that honor for the insecurity of a political nomination to an office such as the vice presidency, the chief attraction of which is the ghoulish chance that a President may die in office. Yet, there is a clamor for Mr. Douglas to do exactly that—a "clamor" organized by Mr. Douglas's friends who know from experience it is not offensive to him. Some of his colleagues take a different view. They hold that that sort of publicity damages the dignity of the court, diminishes the esteem in which it is held, clashes with the tradition of its aloofness from politics. And they would like to have it stopped.

To see ourselves as others see us!

What's this? A little chap who's already acquired that rare virtue Robert Burns immortalized?

Hardly! In mirrors, we don't often see ourselves as others see us. We see mainly what we want others to see!

This tendency to observe our own good points develops quite early in life. But the ability to recognize our faults—and then to correct them—that comes only with spiritual growth.

When this young chap goes to Church School he'll begin to gain that ability. Religion helps us to discover our weaknesses and to overcome them. And the Church reveals the divine power that makes self-improvement possible.

After all, no man can honestly measure his own life until he has first glimpsed the perfect life of Christ!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend service regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
International Uniform Sunday School Lessons
By LOUIE D. NEWTON, D. D.

SCRIPTURE: John 6:35-40; 13:3-17; Colossians 1:9-20.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Philippians 2:5-11.

The Nature of Jesus

Lesson for February 8, 1948

ONE of the most discerning comments on the nature of Jesus I have ever heard came from an aged Indian in one of the western states a few years ago when I chanced to be waiting for a friend at the entrance of the reservation. This old gentleman was sitting on a large rock. I tried to speak with him, but he did not seem to understand what I said. Then my friend drove up, and introduced me to the Indian. "This man knows our Jesus," my friend said to the Indian. His face brightened, and he held out his hand to me. "Jesus help Indian love white man," he said. Just so, Jesus helps white man love white man, too.

Dr. Newton

The lesson for Sunday is found in John 6:35-40; 13:3-17; and Colossians 1:9-20, with Philippians 2:5-11 as the devotional reading.

TEACHER AND LORD

TAKE the opening passage, John 13:3-17, where Jesus is pictured as taking a basin of water and towel, kneeling at the disciples' feet, washing their feet, and drying them. Do you not feel the blessed Saviour's very nature flooding the scene?

It requires true love, true humility, to serve in that role. Suppose someone came to render this service to you? And suppose that One was the Son of God?

Why did Jesus wash the disciples' feet? Because he loved them, and he wanted them to love other people enough to do for them anything that would convince them of the love which they had in their hearts for them. Here we see him as the great teacher.

"AS I HAVE LOVED YOU"

BUT Peter draws back. He cannot conceive of Jesus washing his feet. Why? Because Peter did not yet understand the nature of Jesus. The memory verse for Sunday is helpful just here. Jesus said, "Love one another; even as I have loved you," John 13:34.

Peter acted very naturally, even if we may be tempted to say that he acted foolishly. In fact, he acted just about like any of us would have acted under similar circumstances.

But when Jesus explained to Peter what he was about, Peter then asked that Jesus wash not only his feet, but also his hands and head.

THIS IS JESUS

INTERMEDIATES, young people and adults, having carefully read the passage in the 13th chapter of John, where Jesus washes the disciples' feet, will now turn to John 6:35-40, and Colossians 1:9-20, and see the expansion of this great truth over into the expressed will of God for his followers.

A true understanding of this section will lead us to ponder prayerfully the nature of Jesus in the various titles accorded him in the Scriptures — Son of Man, Son of God, Master, Rabbi, Teacher, Physician, Vine, Light, Good Shepherd, Bread of Life, Comforter, Friend and Saviour.

All of these titles he bore, and yet we see him kneeling to wash the feet of everyday people. "Thy gentleness hath made me great." Intermediates and young people will wisely set themselves to the task of identifying the nature of Jesus in the people of their community. Such study will lead you to earnestly seek to walk in his blessed example, loving as he loved.

"WHAT THINK YE OF CHRIST?"

AND now we are ready for the climax of the lesson, when Peter declares, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the Living God," Matthew 16:16.

We cannot long stand in the presence of the story of this lesson and fail to conclude with Peter that none save the Son of God can do such wondrous things —can love as he loved.

Beginning with the Incarnation, we follow through the sweeping claims of Jesus, and we know of a truth that he was very God. Convinced, then, that we are in the presence of God when we contemplate the nature of Jesus, what are we to say? Does not Isaac Watts suggest the answer?

When I survey the wondrous cross,
On which the Prince of glory died,
My richest gain I count but loss,
And pour contempt on all my pride.

Sorrow and love flow mingled down,
Did e'er such love and sorrow meet,
Or thorns compose so rich a crown?

Were the whole realm of nature mine,
That were a present far too small;
Love so amazing, so divine,
Demands my soul, my life, my all!

Marygold Potato Yields Well In Maryland Tests

Yield test conducted with many different potato varieties at Pocomoke, Maryland, this past summer have been summarized by Dr. R. A. Jehle, plant pathologist at the University of Maryland. He reports that Garrett County-grown Marygold potatoes showed the highest yield. Their production of 397 bushels per acre was 149 bushels greater than that from home-grown Irish Cobbler seed and 174 bushels more than the Maine-grown Irish cobbler seed. Katahdin, Sebago, Pontiac and two new seedlings also outyielded Irish Cobbler.

Dr. Jehle reveals that this is the sixth consecutive year in which Marygold has yielded more than any other variety in the tests. It is also the sixth year in which this variety has outyielded Cobblers from 50 to 150 bushels per acre. "Use of the Marygold variety offers growers a method of lowering their costs of production," he adds.

Many growers have expressed a reluctance to adopt the Marygold variety because of its yellow flesh. Dr. Jehle, however, reports that studies conducted in Baltimore and Washington showed that 75 per cent of the people who purchased it had no prejudice against it and would purchase more if they could get them.

The new variety has smooth round tubers with shallow purple eyes. It sets potatoes very early and is especially valuable for home gardens, according to the pathologist. While only a small amount of seed is available at the present, it is hoped that seed growers will soon be producing it in larger quantities.

Dr. Jehle also announced that several new seedlings, showing excellent promise, have been developed and will be included in tests in 1948.

Taxes

The most important legislative action taken by this second session of Congress took place Monday with the passage of H.R. 4790—a bill to reduce income taxes. This legislation was introduced and steered through the House of Representatives by Congressman Harold Knutson, Republican, of Minnesota.

Let's examine the Knutson Bill and see how its provisions would effect you if it is ultimately enacted into law.

First, it would raise the personal exemptions for each taxpayer and each dependent from $500 to $600 a year. This would relieve approximately 6 million persons of their entire income-tax liability.

Mr. Knutson told us that this group suffered most severely as a result of the rise in the cost of living during recent years. The need of these people for tax relief is even greater today.

Second, it would lower taxes for the remaining 54,500,000 by 30 per cent for those with taxable incomes up to $1,000 (after exemptions and deductions), 20 percent on incomes of $1,000 to $4,000 and 10 percent over $4,000.

Third, it would permit husbands and wives to divide their total income (even if the wife has no income) and file separate returns in a lower surtax bracket.

These are the three most important provisions of the bill which would be retroactive to January 1, 1948. In addition, exemption would be granted to taxpayers who are 65 or over. An additional $600 exemption would be given to taxpayers who are blind.

Mr. Knutson went on to say that H.R. 4790, like the two previous bills, which passed the Congress last year but failed to become law because of the Presidential vetoes, seeks to provide relief to the individual income taxpayers from the burdensome taxes which our citizens so cheerfully and patriotically bore during the war. We are now entering the third year of peace and the country is demanding tax relief. Our taxpayers are suffering from a rise in the cost of living due to the inability of production to keep pace with demand.

He went on to say that it is only through tax reduction and retrenchment in Federal spending that we can hope to combat inflation and preserve the American system.

Voice of Democracy

It was a great pleasure to attend the luncheon given by the National Broadcasters Association and the Junior Chamber of Commerce honoring the four winners in the "Voice of Democracy" contest. I was proud to see that one of the winners was Miss Laura Shatto, a junior in the Hagerstown High school. Attorney General Tom Clark presented Miss Shatto with her award. I feel sure that she is headed for an interesting career in radio.

Savage River Dam

I appeared before the Appropriation Committee of the House and spoke in favor of an appropriation for funds to complete the Savage River Dam. It should be finished as soon as possible, as pointed out in statements from those in the city government of Cumberland, the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, the towns of Westernport and Luke, and the Veterans Committee for the Completion of the Savage River Dam.

At the same hearing I told this committee that the Cumberland Flood Control Project is so necessary that I was going to try to have the Appropriations Committee include funds for it in the Omnibus Flood Control Bill.

Under The Dome

Two of my bills, H.R. 3807 and H.J.R. 150, were reported favorably by the Public Lands Committee this week. The first one provides for the opening of Catoctin Recreational Area to the public after being closed during the war and the other calls for the restoration and preservation of the Francis Scott Key home in Washington.

Congressman Sasscer and I introduced a bill to repeal the provision of the District of Columbia Appropriations act of 1948 prohibiting free instruction in the Public Schools of the District of Columbia for pupils residing outside of the District. The Corporation Counsel's interpretation of the word "enrolled" caused much confusion among constituents of our districts and after numerous conferences with Dr. Corning, Superintendent of Schools, the legislation was introduced. The Corporation Counsel advised me that no further action would be taken by the District officials pending the outcome of the bill.

Feeling that a parkway from Great Falls to Cumberland would be a worthwhile project, I introduced H.R. 5155 which would authorize the Secretary of the Interior to have made by the Public Roads Administration and the National Park Service a joint reconnaissance survey of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal and to report to Congress upon the advisability and practicability of constructing a parkway.

THE REPUBLICAN

That Time Question Again

As individuals, we cannot live to ourselves and be of any good use either to ourselves or to those around us.

As towns, either small or large, we cannot disregard the rest of the surrounding community, or the county of which we are a part.

Which brings us once more to the question of Oakland and daylight saving time, and it should be admitted that now is a better time than later to discuss it.

The Mayor and Council approved a motion at their last meeting to put the question up to the voters at the municipal election, as to whether they were in favor of daylight saving or against.

It is our opinion, that unless the question is worded properly, the tabulation of votes will not truly represent the feelings of the people in the matter. There are many who are in favor of daylight saving time if the balance of the county or the state is the same way. But if they vote "yes" to a simple statement "Are You in Favor of Daylight Saving Time for Oakland?" the answer is not going to satisfy the biggest number.

During last year's controversy over the time question, one person remarked that the question for the council to decide was for Oakland alone, and that he didn't care what the rest of the county did.

This surely is not the attitude to take. Oakland depends upon the goodwill of those on the outskirts, for many miles around. The school system will be disrupted if time is not uniform. Whatever is done should be done for the good of the greatest number the action will affect.

Around five hundred will be eligible to vote on this question. No more than 60 percent of eligible voters will bother, which leaves a comparative few to decide a question which will affect several thousands persons who do their buying in Oakland.

We suggest possible phrases: "Are you in favor of Daylight Saving Time regardless of where the balance of the county stands?" "Do you favor uniform daylight time for Oakland and the county?" "Are you against Daylight Saving Time?"

Bloomington Names Citizens' Committee

Albert Howard, Charles Price, Mildred Bevers, Alice Howard and Charles Pattison were selected as a committee of the voters of Bloomington at a meeting last week to serve as a governing body under the partial incorporation plan being considered by the town of Bloomington.

The names of the committee will be listed on a bill to be presented to the next session of the Maryland Legislature. The bill will provide for the collection of a town tax and will give the committee the authority to spend this revenue for street lights and other specified town purposes.

At last week's meeting Senator L. . Fraley outlined the possibilities f receiving funds under the Sherbow eport from licenses, gasoline tax and ice tracks. All incorporated towns f the county are receiving a share f this money which is coming in om these sources.

Bloomington formerly was an inorporated town but a number of ears ago gave up its charter.

According to a proposed bill disibuted at the meeting last week the rea would include the following: eginning for the same at the mouth Savage to near Deep Hole, cutting ross to corner of street at Lot No. , following North street to Parns avenue, approximately 400 feet ove Milton Bever's property, folwing Parsons Avenue to end of wn plot on Potomac river, on an ngle to the Swinging Bridge, then llowing Potomac river to the mouth Savage river, designating the rners of Borderside as points to art surveying the town plot for taxg properties."

Under the proposed bill the Board County Commissioners would be mpowered to levy and cause to be llected from property owners, at e time of the county tax levy, with- the described area of Bloomington, ch amounts not exceeding thirty nts on each one hundred dollars rth of assessable property.

Another meeting of citizens is heduled for the first of March to rk out further details.

Fined on Reckless Driving Charge

Frank Kingereski, of Davis, W. Va., was fined $10 and costs on a charge of reckless driving at a hearing before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch last Friday, as the result of a collision on route 219, at Deep Creek on Friday evening, January 30.

The man did not appear in person but was represented by Herman Meyer, of Davis, owner of the Pontiac automobile which he was driving.

At a hearing before Magistrate Loraditch on February 7 Gustav Heise was fined $100 and costs on a charge of attempting to operate a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, on route 219, on February 6. The charge was prefered by Trooper Glenn D. Folk. Heise was also fined $9.60 and costs on a charge of reckless driving.

Harry E. DeWitt, Sang Run, was also fined $100 and costs on a charge of driving under the influence of alcohol, on route 219, on February 6. The arrest was made by Trooper Robert Henline.

File For Re-elction

Harry L. Stemple and Earl Shartzer, two of Oakland's city councilmen whose terms expire, filed as candidates for re-election on Tuesday, according to Arthur Lawton, clerk. Ralph Pritts, the other member of council whose term expires, filed as a candidate before he left for his Florida trip.

OFFICERS RAID AMVETS CLUB

The first "raid" for quite sometime took place on Monday night at the local Amvets club, with Sheriff Juniper S. Teats and Constable Mark H. Moon forcing themselves into the club when they testified they were refused admission.

Charged with illegally using slot machines and selling liquor, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coffey were given hearings before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch on Wednesday morning. Charges against Mrs. Coffey were dropped and the trial concerned only the charges against Mr. Coffey.

Albert F. George testified he had seen three slot machines in the clubhouse, but when the officers arrived only one was found, which was confiscated. The officers testified they had also confiscated several bottles which were partly filled with various kinds of whiskey, and a bottle of wine, partly filled.

Magistrate Loraditch ruled that because of lack of evidence as to the question of selling liquor, Mr. Coffey was found not guilty on this charge and the slot machine charge was held under advisement.

A. T. Matthews, attorney for Mr. and Mrs. Coffey, pointed out that no one had seen the slot machine being operated, and there was no testimony to show that any person had purchased any whiskey.

Mr. Teats testified that he and Constable Moon had knocked on the Amvets' door, after receiving information and securing warrants, and that Mr. Coffey answered the knock. Mr. Teats said that when he ordered him to "open the door for an officer," he fled toward the back of the room.

Charged With Assault

Magistrate Loraditch also heard a case against Okey Powell, who was charged by Lewis Allen Whetsell with assault and battery. The altercation occurred in the home of Freeman Moats, in Crellin, on February 6.

He was fined $10 and costs and given a sentence of 60 days in jail, the jail sentence, however, being suspended upon good behavior. The arrest was made by Trooper Robert Henline.

Robert Bray, on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, was given a fine, or 11 days in the county jail, and in default of fine, is now serving his sentence. Both these hearings were on February 7.

Corn Test Plot Results Given

A summary of the 1947 corn test plots in Maryland has led to three conclusions, according to Dr. R. G. Rothgeb of the agronomy department, University of Maryland; (1) Hybrid U. S. 13 and related sorts which have been recommended in the past, still give a good account of themselves, (2) several medium early hybrids, especially Ohio W10 showed to good advantage in 1947, and (3) several new hybrids not yet in production continued to give high promise and another year of testing should determine their future value to Maryland farmers.

He explains that the coming of the mechanical corn picker has led farmers to be more interested in having a corn with good stalk quality, strong ear shanks, and early maturity. The Ohio W10 seems to meet these characteristics and is well adapted to the northern half of the state, except at high elevations.

There has been a shift toward smaller, earlier hybrids, according to the agronomist. This has been brought about by the need for getting corn off the land in time for fall seeding. Farmers have been willing to make the change even though it means sacrificing a few bushels in yield.

Another problem being tackled on the research farm is the development of disease resistance particularly to leaf blight.

Preparing To Get Wallace's Name on State Ballot

Lawrence T. Smith, construction engineer for the State Board of Health, was in Oakland Tuesday and Wednesday assisting E. Ray Jones and others with filling out the questionnaire.

Mr. Jones said the soil test on the site was completed which showed the hospital would have a firm foundation.

Executors of the will of George Loar met with the County Commissioners and others interested last night to further decide on answers to the questionnaire.

FIREMEN PLAN NEW BUILDING; DETAILS LACKING

Definite plans for a new building to house the Oakland Fire department, with possibilities for an entirely new community building are under way by the volunteer firemen, it was announced last night following a special meeting of the department.

The executive and building committees met on Monday night, and then presented their recommendations to the firemen last night. Details of the plan are not being announced until the committee from the fire department meets in special session with the Mayor and Town Council.

Talk of a new fire house has been in evidence for several years and when the bond issue for the new community building was passed by the citizens several years ago, it was in the plans to have a part of the building set aside for the fire department. With 1948 bestowing "Leap Year privileges" on eager young ladies, Dan expects a record number of victims on Saturday, February 14. This year's gay Valentines carry messages of affection for many people besides sweethearts. Telephone Company Has Big Expansion Program

With a record increase of 112,000 telephones in Maryland since VJ-Day, the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City announced that by the end of the year it will have spent approximately $37,800,000 on service improvements and expansion in the more than two years since the end of the war in 1945.

A. B. Haneke, Vice President and General Manager of the Company, in a round-up report of C. and P. accomplishments since VJ-Day, said the Company is now serving more than 516,000 telephones and that outstanding progress has been made in meeting unprecedented demands for service and improving existing service. This progress has taken place, according to the C. and P. executive, in spite of serious equipment shortages and other difficulties which were the aftermath of wartime demands.

"The flow of much-needed equipment is increasing steadily, however," Haneke said, "and we are now receiving shipments faster and in greater quantities than ever before."

As of VJ-Day, the C. and P. had a backlog of 38,000 held orders. The continuing high rate of new requests for service, exceeding anything in the past, has held the unfilled orders at a peak and today there are still approximately 25,000 requests on file. Haneke said the Company was exerting every effort to clear up all present held orders by the end of 1948 and he was hopeful that this objective would be reached by then.

In order to improve and expand its service, the Company launched a huge statewide construction program shortly after the war. The overall program calls for total expenditures of $90,000,000.

Everyone knows where this one's going

Tune in HENRY J. TAYLOR, Mutual Network, Mondays and Fridays

So it's a refreshing thing, people tell us, to see one car that quite clearly knows where it's going — and shows it inside and out.

You can't mistake this poised and ready fashion plate for anything but a Buick — you're sure from a glance that you'll find it steady as a battle cruiser and full of ginger as one of Grandma's cookies.

A broad bonnet promises plenty-power—and you get it with such velvety new smoothness that you need to check the battery-charge needle to make sure the engine's running.

You size it up as comfortable. The road's verdict is that it's the most tireless car on the market, what with four coil springs, pillowy low-pressure tires and a wholly new attack on car vibration keeping you fresh through the longest day.

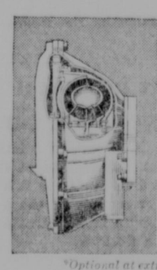
You set a lever, press the gas treadle — and simply steer. The power plant does all the rest — swoops you up from standstill to full pace, accelerates, climbs, slows to a stop, starts up again — all without any gearshifting, either manual or automatic!

So it's pretty plain where this one's heading — it's going even higher in the regard of the motoring public.

Why not see your Buick dealer now and get your order in?



No gears ever shift in DYNAFLOW DRIVE*

In Buick's new Dynaflow Drive, sliding gear transmissions and complex gear-changers are made unnecessary. You simply set a selector lever and step on the gas. The power plant does the rest, adjusting itself to varying driving conditions with utter smoothness. You start up — accelerate — climb hills — cruise — stop — start up again — all without touching the selector lever.

WE STILL TAKE OUR HATS OFF TO YOU, MR. EDISON!

It is our privilege to salute your memories, Mr. Edison, not our duty, for few men in history did more to raise our standards of living, to ease our burdens, and to make life more enjoyable. For the material progress you brought about, we are grateful . . . for your thoughts such as are given below, America will be ever indebted:

GOVERNMENT VS. PRIVATE ENTERPRISE!

"There is far more danger in public monopoly than there is in private monopoly, for when the Government goes into business it can always shift its losses to the taxpayers. If it goes into the power business it can pretend to sell cheap power and then cover up its losses." (How well Mr. Edison foretold the activities of TVA.)

"The Government never really goes into business, for it never makes ends meet. And that is the first requisite of business. It just mixes a little business with a lot of politics and no one ever gets a chance to find out what is actually going on."

". . . Any large extension of the Government into business affairs—no matter what the pretense and no matter how the extension is labeled—will be bound to promote waste and put a curb on our prosperity and progress."

Abraham Lincoln

Each year at this time we pause and think of Abraham Lincoln, a great American.

We try to imagine what this man was really like. Many words have been written about him but I believe the contrast between Lincoln's outward appearance and his strong inner poise and dignity is best described by an English observer when he wrote the following:

"Fancy a man six foot high, and thin out of proportion; with long bony arms and legs, which somehow seem to be always in the way; with great rugged furrowed hands which grasp you like a vise; * * * with a long, scraggy neck and a chest two narrow for the arms at its side.

"Add * * * a head * * * covered with rough, uncombed hair that stands out in every direction; * * * face furrowed, wrinkled and indented, as though it had been scarred by vitriol; a high, narrow forehead, and, sunk deep beneath bushy eyebrows, two bright, somewhat dreamy eyes, that seem to gaze through you without looking at you; a few irregular blotches of black bristly hair in the place where beard and whiskers ought to grow; a close-set * * * mouth, * * * and a nose and ears which have been taken by mistake from a head of twice the size.

"Clothe this figure * * * in a * * * badly fitting suit * * * puckered up at every salient point, * * * put on large, ill-fitting boots, and a puffy hat, * * * and then add to all this an air of strength, physical as well as moral, and a strange look of dignity coupled with all this grotesqueness, and you will have the impression left upon me by Abraham Lincoln."

Because of the opening this year of the Lincoln Papers at the Library of Congress, we can have a better understanding of Lincoln the man.

Many of these heretofore unknown letters indicate that Lincoln was the possessor of sincere thoughtfulness for his fellowmen in all things pertaining to the human side of life.

There were many incidents to prove that Lincoln's ability to handle ruffled men in public life kept him in the White House without serious incident. There was a time when a group of Governors gathered with the purpose of asking the president to resign. This was soon after a decisive defeat at Second Bull Run. Things were going very badly and the blame was placed on Lincoln.

When a delegation called on the President he took the situation in hand and sided with them, thereby taking the steam out of their boiling engines. Instead of asking for his resignation, the Governors presented a united front in back of the President.

And it wasn't always true that every Republican backed President Lincoln with great devotion and admiration. In December of 1862, after another defeat in the War between the States, a group of Republican Senators met in caucus to discuss the question of, "doing all in their power to break him down". The President met with the Senators and never once lost control of the situation. Matters were discussed, no great explosion occurred, no open hostility and no one lost face. The good results were due largely to Lincoln's skilled tact and sincere appreciation for the opinions of others.

Looking at Abraham Lincoln's public utterances we can get a slant on his political views of the day which, strangely enough, seem quite appropriate and timely for today.

"As I would not be a slave, so I would not be a master. This expresses my idea of democracy. Whatever differs from this, to the extent of the difference is no democracy." That was from a letter, August 1, 1858.

He also said: "We can succeed only by concert. It is not 'Can any of us imagine better?' 'can we all do better?'". He said this in his Annual Message to Congress, December 1, 1862.

In a speech in Chicago, Illinois, 1858, Mr. Lincoln said: "I believe each individual is naturally entitled to do as he pleases with himself and the fruit of his labor, so far as it in no wise interferes with any other man's rights."

Probably the greatest of all of his thoughts were expressed in his words at Gettysburg on November 19, 1863.

"That this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

Under The Dome

I was advised by the National Park Service that the actual permission had been granted the Washington Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America to remove the paddles from Lock 44 at Williamsport if they are usable and if not permission to remove those at Lock 51 at Hancock was granted. These paddles are to be used at the new lake on the Boy Scout Reservation near Hagerstown. I'm always glad to serve the Scouts and their leaders in the fine work they are doing.

I have been very much interested in the work of the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin and their request for federal funds to carry on their work. The Bureau of the Budget approved a grant of $9,000 but this amount was taken out by the Appropriations Committee. When the Independent Offices Appropriations Bill was before the House an amendment was offered restoring $5,000 to this agency. The present expenses of the Commission are distributed among the states of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Virginia, Maryland and the District of Columbia and I was gratified that the House saw fit to grant federal funds to this agency.

Upon learning that quite a few discarded ships from World War I are now lying in a Maryland cove opposite Quantico, Virginia, I got in touch with the Maritime Commission requesting information. I would like to know whether or not these hulls contain any iron or steel which could be salvaged for use during the scrap metal shortage.

Being very much interested in veterans cases I was happy to have two cases successfully concluded this week. One was a refund of $595.00 for Class E allotment deductions which were never paid and the other was an appeals case which was allowed. In that case the veteran was overpaid in his subsistance allowance through no fault of his own and the return of the overpayment of $255.00 was waived. These cases had been hanging fire for some time and I am certainly glad that settlement has been made.

Committee work has been active this week—The Public Service Sub-Committee of the House District Committee, and of which I am chairman held an Executive meeting reporting favorable on H. R. 4849 the Arizona Avenue Freeway Bill. I also attended meetings of the Sub-Committee on Roads of the Public Works Committee.

I spoke to the members of the Bethesda Chamber of Commerce at their dinner meeting this week. My talk was on "Small Business' and I also discussed the proposed research hospital and laboratory in connection with the National Institute of Health. I also had the pleasure on the same evening of meeting with the members of the American Legion at Bethesda.

Asserts Opposition To Forestry Act Is Strong Within County

Editor, The Republican:

In the Cumberland News of Feby. 4th I have noted an item under the heading, "Conservancy act becomes model for other States". In this article, Mr. Gonder, talking to the District Foresters, stated, "Early opposition to the act, which regulates the cutting of timber in Maryland, seems to be dissolving, and lumbermen are realizing that the act is designed to bring long-term benefits to all the people."

I am very much surprised at this, for Mr. Gonder knows, not long ago, he attended a meeting at which there was over six hundred farmers and land owners present. At that meeting Mr. Gonder attempted to explain why he fathered this law in the Maryland Legislature. He had great difficulty in getting the protesting land owners to accord him a hearing. He was completely overwhelmed by the bitterness of those present and he made haste to promise that he would be willing to work with any interested group of our citizens to change some of the objectionable features of the Law. Senator Gonder should know, he lost his bid for re-election, because of the part he played in the enactment of this law, yet here he has talked as though he is completely unaware of all that has transpired, and he attempts to make every body believe, that the people are satisfied with the law. Surely Mr. Gonder knows the law has never been enforced because of the opposition that it has met and is meeting up to the present time. Only recently a strong movement of associated farmers and land owners has come into being because of this very act which Mr. Gonder is the Father of.

Instead of the Lumbermen realizing that the law will bring long-term benefits, it is becoming, increasingly evident that the restrictions, red tape, added expense, bureaucracy and resultant waste, will destroy our economy and rob us of our freedom. The farmer and land owner realizes that the regimentation, provided in the law, would greatly depreciate, if not entirely wipe out the value of his property. Instead of opposition disolving, the average citizen is growing more aware of the fact, that this law constitutes a serious threat to our way of life, and that it will destroy his right to manage his own property.

C. H. Shaffer Praises McDonogh School

Washington 10, D. C.
February 5, 1948

To the Editor of The Republican:
Dear Sir:

I was greatly pleased with your recent announcement that Garrett County had been invited to enter candidates for scholarships in the McDonogh School. I was there as a teacher for two years, 1896-98, when I was called away as my National Guard regiment was called into active service. Since then I have been in close touch with the school. I am not exaggerating when I say that it has a national reputation as being one of the finest boy schools in the country.

The school is located on a fine old farm of over 800 acres, in Green Spring Valley not far from Baltimore. The farm is operated in a strictly up-to-date manner and in addition there are fine shops where boys are taught useful trades. The academic standard required of a boy is very high but there is ample opportunity for recreation. Those who successfully complete the course have no difficulty in entering college afterward. In my time the school had only scholarship students whose entire expenses were paid from the endowment fund, but with the advent of Major Lamborn, the present principal, a plan was worked out by which pay students could be taken on. In response to this change there have always been more applicants than could be taken care of although the fees charged pay students are rather high. No distinction is made between scholarship and pay students.

That which made the most lasting impression on me was the high moral tone maintained by the school. Honest thinking was always demanded, no solution without explanation was accepted and nothing but the truth in any proposition would satisfy. The alumni now scattered over the country are very clannish and very loyal. The molding of the school spirit was the work of the "Grand Old Man", Duncan C. Lyle, of Lexington, Va., who died a few years ago at the age of 92. He was one of the original corps of teachers which Col. Allen brought with him when the school was opened in the late seventies. He was a marvelous teacher who had a way of presenting things which left an indelible impression on everyone who came in contact with him. One of my fondest memories in my close association with him. I am satisfied that the pattern set by the Old Man is maintained by Major Lamborn. I certainly hope that some boy or boys may be found acceptable, for it is a golden opportunity.

Sincerely,
Charles H. Shaffer

Notice To Our Members!

According to press reports the Local Forestry Board, meeting behind closed doors with Mr. Gonder and some salaried employees of the forestry department, have adopted a regulation that would virtually stop the further cutting of mine props on privately owned lands in Garrett County.

The Board and Mr. Gonder have taken this action in the face of strong opposition, and protests from hundreds of our interested citizens. They have had ample warning that a regulation of this nature would result in great damage and hardships to many of our people. Pretending that they have given special consideration to the fact that this is a mine timber section, they have, nevertheless, attempted to fasten down the very size trees from which we get fifty to sixty percent of our out-put. In addition their main aim here is to establish controls by which they can regulate all cutting. Such regulation, if inforced, would destroy the value of our timber crops, in that it would make the cutting of mine props here unprofitable.

The Board and Mr. Gonder must take full responsibility for this unwarranted assault against the community. Their action is an unwarranted interference against individual enterprise and private ownership of property. It is a sure road to Socialism and the Police State.

This organization is prepared to resist the inforcement of this regulation on the grounds that such public controls over privately owned lands is illegal, unconstitutional, and ill advised. To that end we respectfully ask the full cooperation and support of all land owners in the County.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT.

THE BAD BOSSES SAVED US

The pumped-up excitement concerning Mr. Henry Wallace and his third-party candidacy having measuarbly subsided and most of the hysteria now vanished from the comment, it is possible to see more clearly the facts about the man, his support and the general effect upon the political situation.

One of these facts is that a great deal of nonsense has been written on the subject. For example, it distinctly is not true that the Republicans—at least those with any grasp on political realities—are greatly exalted by the Wallace candidacy. And, it is true that the regular Democrats are deeply depressed. On the contrary, most experienced men in both parties are agreed not only that Mr. Wallace will carry no state but incline to believe that he will not poll enough votes in any state to affect the result.

To some extent this conviction is based on the record of the LaFollette Progressive party in 1924. The elder La Follette, an eloquent and formidable senator, made a flaming campaign of the "common man." He was in every way a bigger and better balanced candidate than Wallace. He had a great deal more labor-union support than Wallace. The radicals and crackpots all rallied behind him and his campaign was well financed. Two weeks before election scared politicians believed he would carry thirteen states and throw the election into the House of Representatives. On election day he carried his own State of Wisconsin but did not poll in any other state enough votes to affect the result.

Not only is there no state which Mr. Wallace possibly could carry but no one believes he will get anything like the total of 5,000,000 votes cast for Senator La Follette. Take the State of New York, where Mr. Wallace will be supported by the Communist party, a communist-controlled American Labor party, the Communist-inclined labor leaders and the extreme radicals generally. Wild apprehension has been expressed that insures Mr. Truman's defeat, which is ridiculous. Mr. Truman very easily may lose New York and easily be defeated. But, it will not be because of Mr. Wallace. Those who think so apparently forget that the Democrats lost New York in 1946, when every element, including the Communists now behind Mr. Wallace; the so-called "liberal party," which had split away from the American Labor party; the American Labor party, the CIO, the AFL and every other labor faction were lined up against the Republican ticket.

They put everything they had into the fight and Governor Dewey murdered them, carrying the State by 760,00 majority. In 1944 it was clear that, with Roosevelt running and a war on, the Democrats could not carry the State without the votes controlled by the ALP and the Liberal party. In 1946 it was clear they could not even come close to carrying it with those votes. There is no reason to believe the situation has changed in two years—rather the reverse. In brief, the practical politicians, despite the ballyhoo, credit Mr. Wallace with an insignificant personal following and believe his candidacy is of negligible importance so far as votes are concerned.

From the patriotic standpoint they deplore the manner in which he is playing into the hands of the Communists here and abroad, but Democrats and Republicans alike know he is making it easier for them to collect money for their 1948 campaign, and are convinced that when it is over the extraordinary weakness of the elements back of him, compared to the noise they make, will be usefully revealed. Incidentally, it is interesting to note that the Wallace candidacy has created more bitterness among the advanced New Dealers—the "True Liberals" of the old Roosevelt regime—than in any other group. From these a flood of denunciation and invective has come. They have excelled themselves in the violence of their epithets. There is hardly a thing they have not called this man they so loved once.

For the most part, everybody else in politics is calm. The Democrats are not dismayed and the Republicans are not fools enough to think that now they can "win with anybody." So far as the great non-political public is concerned, those capable of thought and possessed of memory, listening to and reading the gibberish that comes from Mr. Wallace and realizing the sinster nature of his backers, must shudder when they recall by what a narrow margin this man missed being President of the United States.

Certainly it was not the late Mr. Roosevelt's fault he is not President today. In 1944 Mr. Roosevelt was all set to renominate him for Vice President. He ditched him only under great pressure. It was those Democratic and not very savory city bosses—Frank Hague, Eddie Kelly and Eddie Flynn—who forced him to give way, solemnly assuring him that Wallace would cost him millions of votes in the big cities if he insisted on naming him. Characteristically, though he had told Henry he wanted him again as his running mate, he did not insist. A lot of hard things have been said about these three tough old city bosses—and mostly they deserved what was said—perhaps more. In view, however, of the unmitigated calamity from which they saved the American people in this instance, one is disposed to forgive them all the sins they have committed in the past and any they may commit in the future.

Sell One Hen - - - Buy Three Early Chicks!

It takes as much feed to "keep" one unprofitable hen as it does to raise three chicks to pullet age. With egg prices dropping no poultryman can afford to feed low-producing hens. Indications are that eggs will be in good demand next fall.

Now is the time to sell those unprofitable hens and buy early chicks that will be in production next fall. It will be the early hatched chick that will pay dividends next fall. Sell one hen, buy three early chicks. Start those early chicks on Tuxedo and start yourself on the "Profit Road".

The Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, presiding Bishop of the Episcopal Church, who is asking Episcopal Church members to give a million dollars in 1948 for the relief of needy peoples in war-devastated countries of Europe and Asia. The Church raised a million dollars for this purpose in 1947, and will attempt to give a similar amount in 1948 and a third million in 1949. Relief is given through Church World Service in Europe and the National Christian Councils in the Oriental countries.

Episcopal Church To Take Part In Radio Nation-wide Hook-up

On Sunday, February 29, substantially every member of the Episcopal church will hear the voice of their presiding bishop, the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, by means of an unusual use of the radio.

In Oakland members of the congregation of St. Matthew's parish will sit in their pews and following the regular morning prayers and exactly at 11:32½ a. m. the presidingbishop's voice will be heard, telling of the needs of war-devastated countries in Europe and Asia, and urging Episcopal church members everywhere to accept their plain duty and privilege of helping these suffering millions. The same scene and the same message will be heard in thousands of Episcopal churches all over the country.

The Episcopal church gave more than a million dollars in 1947 for world relief and it intends to raise the same amount or more in 1948.

At the end of Bishop Sherrill's ten-minute radio address, Rev. Austin F. Schildwachter, rector of St. Matthew's church will conclude the service with an opportunity for both immediate gifts and short-time pledges.

This is the first time radio has been used by any church in such a way, to convey a message to its whole constituency at one time.

Power of Holy Spirit

Lesson for February 15, 1948

TWO decades ago, the famous preacher, Rev. Reginald J. Campbell, declared, "The 18th Century may be characterized as the Century of God the Father; the 19th Century as the Century of God the Son; and we are praying that the 20th Century may be experienced as the Century of the Holy Spirit." That was a brave and hopeful prayer. May we claim the same hope.

Dr. Newton

"These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you. But the Comforter, which is the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you," John 14:25 and 26. Go on to read Acts 2:1-4; 3:1 to 4:31; Galatians 5: 22-26 and you will have the Scripture passages for Sunday's lesson, with Ephesians 6:10-20 as the devotional reading.

PETER ACTS BRAVELY

IN THE passage in Acts we have the picture of Peter and John about to enter the temple on the Sabbath, when suddenly they find themselves confronted by a sick beggar. What could they do with him and for him? He was asking for money.

Peter said, "Silver and gold have I none, but such as I have give I thee, in the Name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk!"

The lame man stood up, leaping and walking and rejoicing, and went into the temple with Peter and John. Only the power of God can do such mighty works. Peter was not afraid to tackle the man's needs, since he relied upon God's wisdom and strength.

WHY PETER WAS BRAVE

PETER is often pictured as a very quick-tempered person. He was usually the first to speak in every situation. He was the leader of the group—a natural leader of men. But Peter did not assume to meet the poor man's need in his strength. Only "in the Name of Jesus."

When we forget self and rely upon the Holy Spirit for direction, we are enabled to meet and master any situation. Juniors will do well to remember these words, "Not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith the Lord of hosts," Zechariah 4:6.

Junior boys and girls can meet life's tasks in the same assurance in which Peter dealt with the lame man, if we rely upon the Holy Spirit.

SECRET OF CHRISTIAN POWER

"YOU shall receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you." Acts 1:3. That is the secret of the Christian's power. It does not originate elsewhere. It is God's gift to those who implicitly trust in him.

This great truth is particularly appealing to intermediates and seniors. Young people are keenly sensitive to the times in which they live. We live today in an hour of unprecedented power — atomic energy! But all of the marvels of modern science have not been able to give young people the sense of mastery. Rather, we are afraid. The scientists themselves tell us that this is history's most precarious age.

Only when the Holy Spirit is regnant in our hearts can we possess the power of which Paul is writing in Galatians, when he says, "But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance."

WHEN WE HAVE THAT POWER

WHY, then, should we ever be weak, when we may always possess that power? This is the most searching question for any Christian. The answer will lead us to certain inevitable admissions. We become weak spiritually when we forget to pray, when we forget to read God's word, when we allow the interests of this world to blind our eyes and deafen our ears to the reality of God's presence.

The Holy Spirit will dwell within us, if only we will welcome him. He will not come unbidden; he will not remain unwanted. He cannot be made secondary. Either he guides or surrenders the reins to us.

Our lives are spiritually strong and healthy when the Holy Spirit governs. Our work is effective, our words are compelling. We speak not our wisdom, but the wisdom of God. We go not in our strength, but in his strength.

Many Gardners Are Starting For First Time in '48

Requests for garden information arriving at the University of Maryland indicate that some 10 to 20 per cent of the people planning gardens this year have had no previous experience.

Edward K. Bender, vegetable crop specialist, states that many are young couples just getting started in housekeeping and seeking a way to lower their food budgets.

"One definite way of giving them help," he points out, "is to make available garden plots which may be reached from housing projects." He reports that officials in charge of two veteran housing areas in the vicinity of the University of Maryland have already taken steps to provide garden plots for their residents.

He emphasized the opportunity for the average family to not lower its food cost but to improve its diet and get a better appreciation of the value of fresh vegetables. "For the country as a whole, we are eating more and better food than ever before, but many American families are not eating the kinds and qualities of foods that make for optimum health. Garden produce is important in overcoming this 'hidden hunger' and will replace grains and cereals needed for shipment to Europe."

Bender urged beginners to take steps now to locate their garden space and then "see your county Extension agents for free bulletins that give in detail the information you need."

TABLELAND FARMING

A weekly discussion devoted to the Land and Farms of Garrett County, edited by John Carter, County Agent, and W. W. Nace, Soil Conservationist.

Alfalfa In Garrett County

Right now it doesn't look much like Spring, but a lot of seed catalogs are out, and that is a sure sign that warm weather is expected sooner or later. One interesting item in the farm seed lists is that Alfalfa seed is now cheaper than Red Clover. Farmers who can grow Alfalfa should take advantage of this by planting more of the longer-lived legume.

If you have not grown Alfalfa before, it is fairly simple to find out your chances of success. Alfalfa will grow on any of our soils that are well-drained and that have been sufficiently limed. As you know, Alfalfa requires a sweeter soil than does Red Clover. The best way to find out about the lime is to have the soil tested, and the best way to get a test is to take a sample to the County Agent's office. There it will be forwarded to College Park; and you will get a report showing acidity, approximate amounts of Nitrogen, Phosphorus, Potash, Organic Matter, and some of the minor soil elements. The report will also include fertilizer and lime recommendations. The sample should be about pint-sized, a mixture from the plow layer in several parts of the field.

Quick tests for lime requirement only can be made in the field by Soil Conservationists, the County Agent, and other agricultural workers. But please don't ask us to make a special trip just to test a field for lime. You can get a better test by sending a sample to Mr. Carter. And when you do, state what crop will be planted and what has been on the field for the past two or three years.

All soil tests indicate acidity or alkilinity in terms of the Ph reaction. A Ph of 7.0 is neutral. Above 7.0 is alkiline and below is acid. All of our local soils are naturally acid. Some of them, before liming, show a Ph as low as 4.0, which is very acid. To grow good Alfalfa, the soil should have a Ph of 6.5 to 7.0, although some Alfalfa may be used in mixtures if the reaction is from 6.0 to 6.5.

Agronomists agree that Alfalfa should be seeded with a grass, and most of them recommend a little Red clover and Alsike clover in the mixture. If the soil is well-drained and the Ph is 6.5 or above, a good mixture is Alfalfa 10 pounds, Alsike clover 2 pounds, Red clover, 3 pounds and Orchard grass, 7 pounds. Amounts are in pounds per acre. Timothy may be used instead of the Orchard grass, although there are a number of reasons why Orchard grass is better in the Alfalfa mixture.

For a field where Alfalfa has never been grown, and where the Ph is from 6.0 to 6.5, or where there is a slight tendency toward wetness, the following mixture would be better: Alfalfa 6 pounds, Alsike clover, 3 pounds, Red clover 4 pounds, and Orchard grass, 7 pounds or Timothy, 6 pounds.

Be sure to get Grimm or one of the other Variegated kinds of Alfalfa. Common Alfalfa is too subject to heaving and winter kill for use in Garrett County. Ranger and Buffalo are two fairly new strains. Both are in the variegated class and should do well here, but the seed is still expensive. The most commin practice is to seed in Spring, with oats or in wheat. We know of a few local farmers who have had good success with seedings made in August, without a nurse crop. If this is done the ground should be plowed in July and the seed put in as early in August as moisture conditions permit.

The seed should be inoculated. The inoculant is cheap and easy to use. It is worth-while even if you have had Alfalfa in the field before. If you want to mow the field a year or two and then pasture it, add a half pound of Ladino clover to the mixture. Use about 500 pounds of 3-12-6 with the seeding. If you keep the stand longer than two years, top-dress it every second year with 400 pounds of 0-14-7.

Growing Alfalfa is good soil conservation because you can keep the soil covered longer by a high-quality forage crop.

and the Road by the side of the Cross

Not uncommon today in Mexico is the wayside shrine. Here the weary traveler may kneel and say a prayer. Here, too, the peasant and the peasant's children have a constant reminder of the Faith by which they live.

But there is a greater need than the Cross by the side of the Road. Man needs a Road by the side of the Cross.

For all the world the season of Lent is such a road. It brings us face to face with spiritual realities . . . with the divine love manifested in Jesus Christ . . . with the human hatreds that nailed Him to a Cross.

Yes, Lent is our Road by the side of the Cross. The Church is beckoning each of us—weary wanderers—to pause along the way of life . . . to worship the Christ who died for men . . . to discover anew the spiritual strength that has flowed through the centuries from the Cross.

HOLY BIBLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Get Rid of Those Rats . . . .

For the past two or three weeks we have noticed articles in West Virginia newspapers about a rat killing day. Besides a rat's destructiveness we learned from an editoral that "Rats are smart people. If you start fighting them they simply move over to your neighbor." So concentrated effort to get rid of them was urged.

When we learned this week that March 1 to 6 was termed "Rat Death Week" all over Maryland we suspected that maybe the West Virginia rats had learned of the campaign over there and were crossing state lines and that Maryland was starting the campaign in self-defense.

County Agent John Carter claims this is not so and that Maryland already had over a million rats of its own, which was problem enough.

In the news story this week about the campaign it is pointed out how much a single rat can destroy within one year. Rats are most expensive to have around ones property and the battle against them should be waged in earnest, to help conserve food, and to save money.

Full information is being distributed to the 2,000 farmers all over the county and people in the town are asked to join in the warfare.

Then when we get rid of these rodents, we can turn our attention to getting rid of a lot of human "rats" who are attempting to destroy our country by "boring from within."

Both of these problems need our immediate attention.

Local Persons Give 251 Pounds Relief Materials In January

Of the 1,800 pounds of relief materials received at the Church World Service Center at New Windsor, Md., during January from the people of Maryland, Garrett countians gave 251. Of that amount, 185 pounds came from Oakland.

The same month saw nearly a million pounds of shoes, clothing, food and household articles, processed at the Center, leave the ports of Baltimore and New York to ease suffering in China, Japan, Italy and the French, British and American zones in Germany. Distribution will be through the churches without regard to race, religion or politics but purely on a basis of need.

Church World Service combines the overseas relief efforts of 21 of the major Protestant and Orthodox churches in America.

Besides the Oakland gifts, contributions were received from Grantsville, Jennings and Mt. Lake Park. Total January receipts at the Center were 255,000 pounds. The Maryland-Delaware Council of Churches and Christian Education has started a drive to secure a million pounds of relief goods for Church World Service before Easter.

Yough Waters Are Loosed by Dynamite

With the west side of Friendsville in danger of being flooded as the result of ice in the Youghiogheny river.

The river was dynamited at two places last Friday night under the supervision of Mayor William F. Frazee, members of the town council and the Community Fire company.

Ice had formed a blockade from the bridge to the Methodist church, backing up a large amount of water and all the west side would have been flooded in a short time. Water was already in cellars along the river. Officials also thought that the Yough bridge would have been carried away had not the dynamiting been done.

Bear Creek waters in the Friendsville area overflowed early Saturday morning and many cellars of homes in the north end of town were full of cakes of ice and water. There were several inches of water on the first floor of the home of Thomas Love. Mrs. Love and daughter were taken by Thomas Sines in a jeep to the home of Lloyd Schroyer.

Large cakes of ice were all around the homes of Fred Lowdermilk, Mrs. Walter Coddington, Chris Sines, Ralph Sines, Charley Bowman and all along the road leading to that area.

Gets Bermuda Trip

A vacation for three weeks to take a criuse in tropical waters with Bermuda as the destination, with no worry about expenses, was the good fortune of F. Carlton Chance, manager of the Kinney's Shoe Store in Uniontown, Pa. Chance was recently announced a winner of a nation-wide shoe sales contest.

Joining 16 other shoe store managers of the company stores he left for New York where the group will embark on the vacation cruise to Bermuda with stops along the Atlantic seaboard.

Chance is a son of Mrs. K. O. Chance, Mt. Lake Park; and a brother of Mrs. C. H. Browning and Mrs. B. F. Selby, of Oakland.

First on Spring Program Is Dinner on Tuesday, March 9

Plans for several functions of the Oakland Booster club, the first to be a dinner meeting at the William-James hotel on Tuesday, March 9, were made at a meeting of the members of the Board of Directors at the Coca-Cola plant on Tuesday evening.

Dusic said money was appropriated for two showers for the local high school gym at the last meeting of the County Commissioners. Senator L. M. Fraley and James Lyons, chairman of the club shower committee, appeared and made the request. The showers will be installed this summer.

Dusic announced he had also contacted Robert "Red" Brown, basketball and football coach at Davis and Elkins college, to be the guest speaker at the April meeting of the club.

The club has secured the speakers who will participate independently this year, and Dr. Baumgartner stated they were experts in their respective fields. He pointed out also that ordinarily the fees for the appearance of these men would be too excessive for the local forum, but due to the fact that the series will be held as a benefit for the Garrett County Memorial hospital building fund, certain concessions have been made in their charges which makes their local appearance possible.

The truck is an International, and must be taken to Baltimore for shelving, painting and lettering.

It is expected the bookmobile will be in operation in about three weeks. Details concerning the schedule of visits, and where stations are to be located, are being worked out, Mr. Rathbun said.

Farm Placement Service Returned To State Operation

The Maryland Farm Placement Service was returned to state operation on January 1, 1948, the State Extension Service having relinquished control to the Maryland Department of Employment Security, Employment Service Division, it was announced by Russell S. Davis, chairman of the department of Employment Security. This service was transferred to the Maryland State Extension Service as an emergency measure during the war, and had as its director, Dr. T. B. Symons.

The demand for farm labor in 1948 will probably be the greatest in peace-time history, according to Mr. Davis, and it is anticipated that less labor will be available for agriculture as the new year begins, than at any time since the end of the war.

Provision is being made to serve agricultural workers, farmers, and food processors throughout Maryland. Key personnel have been designated to be responsible for farm labor, and local offices are preparing to meet anticipated needs.

D. A. Tucker will be the supervisor of the farm labor program for the State of Maryland. Mr. Tucker, a World War I veteran, was educated at Iowa State College. He will make his headquarters in Room 2035 O'Sullivan building in Baltimore, and visit county offices in Maryland as required.

A meeting was held in Baltimore on February 13, to fam iliarize managers of employement offices in Maryland with the program. Milburn W. Mann, manager of the employment service division, attended this meeting.

John H. Carter, county farm agent, and the staff of the local office of the State Extension service is cooperating with the program in Garrett county, Mr. Mann said.

The Oakland office of the Employment Service Division will continue to supply labor for the two canneries in Garrett county as has been the custom.

Persons who wish to work on farms are requested to visit the local office. An effort will be made to place these persons in Garrett county should their services be needed on farms.

Veterans' Housing Survey Is Planned

Preliminary plans for a survey to determine the housing needs of Garrett county veterans, will be formulated at a meeting of Garrett county officials and officers of service organizations with James P. Lazzati, Baltimore, executive director for the Maryland Veterans' Housing committee, next Tuesday.

Thomas F. Conlon, Cumberland, service officer for the Maryland Veterans' commission, will accompany Lazzati on the tour of the county.

They are expected to meet also with the Garrett County Commissioners to ask their cooperation in the program.

To Address Rotary

Rev. Luther L. Hare, pastor of the Lutheran Church in Oakland, will be the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Oakland Rotary club on Friday evening.

RATS ARE GIVEN DEATH SENTENCE

Concentrated Campaign Against Rodents Being Conducted March 1 to 6 in County

Garrett county is cooperating with the rest of the counties in the state in conducting a "rat death week" campaign, and every person is being given an opportunity to participate if rats are causing them trouble. The campaign is under the direction of the Extension Service.

There are an estimated two million rats in Maryland, and three-fourths of them are on farms, according to Theodore L. Bissell, Extension entomologist.

According to John H. Carter, county farm agent, best estimates are that one rat will eat and destroy one hundred pounds of corn per year or one hundred fifty pounds chicken feed, indicating that it is expensive to feed rats. Thirty-six rats will eat and destroy one ton of feed per year.

Three steps are being outlined in the campaign—to kill rats with poison and trap, take away food and shelter, rat proof all buildings.

Mr. Carter said plans are being completed to have available Antu poison at many sections of the county, to be sold at cost to parties desiring to participate in the rat control program. Letters are being sent to all farmers with an order card enclosed. If the card is returned to the County Agent requesting poison, it will be at the designated place on the day specified on the order card.

Grantsville—Harold Miller's Southern States store.

Friendsville—Harvey Friend's Clover Farm Store.

Accident—Broadwater's Store.

Mt. Lake Park—Grange Supply Center.

Oakland—Southern States Oakland Service.

Urges Cooperation

Governor W. Preston Lane today urged residents to cooperate in the campaign. "According to estimates, rats eat and otherwise destroy grain, foods and other valuable commodities in the amount of 840 million each year in Maryland," he said.

"If the farming community of the state and residents of our rural areas will cooperate to the limit of their ability in waging this campaign of eradication, the saving in grain alone will go a long way toward easing the feed-grain shortage that faces Maryland.

Commissioners Hear Road Delegations

One road listed for reconstruction by the County Commissioners and the County Roads department was omitted in last week's account.

It was listed in the report as one mile, Oakton South road.

As the result of the account of the road construction and reconstruction program in last week's issue of The Republican, several road delegations were before the Board of County Commissioners this week in regard to conditions in their various localities.

A delegation also appeared asking for an additional room at the Swanton school and was advised nothing could be done until the school survey was made. Commissioners declared they felt the needs would be taken care of after the survey was completed.

Bids were opened in regard to the sale of a crusher and power unit by the County Commissioners, and Charles L. Glass, Deer Park, offered $3,250 for them, which was accepted. The Crellin Sand company had offered $1,505. H. S. Friend also offered $75 for a Dodge dump truck, but the bid was rejected.

Rains and Warm Days Remove Ice and Snow

Heavy rains and warm days of the past week joined to rid Garrett county of most of the snow and ice that has covered the ground for several weeks

Heavy rains occurred on Friday night and Saturday, causing streams to rise. Waters of Wilson Creek were about two feet deep on Third street and water seeped into the Arthur Savage garage for a short time.

The high reading of the week was 62, on the 18th, with the low being 18 on the 15th. An inch of rain fell on the 14th, with over half an inch on the 12th.

The weatherman predicted colder weather for the week-end.

Auto Tag Applications Now Being Mailed

1948 Motor Vehicle tag applications are now being mailed to passenger car owners throughout the State. Motor trucks and other types of applications will follow as rapidly as they are processed by the Department of Motor Vehicles.

The issuance of tags began on Monday, February 16. Under the new permanent registration plan now in effect, motorists will continue to use their same large tags. Renewal will consist of attaching small inserts to these plates. This year the insert will be black with silver numerals "49." It will carry a small serial number for identification purposes. Current Maryand tags will expire on March 31.

W. Lee Elgin, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, urges motorists to sign application, fill in present large tag number in spaces indicated, check the printed address for correctness and mail check or money order for tag fee as indicated on the face of the application.

Arthur H. Green, county treasurer, said his office would begin to issue auto license tags about March 1st.

Licenses may be issued for auto mobiles, pick-up and panel trucks, and any vehicles under 2,500 pounds.

Commissioners Will Sponsor Application For Hospital Funds

Action Was Necessary Before Any Federal Funds Would Be Available

The Board of County Commissioners, at its meeting this week passed a motion to sponsor the application for Federal Funds for the construction of the Garrett County Memorial hospital, in accordance with the regulations.

The Federal government required a specified sponsor, and after last week's meeting the Commissioners had requested a little time before going on record to that effect.

The previous board of Commissioners had agreed to the stipulation of the George Loar will, in that it would be responsible for the "maintenance and support of the hospital under a joint control of county commissioners and an advisory committee of five persons. The formal acceptance was made necessary within a year following Mr. Loar's death, which occurred on January 27, 1946.

As a result of that will there was provided $160,000 for actual construction and equipping of the hospital, $10,000 for landscaping of the hospital grounds, and $5,000 for support and maintenance during the period immediately following completion and its opening.

More than $100,000 was raised locally in definite contributions or responsible pledges.

At the meeting of the Commissinoers this week it was also agreed that E. R. Jones and N. C. Fraley, attorneys, be authorized to proceed with legal details in connection with the said application, and they were authorized to confer with architects concerning necessary changes in present plans to meet the government requirements and specifications, and also to confer with them on a new contract for further services to be rendered.

OAKLAND MAYOR DIES SUDDENLY OF HEART ATTACK

A. G. Hesen Slumps to Floor While Attending Meeting of Local Fire Department

Mayor Alexander George Hesen, aged 53, dropped dead about 8:15 Tuesday evening while attending a meeting of the Oakland Fire Department in the City Hall.

He had been in ill health for several weeks, suffering from a heart condition, and this was the first night meeting he had attended since his physician warned him to rest and curtail his activities.

The firemen had just started to discuss the possibilities of a new fire house and community building. Mayor Hesen rose to ask a question on the subject being discussed and slumped to the floor. Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, president of the town council, was summoned and he was pronounced dead. Efforts to revive him by use of the department inhalator were of no avail.

Mayor Hesen was born August 3, 1894, at Oakland, a son of the late George and Elizabeth Detrick Hesen. He operated the Hesen Garage and Service Station and was just completing his first two-year term as mayor. He had told friends he would be a candidate for re-election next month. He previously served two terms of two years each on the city council.

Deceased was a veteran of World War I and served with the army overseas. He was a member of St. Peter's Catholic church, the Holy Name Society, financial secretary of the Knights of Columbus. He was also a member of Proctor Kildow Post No. 71, American Legion, serving as its post commander for several terms, and also served as vice-commander of the Mt. District of the Department of Maryland. He also belonged to the 40 and 8 organization in Cumberland, and the Moose lodge at Terra Alta, W. Va. He was captain in the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Florence Carney Hesen, three sons, Robert J. Hesen, investigator for the retail sales tax division in this county; James A. Hesen, Cumberland, with the Unemployment Compensation division; and William E. Hesen, at home; one granddaughter; also two brothers and two sisters, John Hesen, Keyser, W. Va.; Cash Hesen, Romney, W. Va.; Mrs. Raymond Virts, Keyser, W. Va.; Mrs. Stanley Spotts, Oakland, California. His mother died at Keyser last May.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Peter's Catholic church with Rev. Fr. Zinkand officiating at the high mass. Interment will be in Oakland cemetery. His remains were taken to his home on Liberty street where they will be until time for the service.

Active pallbearers will be Edward P. Kahl, Lawrence M. Fraley, A. G. Gortner, Russell Brown, F. R. Shaffer and Arthur Lawton.

Honorary pallbearers will be Edward A. Shaffer, Leo Helbig, Joe Stanton, W. W. Dawson, Emroy Bolden, James Lewis, and Grover Stemple.

Fined $200 For Slot Machine Possession

Robert L. Coffey, manager of the local Amvets club, was fined $200 and costs on a charge of illegal possession of a slot machine, in a decision handed down Tuesday by Magistrate H. A. Loraditch. The fine and costs were paid.

Coffey was arrested on February 9 for illegal use of slot machines and selling liquor. On the latter charge he was found not guilty because of lack of evidence, at a hearing last Wednesday, and at that time took the slot machine charge under advisement.

The fine and costs were paid.

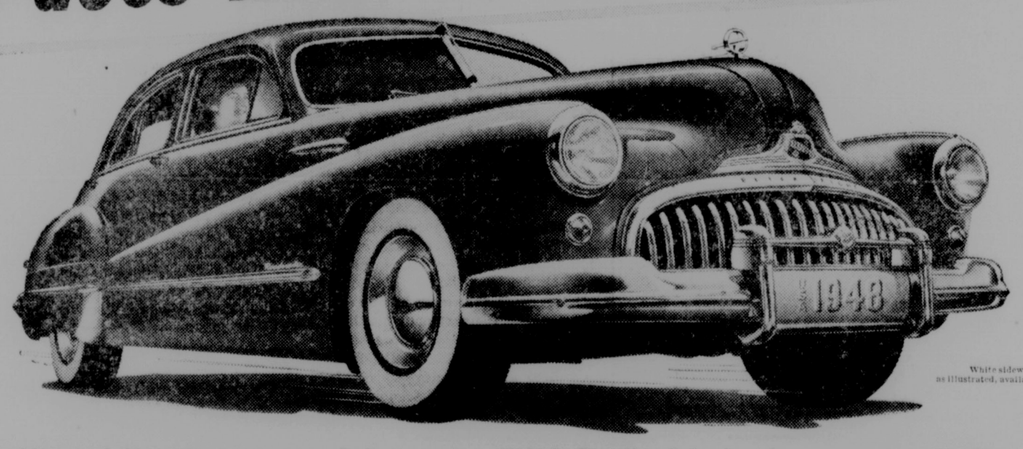
It does what no car ever did



White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

UNDER the broad bonnet of this fashion-plate beauty is an engineering triumph as sensational as it's simple.

For this is the Buick Roadmaster with Dynaflow Drive,* and here for the first time in any car the power plant does what gears used to do.

Here is America's first car that permits you to glide swiftly forward, accelerate, surge up hills, slow down, stop, start off all over again — without any gearshifting, even automatic.

In a handful of seconds you get from standstill to highway speed with ski-run smoothness unmarred by halt, lag or hesitation. In a normal day's driving through city and country you do nothing but accelerate, brake and steer.

You never touch a clutch pedal — there is none. You never shift a gear — no gears ever shift anywhere in the car.

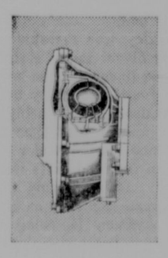
How come this near-miracle motoring? How come there's no gearshifting — either manual or automatic?



No gears ever shift in DYNAFLOW DRIVE*

In Buick's new Dynaflow Drive, sliding gear transmissions and complex gear-changers are made unnecessary. You simply set a selector lever and step on the gas. The power plant does the rest, adjusting itself to varying driving conditions with utter smoothness. You start up — accelerate — climb hills — cruise — stop — start up again — all without touching the selector lever.

Only in Dynaflow Drive has the principle of the oil pump and turbine been fully developed for an automobile transmission.

Only here does smooth-flowing oil replace sliding gears as a means of changing the engine's driving force to meet the needs of starting, accelerating, cruising.

Only here do you move forward in a single, uninterrupted sweep of power entirely free of the usual steps through low, second and high gears.

And with this close-to-magic driving you have positive control under all conditions — an anchor-firm parking lock — cushioned going which can never overload or stall the engine.

Big news? But naturally!

So why delay visiting us? Come learn more about Dynaflow — and see if this single feature alone of the new Buick's 30-odd new advances isn't crowning reason for getting an order in right now.

To Take Part In Church Fund Drive

During 1947 American Churches gave over five million dollars in cash, and more than fifteen million pounds of miscellaneous supplies to help the hungry, sick, naked peoples of war-wrecked countries in Europe and Asia. During 1947 the Episcopal Church raised a million dollars in cash, and gathered tons of supplies.

In view of needs that increase rather than decrease, the Episcopal church throughout the country is trying to secure another million for 1948—most of it in one day! Launching the effort the Presiding Bishop of the Church, the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, will speak directly to congregations gathered in their parish churches on Sunday, February 29. The services that morning will begin and continue as usual, up to exactly 11:32½ A. M., when Bishop Sherrill's voice will be heard in thousands of churches from coast to coast, through an unprecendented combination of network and independent radio stations.

Episcopal church leaders explain that while Government aid and secular relief agencies can reduce physical want and provide basic essentials of life, such agencies connot attempt to offer the spiritual vitality so lacking in the war-disrupted countries. Only the church can do this. The United Nations is authority for the statement that today two-thirds of the people alive in the world are not getting enough to eat. Half of the people, more than a billion of them, are living close to the starvation line. Forty percent of the people near starvation are children under fifteen. Said a UN statement, "This arithmetic of tragedy presents a vivid picture of the so-called growing generation. To an alarming degree it is a picture of a dying generation."

In Oakland, St. Matthew's Parish is cooperating fully in the Episcopal relief campaign. The Rev. Austin Schildwachter supplied the information that the radio equipment will be set up and that everything will be in order so that at the specified instant, the Presiding Bishop will be heard.

Specialist Outlines Crop Change For Greater Production

Changes in cropping systems that will result in greater yields this coming year were today called to the attention of Maryland farmers. John Magruder, Extension Specialist in Agronomy at the University, points out that considerable increases may be obtained without causing excessive loss of fertility.

Heading the list of recommended practices is the substitution of corn for other feed crops wherever practicable. "Corn will give the farmer more total feed per acre than any other crop," he explained, "and many farmers can make good use of stover as bedding of supplement feed.

Ladino clover-orchard grass pasture is another of the newer practices which some farmers are using as a means of getting more feed for livestock. It may be used in place of red clover and timothy pasture, or may be seeded on a Kentucky bluegrass-white clover pasture that is being renovated.

The increased use of lime in the state should allow many farmers to substitute alfalfa for part of the red clover in hay seedings on well drained soils which are fertile or moderately fertile. This is an especially important practice if the hay is to be harvested more than one year. "This year the seed of alfalfa is cheaper than red clover seed adapted to this area," he added.

A SERIOUS LOSS

The sudden passing of Mayor A. G. Hesen has caused a serious loss to the town of Oakland.

His ever present interest in the community in which he lived could easily have been the direct reason for his untimely death. Ordered to curtail his activities because of his condition, nevertheless he wanted to be at the Fire Department meeting where discussion of a proposed community building and fire house was to be the main topic.

He felt that the work which the present administration had begun should be carried to completion with the present officials and for that reason had intended to run again, in spite of the better judgment of his physicians.

Late Orange Crop Good

Information on the weather in Florida this year his come in a letter from Burt Wilson, of Leesburg. "This central part of Florida has been free of freezing weather this winter with one exception when on January 15-16. One night the mercury went down to 28 degrees for a short while and what was left of the early oranges and tangerines were frozen too much for shipping.

"The late oranges and grapefruit seem to be all right. The past two weeks the weather has been quite warm, never lower than 50 degrees and generally above 75 in the afternoons, about like summer weather in Garrett county. Winter vegetable plantings were hardest hit. Oranges will be blooming soon."

Feed Prices Slashed

The sharp decline in grain prices on the nation's markets in recent weeks has sharply cut the cost of livestock feeds. Southern States Cooperative took the lead in passing these substantial reductions on to farmers immediately. It is the long established policy of the organization to price all formula feeds on the current market replacement cost of the grains and ingredients used in making those feeds.

You will be pleasantly surprised at the reduction of many dollars per ton in Southern States feed prices. Here are current prices on some of the most generally used feeds. Call or see us for prices on other feeds.

Sayin' His Prayers

The earliest and often the most effective religious training a child receives is derived from the little prayer he is taught to say upon going to bed. He is proud when he learns to repeat it without his mother's prompting.

Some of the little prayers of childhood have become classics in many languages. Some have been embodied in song and story and have thus achieved lasting fame.

There is a story of a man who was rescued from tragic death, and later was asked how he felt during his experience. He said that in his excitement and fear he tried to pray, and the only words he could think of were "Now I lay me down to sleep."

Pity the child whose little feet are not thus firmly planted upon the rock of faith during his early and most impressionable years.

Parents face a great responsibility in the rearing of children. The task will be easier and the training more effective if they make the Bible their guide and seek the counsel and cooperation of the Church.

HOLY BIBLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sees Parachute Descending

What was believed to be a parachutist descending from a plane from a high altitude, was seen here Monday afternoon by James Bell, Jr., C. C. Helbig, and possibly others, but an attempt to learn if such was the case was never realized.

Bell reported seeing the object in the direction of Table Rock, a distance of possibly 20 miles away.

It was finally decided it might have been a weather parachute which the government weather bureau drops at various times.

Three Maryland Future Farmers of America chapters and four 4-H Clubs have been awarded prizes in Southern States Cooperative's 1947 FFA-4-H Hybrid Corn Contest, it was announced this week.

A total of 582 Maryland boys and girls were given four pounds each of hybrid corn—enough to plant one-half acre. The Cooperative then offered cash prizes to the FFA chapters and 4-H Clubs with the best records in the program. Winners included: FFA: First, Oakland Chapter; 32 enrolled, 32 completed. The chapter won $50 and a wall plaque.

Boys were asked to plant the samples of corn in the field with their regular crop, or in a special plot, and follow the usual cultivation and fertilization practices that would be carried out with the regular crop. Many boys reported high yields and exceptional ability to stand up well.

Pratt Library Jan 49

A Terrible Record . . . . . .

Preliminary figures covering traffic accidents in the United States for the year 1947 have just been issuel and they are appalling.

Killed, 32,000.

Estimated property damage, nine hundred million dollars.

The thought of losing that many persons in war causes us to shudder, but deaths through traffic accdents keep mounting from year to year and we hardly give a second thought to ways and means of reducing this terrible toll of lives and injuries.

There is urgent need for everyone, all ages, to educate themselves in traffic safety. We all must be more careful when using the streets and highways.

Perhaps the driving courses in high schools will be the ultimate answer. Results of this training from 32,000 high schools show that it is possible to turn out annually one and one-half million young drivers of a higher quality than the average of today. These courses are getting under way in Garrett county high schools.

With both the young and the adults concentrating on this problem we might begin to show improvement. But we can't leave it up to the other fellow. We must all do our share.

Restrictions Imposed On Truck Loads Due To Damaged Highway

Restrictions against overloading of trucks are being imposed in Garrett county until all frost is out of the ground, it was announced this week after it was discovered a number of roads were being damaged with "frost boils."

Trucks are limited to 20,000 pounds on a two-axle vehicle with a three-axle truck being permitted to carry as much as 36,000 pounds. The State Roads commission has posted signs along the highways and H. E. Rook, engineer for the State Roads Commission in this county, said that weighing in precautions were being inaugurated today. Portable weighing crews will patrol the highways.

"If the truckers will cooperate with us for a few days, everything will be all right," Mr. Rook said.

G. Bates Chaires, district engineer, said permanent repair work will not be started until the frost is completely out of the ground but explained that stabilizing work was begun immediately with crews using limestone and sand to make the roads passable.

Investigate Robberies

State and county authorities are continuing their investigation this week into a series of robberies which have occurred on the Houck division along Deep Creek Lake.

A number of cottages have been entered there by forcing windows and doors.

AAUW To Bring Fellowship Student Here For Talk

The American Association of University Women will bring a fellowship student to Oakland for a talk next week, it was announced by Miss Ruth Keller, president.

The student is Miss Ludmila Hlacova, a native of Czechoslovakia, who is studying English literature at West Virginia university, Morgantown. The program will be in charge of Mrs. Harve Mussard.

Members of the organization will gather at Pickwick Inn next Friday evening, March 5, for a dinner meeting, and Miss Keller extended an invitation to any interested person, who cared to attend, who would pay for her dinner as regular members are doing, or who would care to come after the dinner to hear the speaker.

The regular meeting of the club is being held on Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the home economics building of the high school, at which time Mrs. Mabel Brock, chairman of the educational committee, will present the topic.

Plan Rummage Sale

A rummage sale is being planned by members of the Teen Age club, which will be held in the McIntire building all day on Saturday, March 6, according to Wayne Sowers, supervisor.

The proceeds will be used to maintain the club at the Mt. Lake Park recreation hall.

COWBOYS PROMISE TO SHOW MOVIES

Back to Garrett County for a weekend visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ritchie at Red House, Ned Kennedy, Washington State rancher, and his foreman, Cecil Cary, again promised to bring their moving pictures here for a public showing when they are completed.

The pair left Tacoma, Washington, on May 19, 1947, and arrived in Washington, D. C., on February 5. They rode up the driveway of the White House with a pack horse between them last Wednesday and had a visit with President Truman. Upon invitation of Mr. Kennedy who said, "Gee, Mr. President, I'd sure enough like for you to see my horses, particularly my little mare," the president was out on the snow-capped driveway, bareheaded, and inspecting the mare "honey" like a professional.

Kennedy told the president, "We did have a jackass named Flapjack but we sent him back by train when we got to Chicago. He couldn't make up his mind whether he was Democrat or Republican."

Mr. Kennedy told Mr. Ritchie last Saturday that the pictures which he and his compainon took while coming across the coutry would not be ready before another six weeks to two months, but that when completed they would be brought to Red House for a public showing.

In the meantime the pair were planning to go to New York this week to see the sights and also to "try to get on a radio program or two."

On this trip to Garrett county the cowboys traveled in a station wagon. They were visitors at the Republican office last Saturday.

Their trip east began originally as the result of a bet to prove "Uncle Ned's stamina which he has repeated over and over again has turned out to be one of the most wonderful experiences of his life. Apparently Garrett county is one of those "wonderful experiences."

County Jail Given Good-Clean Rating

Recommendation for Sending Prisoners to Allegany County Causing Comment Among Officials

A recommendation that authorities of Allegany and Garrett counties try to work out an arrangement for the housing of prisoners of Garrett county in Cumberland, made in the twenty-first annual report of the inspection of county jails in Maryland, was causing some little comment in Oakland this week.

That such a move might be the beginning of a movement which would eventually culminate in dissolution of the county, was pointed out by a few officials in a more or less humorous vein, but with enough seriousness to warrant some thought on the matter.

The implications were that with the county jail gone, there would come a time when they would try to have all court activities taken away, and even go so far as to move for elimination of Garrett as a county, to be made a part of Allegany.

The recommendation continued that such a move "would enable Garrett county authorities to use the jail at Oakland as a lockup for the detention of prisoners before hearing and would enable Allegany county authorities to provide better facilities and a staff for the jail."

Jail Found Clean

The Garrett county jail was reported clean and sanitary except for some litter on cell floors. No vermin were found and all plumbing seemed to be working properly.

It was recommended that proper bathing facilities should be provided for women prisoners. The space set aside for women prisoners was declared more than adequate to take care of the needs.

The report showed there had been three local lockups used in the county in previous years, located at Friendsville, Grantsville and Kitzmiller. The one at Grantsville is now used as headquarters for the boy scout troop.

At the time of the report there were 8 prisoners. The daiy average number of prisoners was 6.

The jail is under the management of the sheriff who is assisted by his deputy. At present these are J. S. Teats and Paul W. Fisher. Food is furnished by the Sheriff on a contract basis at the rate of 80 cents per day. The building was erected in 1900.

The report pointed out that while there were no quarters especially designated for youthful offenders they could be kept on the second floor completely isolated from other prisoners.

Housing Survey Will Begin Soon

Plans for a survey to determine the housing needs of the county's 2,500 World War II veterans were formulated at a meeting Tuesday between officials of the Maryland Veterans' Housing Commission, the Board of Garrett County Commissioners and veterans' groups.

Proposals resulted from conferences between these leaders and James P. Lazzati, Baltimore, executive director of the Maryland Housing Commission, and Thomas F. Conlon, Maryland Veterans' Commission service officer.

Edward P. Kahl, member of Proctor Kildow Post No. 71, American Legion, and executive board member of the Department of Maryland of the Legion, will head the committee named to conduct the survey.

Other members include Harvey Gortner, Grantsville; Charles Wilt, Accident; Rev. Jonathan Edwards, Kitzmiller; Mayor William F. Frazee, Friendsville; and J. Edward Helbig, Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, Milburn Mana and Edward Schmidt, Oakland.

Assurance that the County Commissioners would bear expenses incurred in the survey was given by Helbig, Lazzati said.

The committee is planning to meet soon to formulate actual details. Each of the communities, according to Lazzati, reported that more homes were needed and the scarcity of housing in Oakland was greater than in the smaller towns. The shortage is apparent in the lower income group of non-veterans.

William Stemple expects to leave Oakland the latter port of this week for Cleveland, Ohio, where he has accepted a position with Republic Steel.

Appointed Chaplain

Rev. Austin Schildwachter, Episcopal rector, has been appointed a regimental chaplain in the Maryland National Guard, it has been announced. The appointment was effective on February 11, and was announced from Annapolis. The papers were signed by General Milton Reckord, head of the national guard in Maryland, and Governor W. Preston Lane.

Rev. Schildwachter will drill with the 121st engineers, at Oakland, but officially will be attached to the 115th infantry headquarters company at Towson. There are two other chaplains in the Western Maryland area.

The appointment does not effect his activities with St. Matthew's Parish, except for two weeks in the summer when he will be in camp with his unit.

Blood Donor Program Is Plan of Red Cross

Portion of Roll Call Funds To Be Used for That Purpose

Setting up of a blood donor program which will eventually make blood plasma available to every person who needs it, free of charge, is one of the goals of the American Red Cross this year, in connection with the annual Red Cross roll cal campaign, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. E. Z. Tower, county chairman.

It was indicated that the program would take three to five years to work out and that in order for it to be successful, it would be necessary for one out of every 35 persons to donate their blood for this project.

The roll call campaign this year is expected to produce $75 million dollars nationally and of this amount Garrett county citizens are being asked to raise $2,100. A portion of this money will be used to finance the setting up of various centers for the reception of blood.

Mrs. Tower pointed out that there is at present no adequate provision for this need, and the cost at present is prohibitive to many.

The local campaign for funds will get under way March 1. Mrs. Paul B. Naylor, is roll call chairman for the county.

Paralysis Fund May Reach $2,000 Total

That the March of Dimes campaign for funds with which to fight infantile paralysis might reach $2,000 or more in the county this year was indicated this morning by Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, county chairman.

Although no complete tabulation has been made, a rough calculation has shown $1,896, with no reports received yet from Kempton, Mt. Lake Park, and Vindex.

Some of the amounts from schools and communities not previously mentioned include Kitzmiller community, $174.59, of which $44.28 came from the school, $58.84 from the theatre collection and $51.47 from 15 boxes in the business places.

Tax Payments High

Payment of 1948 taxes reached a new high yesterday with receipts by Arthur H. Green, county treasurer, amounting to more than $85,000.

A large number of property owners have been paying their taxes to take advantage of the 5 percent discount available on county taxes until Saturday. There is no discount on state taxes.

The largest taxpayer in the county, the Pennsylvania Electric company, sent in its check for $70,774.74, and other corporation and coal companies also paid this week, Mr. Green said. He said he would have an accurate statement next week as to the total amount of taxes collected during January and February.

Beginning March 1 the discount drops to 4 percent and remains at that figure until the end of April.

Welfare Payments Are $24,029.86 During January

Welfare Board expenditures for January totaled $24,029.86, it was announced yesterday by Francis Connolly, executive secretary.

Old age assistance totaled $8,703.29 for 295 persons, while aid for 420 dependent children amounted to $10,123.53. Aid to the needy blind totaled $268.52.

A total of $2,260.27 was spent during January for general public assistance and $640.53 was spent to furnish foster homes for 19 children. Administrative costs amounted to $2,034.72.

Fourteen of the twenty-two members who were eligible to receive 25-year-jewels, were present in person to receive them from A. G. Gortner, grand vice-chancellor for the Grand Lodge of Maryland. Formal acceptance of the jewels was acknowledged by Milburn W. Mann.

Walter W. Dawson was master of ceremonies and the program featured a number of entertainers: Jay Bell, vocalist; Regis Kerins and his orchestra; Don Keister, 10-year-old cornetest; the Smith triplets, Towny Tibbets, skit, and Walter Friend, artist, of Fairmont, W. Va., who hastily sketched a number of portraits of various individuals in the audience. Door prizes were awarded to Mrs. James Junkins and Robert T. Hoffman. Refreshments were served.

C. AND P. TO BEGIN INSTALLATION OF TELEPHONES ALONG ROUTE 40

At the request of residents in the Avilton area the C. and P. telephone company is beginning installation of telephones along route 40 on Friday, according to Howard M. Smith, manager of the Cumberland office.

That area has been without telephone service since last September when the rural system of the Avilton Mutual Telephone company, organized in 1914, was discontinued because of high cost and scarcity of labor and materials.

H. H. Robeson, president of the Avilton concern, notified the company in 1946 that the firm would be unable to continue service. Work of stringing lines was started last December, Smith said.

The project is estimated to cost $68,000. Over 900 telephone poles must be erected. The installation will serve route 40 to Meadow Mountain but the company plans to build lines south of route 40 and north to the community of Finzel this summer. The Avilton area will be served from the Frostburg exchange.

Chartered in 1915

The Avilton Mutual was chartered in 1915 with the late Daniel B. Warn as president. The charge for service was $1.50 per month. At one time the company had 39 telephones on its system but severe winters, deep snows and high winds made it increasingly difficult to restore broken poles and damaged lines. Only six subscribers remained last September.

The area served the section on route 40 from Allegany county line to the stone house farm, east of Grantsville, and the territory south of route 40, including New Germany and Avilton.

At Grantsville the Avilton company made and received their calls from the Springs Mutual telephone company. Present officers of the Avilton company besides Robeson are Charles C. Layman, Longstrech, treasurer; E. Q. Michaels, Avilton, manager; and Norman B. Durst, secretary and exchange operater.

FILIPINO WILL OPEN SERIES OF ROTARY FORUMS

First of Four Discussions Will Be Held Monday, March 1, in Methodist Assembly Room

"The Philippines in World Affairs," will be the subject of the opening forum on domestic and international affairs which the Oakland Rotary club is sponsoring in Oakland. The meeting is being held in the Assembly hall of St. Paul's Methodist church at 8 o'clock p. m.

Dr. Diodado Yap, Washington, D. C., who has just returned from an extensive tour of the Pacific, will be the speaker.

Dr. Yap, editor of Bataan, independent Philippine news magazine, is one of the leading consultants in Washington on the Far East, with special reference to American-Philippine relations. He was one of the first authorities on the Far East to tour the army camps for the war department.

Baybe, Leyte, Philippine Islands, is the birthplace of Dr. Yap. His collegiate education was obtained in the United States. He was graduated from Crane College, Chicago. Later he attended the Northwestern University Law School. In 1931 he entered George Washington University where he received his M. A. in Education. He received his doctorate from the same university in 1935.

For a time Dr. Yap was publicity officer and research aide for the Resident Commissioner of the Philippines to the United States. He was also director of the Philippine Information Bureau and managing editor of the Philippine Journal. His wartime duties included service as consultant to many government agencies in Washington. Since April 1943, he has published his own magazine, BATAAN.

Dr. Yap is the author of numerous magazine articles on the Far East. He has served as American correspondent for leading Philippine newspapers and for a period of time was a commentator on Far Eastern affairs for Washington radio station WINX. He is a member of the National Press Club. At the present time he is chariman of the Board of Directors of the Philippine Chamber of Commerce of America.

Dr. Yap is a close personal friend of Manuel Roxas, the president of the Philippine Republic. He has lectured extensively throughout the United States on Far Eastern affairs.

Senator Millard F. Tydings has the following to say regarding Dr. Yap, "I want to thank you for your friendly good will, splendid work and fine impressions you are creating in your lectures relative to Philippine-American relations."

His many years in the United States has given him a flawless command of the English language. Dr. Yap's lectures are colorful and meaningful.

Thespians To Present Two Plays, Major Production Of The Year

Members of Thespian troop 333 of Oakland High School, under guidance of Mrs. Daisy Beachy, will present their major production of the year, two one act plays entitled, "The Opening of the Door" and "Angel Face." The performance will be given March 18.

"Angel Face" a comedy by Jack Keller, has an entire cast of juniors. Everybody in the house plans for an exciting evening except Sue and Grandpa, Barbara Filsinger and Pete MacMurray. So these two put their heads together with chaotic results. Mr. and Mrs. Summers, Fred Bell and Barbara Winters, are the harried parents of "Angel Face," the female Elmer. Peggy, Della Biggs, and Mary, Norma Roth, sisters of "Angel Face," are the victims of their little sister's scheming. Their escorts are Homer Bennett as Roger and Charles Moore as Andy.

Was it the ghostly hand of David, the mysteriously murdered man that beat on the door at midnight? Was it his voice they heard crying through the wind? His heart broken mother, Vivian Paugh, and sisters, played by Louise Gross and Caye Bolyard, would have unbarred the door, but Martin, husband of Esther, portrayed by Tommie Lewis, harshly forbade. The door remained closed. Each night as the hour approached, terror gropped the household. But Owen, friend and neighbor, played by Mahlon Yost, counsels that the door be opened. It is . . . . and what follows has seldom been matched for excitement, drama, and supernatural terror.

Hervey Smouse and Barbara Winters have been selected as candidates for next year's editor of The Acorn. Picked in a recent meeting of the senior members of the staff along with the faculty adviser, Miss Sybilla J. Paynter, these two candidates will appear for election probably around the first of March. Chosen from the junior members of the staff, Hervey and Barbara will soon speak before the student body, as required by Oakland High's constitution. Following the speeches, an election will be held, sponsored by The Acorn and featuring secret ballots. The loser in the election automatically becomes assistant editor.

F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent, announced recently that Latin may once again become a part of the curriculum at Oakland High School. Parents of the students from the ninth grade who have requested that Latin be returned have received letters from Principal F. D. Bittle and Mr. Rathbun concerning the matter.

Next year's schedule will probably include Latin due to the fact that nearly fifteen students have asked for it. A new teacher may have to be employed as the Latin teacher because Mr. Bittle is the only member of the faculty at Oakland High who is qualified to teach Latin.

IVB's eleven students led the honor roll of forty-three senior high pupils for the second term. The seniors, with twenty-four students, outnumber the junior's nineteen.

Abraham Knox, Janey Adams, Lois Bachtel, Norma Brenneman, Mildred Bernard, Phyllis Custer, Louise Gross, Lorene Gnegy, Margaret Shaffer, Freda Swiger, Betty Tasker.

Lena Knox, Howard Graham, Marshall Moats, Dennis Stottlemeyer, Joan DeWitt, and Mahlon Yost.

Within the next few weeks a General Development Test will be given to students going away to school. This test consists of five different areas. These are literature, grammar, science, mathmatics, and social studies. The test will show how they stand with other students in the country.

Observe Forty-Fifth Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott Layman, prominent residents of Garrett County, observed their 45th wedding anniversary last Wednesday with a family reunion at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. Carl Layman, in Frostburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Layman, who were married February 18, 1903, by Rev. E. C. Bedford at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Garlitz, parents of the bride, the former Miss Ora Garlitz, have resided, since their marriage, on a farm west of Long Stretch on Route 40, which has been in the Layman family for nearly a century.

It was first owned by the late Mr. and Mrs. George H. Layman, who sold it to their son and daughter-in-law, the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Layman, parents of W. Scott Layman.

Modern in every respect, the 100-acre farm adjoins the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Layman, the two properties comprising what is known to many local residents as the Layman settlement at Long Stretch.

Mr. and Mrs. Layman are the parents of five children, Marshall, a veteran of World War II, who resides in Cumberland; Ralph, Frostburg; Mrs. Francis McKenzie, Cumberland; Odell, a resident of Finzel and W. Carl Layman, Frostburg. They have nine grandchildren.

Mr. Layman, 71, and his wife, 68, are neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. William Turner, owners of the Turner Dairy on Route 40. Mr. Turner and his wife, the former Miss Emma Blocher, were the attendants at the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Layman.

Mr. and Mrs. Layman are devout Methodists and active members of Zion Church on Long Stretch. Mrs. Layman is a member of the Woman's Society for Christian Service of the Zion church.

There has been a lot of criticism about the large amount of the consumer's dollar that is going for food, especially meat products. If the "Luxury goods" industries were getting more of the consumer's dollar, instead of less as at present, there would be praise and enthusiasm for their splendid progress.

It seems to be overlooked that American agriculture is also part of the national economy. Are there none to justify prosperity for the producers of meat, milk and eggs? When the supply of these highly prized foods declines, their importance along with clothing and shelter, will be fully realized.

The visible supply of meat available, for 1948, including heavy supplies now in packers hands, is 144 lbs. per capita. 157 lbs., per capita was consumed in 1947.

The war time shortage of meat demonstrated effectively that under such conditions consumers go all out in their purchase of poultry and eggs.

As far as fall in prices is concerned, the livestock industry has no reason for special fear, any more than any other industry.

Forthcoming Filibuster

Before this session of Congress is over there will be another organized filibuster on the part of Southern Democratic senators against two proposals of the President's Committee on Civil Rights, both of which already are in the form of bills. The first provides for "the elimination of segregation based on race, color, creed or national origin from American life." The second urges "enactment of a Federal fair employment practices act, prohibiting all forms of discrimination in private employment, based on race, color, creed or national origin."

Always, with a majority against them, the Southern Democrats have prevented the enactment of these proposals at previous sessions. Because this is an election year and both parties are exceedingly anxious to attract the large groups of voters against whom "discrimination" is claimed, it will be more difficult this time. But the effort will be a determined one and may be again successful. In any event, the fight will be bitter and prolonged and more than the usual amount of bad feeling will be engendered.

It will be alleged—and correctly—that the motive back of the filibuster is the deeply rooted unwillingness in the South to accept for the Negro the doctrine of social, political and industrial equality, so ardently advocated by the left-wing elements and acquiesced in solely for reasons of political expediency by the politicians in both parties above the Mason and Dixon line. However, the truth is that no other legislation with which Congress deals breeds among its supporters such hypocrisy and insincerity. A considerable number of senators and representatives annually vote for this legislation, disbelieving in it altogether and hoping it will not prevail.

Afraid to express opposition lest they be accused of being anti-Semitic or inspired by race prejudice, some of these men have stultified their judgment and smothered their consciences year after year—filled with that dread that to do anything else inevitably meant political suicide. It is possible—but not likely—that at this session such men may find, in an article recently written by Mr. Donald R. Richberg, ground for regaining their self-respect and freedom to vote their convictions. This is the second time Mr. Richberg has written on this subject. He, a Democrat and former New Dealer, characterizes the report of the President's Committee on Civil Rights as an "horrible example of civil rights hysteria," and "probably the most mischievous document since Marx and Engels produced the Communist manifesto 100 years ago."

"We can," declares the committee, "tolerate no restrictions upon the individual which depend on irrelevant factors such as roce color, religion or social position to which he was born." Says Mr. Richberg: "Race and color may seem irrelevant to the committee, yet differences of race and color have divided mankind for centuries. They may fade in time but they cannot be wiped out by State or Federal law, and every such foolish effort only intensifies prejudice and intolerance, creates disrespect for law and is itself an intolerant violation of individual liberty."

Assuming that every like or dislike based on race, color or religion is unreasonable and unfair and that such prejudice should be eliminated from human thinking, nevertheless, Mr. Richberg argues, it is neither right nor constitutional for the government of a free people to attempt to prevent men and women in business or social life from acting in accord with their prejudices. To do so is to strike at the very roots of individual liberty and to make a joke of freedom of an American citizen to select his personal companions and business associates because of his individual tastes and judgment.

Political equality in the right to vote, in the administration of justice and in the rendering of public services is due all citizens. But, unless Government is to destroy the economic system of competitive freedom and a social system of free association, it cannot undertake to level down the inequalities that result from differing abilities and opportunities nor interfere with the voluntary selection of one's associates in work or play. The catchy slogan of the "civil rights hysteria" Mr. Richberg asserts is "Equality," though the declared purpose of the Constitution was not to achieve an impossible equality among unequal human beings but to "secure the blessings of liberty" so that men could be free to be different and to realize their differing ambitions with their differing abilities.

Every law, contends Mr. Richberg, which gives a man a "right" to something which as a free man he cannot gain for himself, imposes restraints upon the freedom of other men. "We may," he contends, "reasonably tax the fortunate to aid the less fortunate; to protect the rights of every citizen to equal participation in government and equal treatment by government, and to restrict those who heedlessly or ruthlessly injure others in the pursuit of selfish gain. But let us be watchful against laws creating a 'right' in one man to compel others to associate with him or to accept obligations to him in the domain of private enterprise or private life. Let us realize that freedom of association in work or play is the most precious of our liberties." All of which seems exceedingly sound observation.

Buy Quality Chicks Advises Dr. M. A. Jull

One way in which Maryland poultrymen can combat the present high cost of feed is to buy good quality chicks. This information came today from Dr. Morley A. Jull, head of the Poultry Department at the University of Maryland. He explains that feed costs now amount to 60 percent or more of the total costs of producing eggs and chicken meat in contrast to 50 percent in normal times.

One important characteristic of good quality chicks is rapid growth, he said as he cited figures to show that some fast growing birds had used 16 percent less feed than slow growing birds. Another characteristic, important to broiler producers, is fast-feathering. Several strains of general-purpose breeds have been developed for this trait and experience indicates that they grow more rapidly than slow-feathering chicks.

As for the egg producer, a high level of production is most important. Birds laying at only 50 percent production with feed at $100 per ton, the cost per dozen eggs will be 33 cents. That can be rendered to only 26 cents per dozen by increasing production to 70 percent.

STATEMENT

BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE LAND AND TIMBER OWNERS ASSOCIATION

The local Forestry Board has passed a regulation that would substitute public management for ownership management of private property, through arbitrary rule. This is much more than an effort to restrict the professional saw mill man and the timber dealer in his cutting operations. The regulation contemplates the control of timber cutting on every farm and every timber lot under private ownership. It is evident that all land owners will be subject to the rules of this board if they have timber. The rules of the board, once put into effect will have to be uniform; otherwise they would be speedily voided by the Courts. Every farmer and land owner should realize that no matter what he has been promised, the rules which are to have the force of law must apply to him or else they cannot be applicable to the other fellow.

The economy of this County is closely geared to the soil. Our main source of revenue is from our crops; and our crops of mine timber are just as important to us as our crops of grain, grass and livestock that grow in our fields. No public authority has ever before attempted to restrict the farmer in the harvesting and the use of his crops. This regulation is an attempt by our local forestry board to do just that. It is our belief that this cannot be done here in America under Constitutional law. Heretofore such things were possible only in the police state under totalitarian rule. Here, the courts, especially the higher courts, have always held the people secure in their possessions. We believe they will continue to do so.

In order that the issue before our people may be thoroughly understood, this regulation that would limit the size of timber that could be cut on private land is just as objectionable, just as destructive as the one previously considered by the board which would have limited the size of timber to 12 inches. It carries with it all the provisions for permits, for inspections by the foresters—all the burdens upon the land owner, all the expense, delays and dangers that the other proposed regulation carried.

It will subject every land owner to danger of arrest for the violation of the boards rules. It will open his land to invasion by public officials, subject him to useless and futile orders and directives. We believe that every citizen who can use freedom in his own business, in his own life, should help us resist this regulation. We have to depend upon our land for a livelihood. We cannot afford to turn our land over to Public Boards to be mismanaged by them.

Accordingly, we invite any member of this organization to communicate with our officers if the board attempts to enforce the said regulations against them.

By Order

BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE LAND AND TIMBER OWNERS PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION.

RALPH AULT, Secretary.

Do You Rewarm Your Coffee?

Warmed-up coffee is one cause for diseases of the arteries, according to a Chicago doctor. When coffee is allowed to stand and cool, it not only loses flavor but the oil separates and is not reunited with the liquid on reheating. The oily substance in the reheated coffee irritates the inner walls of the blood vessels. Keep your coffee at serving temperature on WARM heat. You'll find the flavor holds for several hours because the coffee is not allowed to cool. Your electric range or automatic coffee maker will hold the temperature of the coffee just right.

OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING EVENT

MR. AND MRS. JOHN BISHOP

Mr. John Bishop and his bride of 50 years ago celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary on Tuesday, February 10th, at their home in Kitzmiller.

The home, appropriately decorated, was filled to capacity with relatives, friends and well wishers for the event. They were presented with a three-tiered wedding cake, several gifts and 50 yellow rose buds.

The couple were married in Cumberland, February 10, 1898, by the Rev. J. F. Yost, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, at the home of the groom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Cunningham, and they were their only attendants.

Mrs. Bishop was Miss Lectie Rodeman, of Horton, W. Va., and Mr. Bishop was of Chaffey, W. Va. They have resided in Kitzmiller for the past 49 years.

They are the parents of nine children, six of whom are still living. There are also 11 grandchildren and one great grandchild. The children are (Iva) Mrs. J. J. Walker, Shallmar; (Hulda) Mrs. Larry Bomberger, Vancouver, B. C.; Ashley Bishop, Ashboro, N. Optional Driving Course Will Begin Under the Direction of Mr. Everly

An optional course for seniors under the direction of Carl H. Everly is to be added about April 15 to the Oakland High curriculum. Next year it will be available to students who are 15 years of age or older.

Eighty Per Cent Will Drive

Within two years after graduation approximately eighty per cent of today's students will be driving, legally or illegally! The accident rate for youths is one to five times greater per mile than for adults, and two to nine times as many fatal accidents occur in this group as in the safest age group.

Course Produces Results

Mr. Everly, in his speech to the Parent-Teachers Association on February 12, stated that we must teach the youth to do better what they are going to do anyway. Mr. Everly said that the adequate training does produce results. In Cleveland City High School 1,880 students took the driving course, and 1,372 did not. The traffic accidents were cut in half in the trained group.

The advantages of this course are the training of expert drivers, developing of character through responsibility, practical participation in community welfare.

This course has been accepted by many high schools and appeals have been made to help build future America through driver education and training.

The results of this driver training from 32,000 high schools throughout the county show that it is possible to turn out annually a million and one half young drivers of a higher quality than the average of today.

National Magazines Carry Articles by Former Resident

The February issues of four monthly publications—Frontiers, American Farm Youth, Catholic Boy, and Buick Magazine—carry illustrated articles prepared by Wilbert N. Savage, a former resident of Sang Run.

Frontiers, published by The Academy of Natural Science, Philadelphia, Pa., featured Mr. Savage's article "Scorpions in Fact and Fable" on two full pages, with illustrative material coming from the New York Zoological Society.

Frontiers' pages carry writings from Donald Culross Peattie, roving editor for Reader's Digest; Osa Johnson, wife of the late big game hunter, Martin Johnson; Roy L. Abbott, instructor at Iowa State Teachers' College; Alan Devoe, staff writer for Reader's Digest; Arthur Loveridge, of the museum of Comparative Zoology, Cambridge, Mass.; and Hobart E. Stocking, Pittsburgh geologist, a former teacher at West Virginia University, and Archibald Rutledge.

Mr. Savage's contribution to American Farm Youth, official publication of the Future Farmers of America, has to do with a somewhat spectacular wild horse. It is pure fiction, about 2,300 words, and was illustrated by Gene Holtz. It is understood Mr. Savage has two more pieces of fiction—3,000 worders—scheduled for future use by this magazine. American Farm Youth, claiming more than a quarter of a million readers, is a "must" in almost every school in agricultural areas.

Catholic Boy, published at Minneapolis, Minnesota, gave the lead spot in its article section to Mr. Savage's "Memorial to Valor"—a story about Valley Forge, its history, and highlights covering its present-day popularity as a state park. Five photos from the files of the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce illustrate the story.

Buick Magazine, the fourth publication carrying Mr. Savage's work, is published by General Motors Corporation, and is distributed throughout the nation, including Oakland's Leighton Brothers, as a travel periodical. "Gators by The Thousands" is the title of his article in the February issue of this publication—a one-page story about St. Augustine's (Florida) alligator farm. Photos for illustrative purposes were released to the author by Carl Byoir and Associates, advertising agency.

From suburban Connellsville, where the writer now lives, comes these lines by Mr. Savage himself:

"Although I try to keep away from my typewriter so I can listen without interruption to my string of favorite radio programs, this business of putting black on white for dollars and cents is fast catching up with me, and if I'm not careful, I'll be into the ding-busted thing up to my neck. Through luck and bad management, I have built my photo file to more than two thousand glossy prints, covering just about everything from Jumbo, the famous elephant, to the sinister-looking larvae of the Jap beetle."

A short time ago, Mr. Savage sold some poetry to Children's Activities, published by the Child Training Association of Chicago and on February 7, the director of radio station KWPC, Muscatine, Iowa, wrote for permission to use all of his work on The Happy Hour, a program devoted to children. A request has also come from the editor of First Draft, a periodical for journalists, published in Springfield, Missouri, to do an article instructing beginning writers on points to help them achieve success in the free-lance field. "I don't think I'll ever figure this one out," says Savage. "I'm just a beginner myself, so I didn't write the article—maybe later . . ."

In recent months the former Sang Run author has sold illustrated stories to such magazines as Popular Mechanics; Mechanix Illustrated; Extension, The National Catholic Monthly; Catholic Home Journal; Grit; Young Catholic Messenger; Catholic Miss of America; Classmate; Boy Life; Girlhood Days; Junior Catholic Messenger; Boys Today; Youth; McClure Syndicate (newspaper); Michigan Farmer; Ohio Farmer, Pennsylvania Farmer; Youth's Comrade; Pioneer; Gateway for Girls; Storytime; Sentinel; Forward; and many others.

He uses his own name in connection with most of his writing, but he reports that he has discovered that there's sometimes an advantage in making use of his two pen names, "Carson Gold" and "Don Royal." He has had work published under both these pseudonyms.

Intensely interested in raising pedigreed poultry, he is now trying to combine poultry-raising with writing. He contributes regularly to American Poultry Journal and Everybodys Poultry Magazine, and both publications now have some of his scripts scheduled for future issues. From London, England, he receives English poultry publications every week, and the British Information Service in New York sends him releases on the subject, a few of which are exclusive.

Wholesale prices in Britain were 13.1 percent higher than a year ago.

By J. Glenn Beall

Largely through the intelligent efforts of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, Republican, of Michigan, the European Recovery Program last week glided over its first Congressional hurdle. The Senate Foreign Relations committee last Tuesday, without a dissenting vote, approved an ERP bill which would authorize an expenditure of $5.3 billion for the twelve-month period beginning April 1, 1948.

Although the President had asked for an outlay of $6.8 billion for a fifteen month period from April 1 through June, 1949, it is the consensus of opinion on Capitol Hill that he will be more than pleased to accept the compromise.

The European Recovery Program is scheduled to come up for floor action sometime the first part of March. It is my intention to amble over to the other side of the Capitol and listen to much of the Senate debate so that I can tell you something about the discussion as it takes place.

Last week President Truman sent a special message to Congress asking Congress to appropriate $570 million for aid to China. The President was not optomistic about China's prospects for the future regardless of the amount of money given her unless the Chinese government undertakes to do something herself in the way of a program of reforms.

Since almost everyone is interested in one way or another in rents, it is well to mention that the Senate Banking and Currency Committee unanimously approved a bill extending the law now in effect through April 30, 1949. If enacted into law in its present form the bill would: (1) continue the voluntary 15 percent provision, but prohibit an additional 15 percent; (2) erase the control for furnished rooms in private homes and on units renting for $225 or more; (3) allows landlords who can prove they are suffering loss to increase rents without tenant agreement.

Meanwhile the House Banking and Currency committee approved extending the present law thirty days. Leaders in the House and Senate agreed on the thirty day extension but the Senate will continue debate on its bill which began Friday.

The Board of County Commissioners of Allegany county has asked me to help them get a Bailey bridge to replace the unsafe foot bridge over Wills Creek at Cumberland. I contacted War Assets, the Army Engineers and the Federal Works Agency hoping they can locate such a bridge.

Being a member of the Special Sub-Committee on Stream Pollution, I attended a meeting of that group at which time this subject was discussed thoroughly. The Legislation Counsel has been asked to draw up legislation which would include the following:

1. Loans should be limited to Inter-State only—not for Intra-State waters.

2. Research should be made through assistance and supervision of the Public Health Service which would approve all plans.

3. The Federal Works Administration should make all plans and supervise construction.

4. Consideration should be given for an authorization of a loan in the amount of $10 million per year for five years and such money should be allowed to accumulate.

5. Provisions should be made to allow the city or municipality govern after the general plan has been approved.

This subject of clearing the waters of pollution has been kicked about for a long period and I hope that some effective legislation can be adopted as soon as possible.

Due to the shortage of fuel oil I wired the Chairman of the Maryland State Roads Commission requesting that the emergency State Roads load limit be lifted for the time being, thus allowing for the delivery of vital fuel oil, and was advised that restrictions would be lifted in such cases.

Church in the Hills

The little frame church in this snow-blanketed mountain village lifts its tall spire above its rugged environment like a sentinel guarding a sacred trust or a lighthouse on a rockbound coast.

Wherever man has pushed his habitations—in the bleak wastes of the polar regions, under the blazing tropical sun, or in the milder climates of the world—he has built his churches dedicated to the worship of God.

The fact that no community seems complete without its house of worship bears eloquent testimony to the universal recognition of man's need of religion.

The village church plays a vital part in the life of the community. The spiritual standards of the people are fashioned there; marriage vows are spoken at its altar, and the honored dead sleep in its sacred soil.

There it stands in every community—the little frame church— pointing the people to God, teaching them the way of life, giving them strength and faith for every need.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SUGGESTS WAYS FOR EFFECTIVE RAT CAMPAIGN

County Agent Carter Outlines Program To Be Followed March 1 to 6, to Destroy Rodents

Suggestions for an effective campaign against rats during the Maryland "Rat Death Week" campaign, which is being launched on a statewide basis on March 1, were outlined yesterday by John H. Carter, county farm agent.

The campaign is being conducted March 1 to 6 through the Extension Service, and Mr. Carter urged all county residents to participate and mail their cards to him at his office in Oakland so that the desired amount of Antu will be reserved for them.

He said all homemakers clubs, farm organizations, Future Farmers of America and 4-H club members were being asked to cooperate and actively participate wherever possible.

He described Antu as a new war-developed poison, very small amounts of which will kill rats. Detailed instructions and cautions in its use will be furnished with each can. The poison is not effective for house mice.

A can of rat poison will contain Antu and a dilutent to insure better mixing, plus tartar emetic. The contents of one can, Mr. Carter said, will make two pounds of mixed bait such as hamburger, canned dog food, fish, or chicken mash. This amount of poisoned bait will make from 30 to 60 individual pieces. Individuals furnish and mix their own bait.

He suggested the following for an effective campaign:

Mail card and reserve Antu.

March 2 and 3—Place small amounts of different kinds of non-poison bait to encourage rats. (Do not poison bait on March 2 and 3.)

March 4—In afternoon place bait mixed with Antu. Follow directions carefully. Pen up cats and dogs.

March 6—Return card secured with Antu, giving your results.

Follow-up method will eliminate rats if two rules are observed: 1. Eliminate their food. 2. Eliminate their shelter.

Friendsville—Harvey Friend, Clover Farm.

Accident—Broadwater's Store.

Mt. Lake Park—Garage Center.

Oakland—Southern States.

HERE ARE EIGHT of the 28,000 people who are Esso Standard Oil Company today. From Dorothy the telephone operator to Ed, the salesman, they have two things in common...they're mighty good people, in mighty good jobs.

The average length of employment for all our workers is over 14 years. Over 8,400 have been with us over 20 years. Their skill and loyalty on the job help a lot, day after day, in turning out quality products in this highly competitive business.

One reason for this unusually good working team is the unusually good jobs they have. Over 30 years ago this company set out always to be a good outfit to work for...to give the human needs of workers a key place in all planning.

With employees, their unions, and management all working steadily together, this policy has led to many unusual job advantages. It has kept wage rates high. It has led to employee benefit plans which include retirement with life income at 65, cash-savings plans, vacations with pay, generous accident and sickness benefits.

But the important point is how this combination of good workers in good jobs has had good results for so many people...Good for the workers, of course. Good for the company. Good for the thousands of stockholders who own the company. Good for the communities where these people make good taxpayers, good customers of local stores, good neighbors.

And good results for you, in your car or home or factory or on your farm.

Today, for instance, the whole petroleum industry is working overtime to meet the greatest demand for its products in all history—and this staff of skilled, experienced people is your assurance that everything possible is being done with this company's facilities to meet your needs for more and better petroleum products.

An Example To Follow . . .

We have saved a quotation for several weeks, hoping to be able to use it in such a way that it would not be termed too political, since it was spoken by Rep. Dewey Short, of Missouri, at the Lincoln Day dinner in Cumberland several weeks ago.

"Friendship that has to be purchased isn't to be trusted," he said, and followed it up with this, "The more we give to foreign countries the more they will want. Callous, indiscriminate giving is an ignoble philanthropy. We don't want a world WPA to make mendicants and beggars out of those countries."

When we heard the Filipino, Dr. Diosdada Yap, on Monday night express himself against such indiscriminate giving to Europe, we knew that his remarks had no political background. He pointed with pride to the fact that the Philippines had a balanced budget after 2½ years, in spite of the terrific upheaval left by the war, and that the country had built up its own economy by producing agricultural products that could be sold. They have received no part of the billions already thrown into foreign countries in an effort to try to stem communism. He felt the communistic influence around the borders of European and Asiatic countries was being dramatized in order to get the billions to flow more freely.

So we emphasize that true friendship cannot be gained by purchase. A much better way, to our way of thinking is to carry out on a large scale what the A. A. U. W. is doing in having fellowship students from foreign lands to come here to study and to learn our ways of democracy. Let there be a free exchange of students all over the world. And let each country be left free to rehabilitate itself, with citizens of those countries working out their own economy.

We'd have a much more sound country too, if we tried balancing our own budget.

Filipinos Tied To Americans In Many Ways, Speaker Asserts

How the Filipinos were tied to Americans, morally, culturally and spiritually, and the place of the Philippine islands in far eastern affairs, were outlined to the 250 or more persons who attended the opening forum Monday evening by Dr. Diosdado Yap, of Washington, D. C.

Dr. Yap gave a historic background concerning the youngest republic in the world today that was entirely new to most of his listeners.

Giving Spain her credit for contributing arts, culture and civilization, and bringing Christianity to the only present Christian nation in the Orient, nevertheless Dr. Yap termed his country one that "America had built."

The Philippines had been a republic for 24 days during 1898, prior to the arrival of the Americans after the defeat of Spain and the people did not take kindly at first to the American occupation. "It was the G.I.'s of 1898 who made the humble beginning in good will by educating and teaching children the fundamentals of America," Dr. Yap said.

With the highest standard of living in the Orient the Filipinos are living in the American way and are giving the Americans credit for keeping the faith in giving them their independence.

He recalled the activities during the Japanese occupation and earnestly declared that they would "never forget" the atrocities committed.

Balanced Budget

He pointed out that his country, although suffering from effects of war, had a balanced budget after 2½ years, and had built up its own economy, producing agricultural products which had been sent to the United States. He said the islands had subversive activities there just like other places and declared the communistic influence in European and Asiatic countries had been dramatized with the hope of getting more money to flow from America to those countries. He said his country had been the forgotten country in this respect.

In concluding he said world conditions today demanded a better understanding of our neighbors, and the part the Philippines played in the world affairs depended on America's policy toward the world.

The Philippine independence already was causing its effects in nearby Asiatic areas.

Dr. Yap was introduced by Dr. E. I. Baumgartner. Dr. Denver C. Pickens, Rotary president, welcomed the people to the forum and explained the purpose of the Rotary club in bringing such speakers to Oakland. Dr. Yap answered a number of questions at the end of his scheduled talk.

Athletic Situation Is Booster Club Topic For Discussion

R. Bowen Hardesty, assistant superintendent of schools, will discuss the athletic situation at Oakland High school, at a dinner meeting of members of the Boosters' club, to be held next Tuesday, March 9, at 6 p. m., at the William-James hotel.

The club was organized primarily to promote high school athletics, help set up football in the new high school and assist the school authorities to promote basketball and baseball, according to Emeric Dusic, president.

About sixty are expected to attend the dinner.

Last Friday at the Oakland-Barton basketball game the new electric score board was officially presented to the high school by the Booster club through its president, who said, "We hope this will be the beginning of a new era in athletics for Oakland High school." F. D. Bittle, principal, responded for the school and accepted the board, expressing gratitude that the citizens of the community are showing such great interest in the school and its athletic program. Members of the club were guests at the game.

The club hopes to have a state athletic man at a future meeting to learn more about the state set-up on athletics for schools the size of Oakland, Mr. Dusic said. He said he hoped a full time athletic director could be had for the new high school so that all students could participate in some kind of an athletic program.

Fellowship Student To Speak at A.A.U.W. Meeting on Friday

Educational Program Discussed at Regular Session on Monday Evening

Plans for the dinner meeting of the Garrett branch of the American Association of University Women, to be held at Pickwick Inn on Friday, March 5, at 6:30 o'clock, were discussed at a business session on Monday evening. Ten of the 15 members were present.

The branch extended an invitation to any interested person to make a reservation for the dinner with Mrs. Harvey Mussard, Fellowship chairman, not later than Thursday.

Miss Ludmila Hlavacova, an A.A.U.W. international student from Czechoslovakia, who is studying English literature at the University of West Virginia, will be guest of the local branch and will speak to the group.

Miss Hlavacova was 14 when the Germans invaded Czechoslovakia, according to Miss Ruth Keller, local president. Her school was closed by the Germans, her father was executed. She went on with her studies, entered Charles university in Prague and was forced to take a job in the Skoda munitions factory. After liberation she served as secretary-interpreter for the American army.

Miss Hlavacova is one of 54 international students who are studying in the United States on A.A.U.W. international study grants or fellowships. This program is to prepare women for aiding in the reconstruction of their homelands and builds Friendship between the U. S. and other countries.

Educational Program

Mrs. Mabel Brock, chairman of the Educational committee, used as her discussion on Monday, "Looking at the Local Schools in Comparison with those of the country as a whole."

Some of her statements brought out these facts: "Crowded conditions in classrooms is widespread. Maryland now ranks third in base pay for teachers, so our teacher supply is better than in many states. There seems a need generally for overhauling subject matter, especially a need for introducing more courses in which students learn good citizenship and how to get along with other people."

Mrs. Brock visited the Mt. Lake school and it was her impression that a good job was being done there in these respects. Maryland's five-point program was discussed as to aims and actual achievement.

Mrs. C. W. Englander led the discussion on the nursery school as a guidance center, her source material being "The Infant and Child in the Culture of Today," by Arnold Iesell and Francis Ilk.

Mrs. Edward Smouse was named a delegate from the local branch to attend the sixth annual meeting of the Maryland State division, to be held in Hagerstown April 2 and 3. The discussion will center around "The Future of Education in Maryland."

The deed conveys about eight acres, the town retaining the area around Wilson dam, also amounting to about 8 acres.

Two Dairy Meetings Scheduled March 9-10

Extension Service Arranges for Meetings Next Week at Sunnyside and Grantsville

Feeding and breeding of dairy cattle is the topic for discussion at two dairy meetings which have been scheduled through the Extension Service, and to which all dairymen are invited.

The meetings will be held on Tuesday, March 9, at 8 p. m., at the Sunnyside Grange Hall, and on Wednesday, March 10, at 8 p. m. in the Grantsville High School.

John W. Pou, Extension dairyman, and secretary to the Maryland Artificial Breeding cooperative; and John W. Magruder, extension agronomist, will lead the discussion. John H. Carter, county farm agent, said the two speakers would bring up-to-date information about the dairy industry to local dairymen.

The two most important things that would determnie the net income from dairy herds are feeding and breeding, he said, both being so closely related that inefficiency in either would mean lower income per unit of labor.

Mr. Carter pointed out that the dairy industry in the county was progressing rapidly. The Dairy Herd Improvement associations and the artificial breeding circuit are sponsoring the two dairy meetings, hoping that they will do much to further promote the dairy business here. It was hoped that dairymen would use the meetings for discussion of local problems.

Firemen Recommend Community Building

At a regular meeting of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department held last night, the building committees of the department submitted proposed plans and made recommendations for the erection of a fire house. It was proposed that city offices be included in the plan and also a community hall to be used for basketball, band practice hall and other community activities. This could also be used for convention headquarters, banquets and other town functions, it was pointed out.

The committees reported that such a building could be erected at a cost of around forty-five to fifty thousand dollars and that with the cooperation of town officials, local organizations and money saved by the fire department for this purpose, that no additional burden would be added to the taxpayers.

The department also voted to have the annual banquet on Wednesday evening, March 31st. At this meeting service stars will be awarded to a number of members. Stars are given for each five years of service. Members of the department and invited guests will attend.

The annual Fourth of July celebration will be held on Monday, July 5th, and committees will be appointed to take care of the various functions, including a mammoth parade of fire departments and other organizations, and entertainment for all.

Three additional names were drawn from the jury box which were Francis R. Shaffer, Oakland, in place of Mason; William D. Casteel, Oakland, in place of Bennett; and George H. Hanst, Oakland, in place of Keller.

Dwight L. Stover, said only two important cases would be brought before the grand jury. George Lewis, Vindex, is on bond in connection with a charge of manslaughter by automobile, and Leroy Swauger is being held on a charge of rape. Other cases to come include larceny, burglary, and a few others.

CONTESTS FOR CITY OFFICES A CERTAINTY

Two File For Mayor And Five Persons Want Three Council Positions

Contests for the position of Mayor of Oakland, and also for the three town council positions became a certainty last Friday afternoon when three candidates appeared just before the filing deadline, at the city hall.

They were Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., candidate for mayor; and John Stevenson, Jr., and Robert W. Lohr, candidates for council, all members of the Oakland Fire Department.

Joseph W. Hinebaugh had filed as a candidate for mayor on Thursday afternoon, and the three members of council whose terms expire, had filed for re-election sometime ago. They are Ralph Pritts, Harry L. Stemple and Earl Shartzer.

Miss Julia Rowan, city treasurer, was the only one to file for that position.

More interest than usual is being displayed by the citizens, as the result of an agitation for the community building to be built this year.

Several years before the war the citizens approved a bond issue of $25,000 to construct a community building. Some of the bonds were sold and out of the proceeds the Helbig property was purchased for $8,000, and lot south of the Coca-Cola plant on Third street was bought for $4,000.

The firemen are proposing a combined fire house and community building which would also have an auditorium for all civic uses, conventions, basketball and other recreation. They estimate the cost at $50,000 to $60,000 and the funds could be obtained, they say, without any additional burden on the townspeople and without any increase in the tax rate. With the sale of the remainder of the community bonds, sale of the present city hall, and the amount now in the fire department treasury, most of the funds would be available, it was stated, and the firemen would take responsibility for payment of the balance.

Some candidates for city offices are declaring they are not opposed to the new building but feel that the town's water supply, the additional sewerage system around the hospital area, and other questions should be dealt with first.

Also on the ballot this year will be the question of whether or not to have daylight saving time for the town of Oakland.

At last night's council meeting Miss Elizabeth West and Mrs. Mary Jones were named clerks, and Mrs. Harry L. White, James A. Kerins and R. C. Townshend, judges.

53 Percent of Taxes Collected Thus Far

Fifty-three percent of the county taxes for 1948 were collected at the office of Arthur H. Green, county treasurer, during the first two months of the year, it was announced yesterday. Citizens paying their county taxes during January and February were granted a five percent discount.

The total amount collected on county taxes from January 26 to February 28, inclusive, was $238,346.41. The entire amount to be collected for the year is $448,811.34.

State tax collected amounted to $9,527.32.

During March and April a discount of 4 percent will be allowed, and it was estimated that a sizable amount of tax money would be received during that time.

Mr. Green said that his office was now issuing license tags for automobiles and light trucks. Old tags expire on March 31.

TO THE CITIZENS OF OAKLAND

As I was requested by numerous citizens of Oakland to again represent them as councilman, I filed for this opportunity to do so. I have endeavored to serve the past years to the best of my ability.

I will think over carefully the problems that will come before the town of Oakland and try to do the best for all citizens and our taxpayers who pay the bills.

My past record as your councilman is open. I have not missed one regular meeting during my term in office.

Faithfully yours,
HARRY E. STEMPLE

Easy on the eyes — and ears

Standing still, it has the eager look of a pointer scenting game, so swift and flowing are its lines.

Sweeping by, it stands out unfailingly from the highway crowd, unmistakably a Buick and unquestionably the year's trimmest fashion plate.

But have you traveled in one of these tidy new beauties?

Have you seen for yourself how smooth and silent is its flow of power, how hushed and quiet is its ride?

This comes from many things. From Fireball power now Hi-Poised for throbless smoothness. From a Vibra-Shielded ride that is your ever-present protection against road-noise, body-drum and vibration build-up.

And it comes, in addition, from a brand-new development we call Sound-Sorber top lining.

It's a thick pad of feathery insulation much like that you use in your own home, and it goes into every closed model in our 1948 SUPER and ROADMASTER series.

This new lining cloaks your Buick in new and delightful silence akin to that of your own living room — silence that encourages normal-tone conversation, makes soft radio music clear and enjoyable throughout the whole car.

So you ride in quiet as well as beauty when you travel in this style star.

You find it a great-hearted lovely that is soft of voice and gentle of manner — a delight to the traveling ear, the guiding hand and the passing eye.

Don't just see it at your Buick dealer's—look into it with greatest care. The deeper you look the surer you'll be to see the wisdom of getting a firm order in now!

You shall have music— wherever you ride

Front seat or back, you listen to your radio at soft and undistorted volume in this new Buick. You talk without shouting, know freedom from rumble and din. Always cars of quiet comfort, the Buick SUPER and ROADMASTER step out still further with Sound-Sorber top lining—a Buick exclusive.

VOLUME SEVENTY-TWO

With today's issue, Volume 72 of The Republican gets under way, having been established March 4, 1870, by James A. Hayden.

Looking back to Volume 1, No. 1, we find the opening remarks of the editor still timely and voicing those of the present staff.

"With today's issue we commence publication of The Republican which we are warranted in saying will hereafter be a permanent institution in our community and which we propose to make a welcome weekly visitor to every household in the county.

"Its political status is sufficiently indicated by its name.

"We shall seek to make known, as widely as we can, the resources of our county, and urge our people to improve their opportunities in every possible way. We shall advocate more extensive and more thorough educational facilities and always espouse any measure that shall elevate the morals, add to the knowledge and improve the comforts of our people.

"We shall be glad to have correspondence from every section of the county upon all subjects of general interest.

"We shall seek to furnish for our family circles such reading as may interest and amuse that 'better' part of our homes, and in a word, furnish a paper that to sound political doctrines shall add usefulness and such literary excellence as shall make it indispensable in every well ordered home in Garrett County."

COMMUNITY BUILDING

Last night the firemen proposed construction of a community building which could be erected without additional burden to the taxpayers.

We have long favored the erection of such a building, as do the majority of Oakland citizens, they having voted upon the question at an election several years ago. The only "fly in the ointment" is the high cost of materials and labor, which makes it a doubtful proposition to some.

However, the firemen have a plan and are willing to take the responsibility. With the department bank account, money from the sale of the balance of the community building bonds, and the sale of the present building by the town, the firemen say they are prepared to borrow the balance necessary, if any, to erect the structure.

There should be a limit set as to how much could be spent, and it should be very plain that when completed, it would be a community building, owned by the town, and not the sole property of the fire company.

The needs of an adequate community building are evident several times a week. Let's get it under way.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

The exact wording to be used on the ballot in Monday's election leaves no doubt as to what people will be voting for.

"For Daylight saving time in Oakland, Md." and "against, etc." Those who vote in favor of this vote for daylight time, within the city limits alone, regardless of what the rest of the county does. It may mean confusion such as resulted last year. If that is what the citizens desire, of course they are privileged to vote that way, but we hope it is perfectly clear to all who cast their ballots.

Delegate Discusses Sanitary District Set-up Around Lake

To the Taxpayers of Garrett County:

Senate Bill No. 437 was sponsored, introduced and passed in the Senate by Senator Fraley in the regular session of the 1947 Assembly. This bill created the Deep Creek Lake Sanitary Commission.

On the back of tax bills sent out by the Commission under this Act you are asked to read the following carefully:

Sec. 129K provides that for the purpose of providing funds for the payment of necessary expenses incurred in the administration of said Sanitary District, the County Commissioners of Garrett County, shall levy, against all the assessable property within said Sanitary District, a special tax of 50 cents per $100.00. This is incorrect. The law is as follows:

Sec. 129K For the purpose of providing funds for the payment of salaries and for any other expenses incurred in the administration of this sub-title, there shall be levied against all assessable property within said Sanitary District, by the County Commissioners of Garrett County, a tax not to exceed 50 cents per $100.00 of assessable property in said District.

Sec. 129C The said Commission is authorized and empowered to appoint, employ, and discharge, at its pleasure, and fix the duties and compensation of an Engineer, an inspector and such other employees as it deems necessary to carry out the provisions of the sub-title. The Commission shall have the power and authority to utilize the services of the County Engineer or his assistant for such purposes.

The bill was re-written in the House putting it in the hands of the County Commissioners. It was quite different when it passed the Senate.

If there had been the least suggestion that the maximum amount of 50 cents would be used this bill would not have passed the House.

The Health Department has the authority to handle the Sanitary situation on the Lake and they should do it.

With a tax rate of $2.6113 on the Lake the power company will not have to close the Lake as it was rumored when this bill was being discussed. The tax collector will do it.

I intend to introduce a bill to repeal this law in the next session of the Legislature. If the Health Department does not take care of the Sanitary situation on Deep Creek Lake the people of Garrett County and the State of Maryland should do something about this Department.

R. E. McINTIRE,
Member House of Delegates

Bloomington Citizens Discuss Town Charter

The proposed charter and incorporation for the town of Bloomington were discussed at a meeting of about 50 citizens in that town on Monday evening.

The meeting was in charge of Charles Pattison. Senator L. M. Fraley and R. C. McComas, supervisor of assessments, attended, and the latter related some figures to give the citizens a picture of the assessable basis and how they could arrive at an adequate tax rate.

A committee was appointed to set definite town limits for taxing purposes.

County Streams To Get 14,000 Trout

Seventy-five Percent Are Brook Trout—All From Bear Creek Hatchery

A large scale trout-stocking program, calling for distribution of 20,000 fish in 14 or more streams of Garrett and Allegany counties, will be launched within the next week or ten days, according to Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden.

Fourteen thousand legal sized trout will be planted in nine and possibly twelve streams in this county, while 6,000 will be assigned to two trout streams of Allegany, Flintstone and Evitts creeks. The heaviest stocking will be brook trout which are native in this part of the country while the other 25 percent will be rainbow trout and brown trout. None of the trout will be less than eight inches in length and the general average will be 10-11 inches, Minke said. All of the trout are to come from the Bear Creek hatchery near Accident where James Beal is fish culturist. The stocking program is expected to be completed by April 1.

Another order of about 3,000 trout will be assigned to waters in this county at a later date this spring, it was stated.

Maryland's trout season opens April 15 and closes on July 15.

More Deer Released

The deer population here was also augmented last week with the release of ten Wisconsin bucks in the Table Rock and Swallow Falls areas. This makes a total of 98 Wisconsin deer to be released in this county in the past four years.

Minke declared the importation of western deer had greatly improved the breed of Western Maryland herds, those killed being heavier and having larger antlers.

Four hundred sixty legal kills were reported in the county during the six-day season last December. In Allegany county 149 bucks were slain which set an all-time high.

Think back, grown-up! There haven't been many joys in life that compare to the thrill of being read to. Remember—we came to know most of those stories by heart—and we loved them more each time we heard them.

Robin Hood and Little John—King Arthur and Sir Launcelot—they became old friends. And the heroes of our Bible stories—David and Daniel and the Boy Jesus in the Temple—they lived before our eyes as though the centuries had melted away.

Those stories helped to mold our lives. They taught us courage and faith. We sought to be like the heroes we loved.

Today, grown-up, your child needs the right stories. Are you taking advantage of the Church's program of religious education for youth? Are you giving your youngster the best start in life by making yours a worshipping, a church-supporting home?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE REPUBLICAN

Cup of Cold Water . . . . .

A cup of cold water was emptied last Friday on some community heads, when a Cumberland hospital superintendent explained to the Rotarians and a few guests the tremendous costs of hospitals, the size project we were undertaking in this county and the proportionate size of the annual upkeep.

Now a dash of cold water may deaden some spirits, but it also has been known to revive a fainting person, give him renewed energy and determination to go ahead with whatever project in which he is engaged.

The speaker cited government figures about veterans' hospitals costing $18,000 per hospital bed and pointed out we had a half million dollar project here, with an annual maintenance cost of perhaps one-third of that, or at least $100,000 to $130,000 exclusive of depreciation.

Other figures which he gave are the ones to give impetus to the need of prompt construction of a hospital here. Memorial hospital last year admitted 458 paying patients from Garrett county and 81 free patients. The free patients were paid through the county commissioners at $10.50 per patient day, or $10,500. At the same rate, the other patients could pay the same, which for 5,000 patient days would amount to $52,500.

No consideration was given to listing patients in Allegany hospital, Miners hospital, Potomac Valley, Parsons, Philippi, Clarksburg, Kingwood, Morgantown, which surely must add up to just as many. Perhaps some of these patients would continue to go away, but there would be hundreds of others who would take hospital care if it was available close at hand.

Such figures as he gave, although they serve notice that a project of this kind "needs a great deal of deliberate and careful consideration," should only serve to give this community more determination to see it through. Hundreds of people have shown by their contributions that they want it. Other hundreds will make themselves known when the project is actually under way.

20 INDICTMENTS ARE RETURNED BY GRAND JURY

Investigating Body Has Thirty-seven Witnesses Before It In Two-Day Session

After having examined 37 witnesses and finding twenty indictments and presentments, the March term grand jurors were dismissed by Associate Judge George Henderson on Tuesday evening after a two-day session.

The criminal docket will be taken up on Monday morning, March 22, at 9 o'clock, with either Judge Henderson, or Chief Judge William A. Huster on the bench.

Among the more important indictments, according to W. Dwight Stover, state's attorney, were the following:

George W. Lewis, charged with manslaughter by automobile, in the death of Leona Mayle, at Bloomington when his automobile ran off the bridge and went into the Potomac river.

Leroy Swauger, charged with statutory rape of a girl under fourteen years of age; Ernest Chaney, charged with sodomy; Edison Durr, charged with larceny and receiving stolen goods; James Peck, charged with false pretense in three separate offenses; Joseph B. Hughes and Robert W. Rizer, charged with burglary; Arley Michael and Orval "Buck" Sines, charged with assault with intent to murder. There were also a number of indictments for non-support and bastardy, Mr. Stover said.

To the Honorable the Judges of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland:

During our deliberations we have had before us and have examined thirty-nine witnesses, and have found Twenty Presentments and Twenty Indictments.

We have tried to weigh all evidence submitted to us carefully and where we felt the evidence warranted it, true bills were returned.

We believe the law enforcement officers of the County are doing everything possible to enforce the laws.

We have inspected the Court House and various county offices and find the records in the several offices to be well kept and in excellent condition, and we feel that the officials in

Czechoslovakian Life Discussed by Student

Twenty-Eight Attend AAUW Dinner to Hear Miss Ludmila Hlavacova

Life in Czechoslovakia and a comparison with the educational system and customs of her country and that of the United States were discussed formally by Miss Ludmila Hlavacova, Czech student from West Virginia university, at a meeting of the A.A.-U.W. and their guests last Friday night at Pickwick Inn.

Miss Hlavacova, who is studying in this country through an A.A.U.W. fellowship, appeared just as anxious to study our democracy, our way of life and to know Americans as she is to get the academic phase, accordcording to Miss Ruth Keller, president. Members of the club felt the talk to be one of the best they had heard in Oakland, she added.

Miss Hlavacova spoke informally about her personal life and made comparisons of the two countries in homes, conveniences, schools, politics and historical backgrounds, but was unwilling to speak of the present situation in her country, as she declared she was not a student of politics.

The picture she gave of her fellow countrymen left a feeling of admiration with the group. The school system which is free to all to go as far as their mental capacity will allow, includes six years of elementary school, thence to trade schools or six more years of "gymnasium," while those with greater mental capacity continue to college.

Her greatest comparison of the two countries was the speed of travel, with Americans always "rushing," while "we still have time for lengthy walks and to look at one picture for a long time."

Love of art, music and drama seemed to be on a high plane in her country, with politics a definite part of their school diet. She declared privately that when it came to international politics that Americans "haven't become students of the subject."

"Ata," (her nickname) is 23, stylishly dressed, considered attractive, has had 3½ years of medical work prior to coming to America. She is studying here for her master's degree in English Literature which she will receive in August. She is an "A" student at the university.

While serving under General Patton's army for six months as an interpreter, she drove a jeep and picked up a good bit of American slang about which her professors at college irk.

Her father, a surgeon, who had studied in Harvard and Hopkins, was with the British underground during the last war, was taken prisoner by the Germans and executed three years later.

About twenty-eight persons attended the dinner meeting.

Governor To Speak At Rotary Meeting

Governor W. Preston Lane will be speaker at a special meeting of the Oakland Rotary club and their guests next Thursday evening, March 18, at the William-James hotel. It is a program especially for "Ladies' Night."

'GREAT DILEMMA' IS SUBJECT OF FORUM ADDRESS

Dr. Wesley M. Gewehr, Chairman of University History Department, Will Be The Speaker

What America needs to do in order to play its part in the critical World situation will be discussed in the third lecture of the Oakland Rotary club's forum, at the Assembly Room of St. Paul's Methodist church on Monday, March 15. Dr. Wesley M. Gewehr, chairman of the History Department, University of Maryland, College Park, will be the speaker. His subject will be "The Great Dilemma."

DR. WESLEY M. GEWEHR

Dr. Gewehr is a middle-westerner and received his degree of Doctor of Philosophy in American History at the University of Chicago in 1922. He has held important teaching positions in a number of well known universities and colleges. In 1925 Dr. Gewehr spent a year in China where he served as exchange Professor of History at Tsing Hua College, Peking, and studied conditions in China and Chinese customs. From 1922 to 1929 he served as professor of History at Denison University. In 1929 he went to Washington where he became associated with the American University. He served as Chairman of the History department there until 1940 when he went to the University of Maryland.

In 1945 Dr. Gewehr was named as civilian Chairman of the history departments of the Army universities in England and France. In this capacity it was his responsibility to set up the teaching of his specialty in these GI schools. After getting this program established and successfully operating, he was assigned to the Army Educational Bureau in Germany and served on a discussion panel before soldier audiences throughout the American Zone of occupation. While in Germany he had the privilege of studying the condition of post-war Germany and its problems.

Dr. Gewehr is the author of a number of books, among them being The Great Awakening in Virginia, 1740-1790; The Rise of Nationalism in the Balkans, 1800-1930. In association with Dr. Ferdinand Schevill of Chicago University he wrote, "A History of the Balkan Peninsula."

Dr. Gewehr is considered not only a well informed man, but also a forceful and interesting speaker.

To Use Airplane Against Forest Fires

Authority for use of an airplane in forest fire suppression work in Western Maryland during the spring fire season has been granted by the State Forester's Office, District Forester William A. Parr revealed today.

In a preliminary test flight, on Tuesday, March 2, 1948, H. C. Buckingham, Director of the Department of State Forest and Parks, stated he had spotted six separate brush burning operations between Martins Mountain and Big Savage Mountain.

Parr said that private planes will be used, and arrangements will be made locally for this service. He stated that use of planes would make it possible to make a quick check of fires which are under control, but still need patrolling until completely out. Their use will supplement the work of patrolmen on the ground, and enable them to be used more effectively. Also, on days when weather conditions are serious, it will be possible to make a check after 4:00 p. m. to make sure that brush burning fires are not getting away.

Maple Syrup Season Is In Full Swing

The maple syrup and sugar season are in full swing in Garrett county this week, with exceptionally good runs being experienced the past few days.

The season actually began in February with a few warm days and cold nights which is essential to the running of the sugar water, but it was not until the past ten days that the activity got under way in earnest.

Producers are looking forward to a heavy production this year, as the past few years have resulted in about half crops.

Cost of Hospital Construction Is Stressed In Talk

Superintendent of Memorial Hospital Also Cites Figures On Maintenance

The tremendous cost of hospital construction today and some facts on the cost of maintenance, once a hospital is in operation, were some of the points discussed by Dr. Benjamin Wright, superintendent of Memorial hospital, Cumberlad, in a talk before the Oakland Rotary club last Friday evening.

Dr. Wright declared the operation of hospitals was the 5th largest industry in the world, employing over 600,000 people, with five billions of dollars in plant assets.

While he pointed out that many communities had withdrawn their plans for hospitals because of the complexity of cost and the continuance of responsibility, he declared that Garrett county, one of two counties in the state without a hospital, was first on the list when funds from the Hill-Burton act became available, which he thought would be within sixty days. Maryland was termed 9,400 hospital beds short of actual needs today.

He stressed the importance of location, the space given per hospital bed, and the kind of patients. He revealed that Memorial hospital alone admitted 458 paying patients from Garrett county last year totaling 5,000 patient days, and 81 free patients amounting to 1,000 patient days. The latter were paid by the county.

In a nation-wide survey it was learned that cost of hospital beds in veterans' hospitals in new construction were running $18,000 per bed for labor and material of building, and from $1,500 to $2,000 for fixed or movable equipment.

He declared the Oakland project would total half a million dollars and that it would take about a third of that to operate the hospital annually. This would include personnel which he estimated at $50,000 a year; food, about $12,000; medical supplies, $500; replacement of materials, $5,000; laundry, $10,000.

Due to the high standards which he said the public demanded it would be necessary to keep abreast of the medical profession in their advancement along medical lines.

At Memorial hospital he cited figures to show the average cost per day $9.18, with the average charge being $10.26.

He felt that a project of this kind needed a great deal of deliberation and careful consideration.

Killed By Bicycle

The Pittsburgh papers carried the story of the death of Milton Kenneth Lindsay, Jr., 10, of Pittsburgh, which ocurred when he fell from his bicycle just as a truck was passing.

He had received the bicycle for Christmas against the wishes of his mother. He was a fifth grade pupil and attended St. Paul's Lutheran Sunday school.

The lad is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Tasker, of Valencia, Pa., former residents of this county. He was the oldest of four children.

Hinebaugh Is Named Mayor of Oakland

Wins Over Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., in Spirited Election—Council Members Are Re-elected

Joseph W. Hinebaugh was elected mayor of Oakland by a majority of more than two to one, and confidence in the town council of the past year was expressed by returning all three men to office whose terms expired, at a spirited election here on Monday.

Hinebaugh won over his opponent, Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., 267 to 108. He succeeds the late Mayor A. G. Hesen, who died suddenly on February 11, of a heart attack.

Harry L. Stemple was high man among the council candidates with 255 votes, while Earl W. Shartzer, with 225, and Ralph Pritts, with 207, were re-elected by fair majorities over Robert W. Lohr who received 183, and John H. Stevenson, Jr., who received 179.

Miss Julia A. Rowan received 315 votes for treasurer. She was unopposed.

A feeler vote on daylight saving time preference showed a total of 184 in favor of daylight saving time in Oakland, as compared to 161 against.

The ballot question, which does not make daylight saving time mandatory, was understood to mean that the Mayor and Council were simply seeking the attitude of the community regarding fast time during summer months and would not necessarily be governed by it.

Around 80 percent of the registered voters or 387 to be exact, turned out to express their sentiments at the polls. Slightly over 500 persons are on the registration books of the town.

Hamill, Lohr and Stevenson, members of the local fire company, ran on a platform of a cleaner Oakland, efficient and regular garbage and trash collection, no raise in taxes, attendance at council meetings, a long range street building program, immediate action on improving the town water supply, and the prompt construction of a community building and fire house.

The election was the most spirited in several years. The hold-over members are Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, Prentice DeBerry and Edward Schmidt. The council will organize at the regular meeting in April.

Former Oaklander Is Educational Speaker

Miss Winifred Newman, of Charleston, W. Va., will be the guest speaker at a Business and Professional Women's club meeting in Parkersburg this evening.

Miss Newman, a former Oakland resident, and sister of Mrs. John Sisk, of Loch Lynn, is known throughout West Virginia as an outstanding educator and public speaker. She has been in Y.W.C.A. work since in college.

In professional life, Miss Newman is assistant superintendent of Kanawha county schools. She is a member of the Y.W.C.A. board, chairman of the personnel committee, also president of the Pilot club of Charleston, a member of the American Association of University Women and active in the League of Women voters.

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT TELLS OF PLANS FOR GARRETT COUNTY

R. Bowen Hardesty Discusses Overcrowded Conditions and Outlines Steps to Be Taken In Near Future

Figures to point out the overcrowded conditions in our schools today, not only in Garrett county, but throughout the state and nation, and the steps now being taken to correct this condition locally within the next few years, were outlined by R. Bowen Hardesty, assistant superintendent of schools at a dinner meeting of about 75 members of the Booster's club Tuesday evening in the William-James hotel.

Mr. Hardesty was also principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions club this week, at which time he spoke in similar vein.

Mr. Hardesty pointed out that increased school enrollments and halting of construction work in the last few years had forced schools to make use of classrooms in rented dwellings, hallways, basements and libraries. One high school rents a gymnasium from nearby West Virginia school, and has no shop. Another uses a stage for classrooms. Shops of all high schools except one are temporary structures. Libraries of all high schools are substandard, with too small rooms.

Only two high schools, he said, have space to provide a guidance room, which he termed so essential in a modern school. Only three of the 47 schools in the county house cafeterias. These and other crowded conditions were outlined and in addition children are being educated in poorly lighted one-room buildings heated by coal stoves with outside toilets and pumps.

All these conditions and problems in this county were not unlike those of other counties of Maryland which are also undertaking enormous building programs.

Other Courses

Other agencies contributing to future over-crowded conditions and a need for speeding up a county-wide building program were stated as follows:

1. 250 seventh graders who belong in high school buildings, now already seriously overcrowded, are being housed in elementary buildings in areas of Oakland and Grantsville.

2. The provision in our compulsory attendance law whereby some 14 and 15 year old pupils may withdraw from school has been removed by law, effective 1949, and will increase our county enrollment approximately 100.

3. Children who are now in the ninth grade will not graduate at the end of the eleventh year in June, 1950, but will enter our new twelfth grade in September, 1951. This means an approximate increase of 293 pupils.

4. By law, effective 1951, elementary class size must reduce from 35 to 30 pupils. This law alone will require more classrooms, but better educational opportunities for boys and girls working in these smaller groups will result.

School house building cost in 1947 alone has increased 30 percent, and the interest rate on bonds has doubled. There is no indication that they will decrease any in the next few years. However, in the meantime

The Society of Illustrators in New York City is offering a first prize of $1,000.00 in cash to any art student in the United States, who submits the winning illustration, in color, under the caption "It Took 171 Years to Build Our Home"—a patriotic scene depicting 171 years of progress and independence. The entry selected by the Maryland Institute of Art, in Baltimore, to represent that school, was designed and prepared by Aza Stanton, of Oakland. His painting is now in New York for final judging and awards will be announced in the near future.

Aza is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Claude Stanton and is in his second year at Maryland Institute, majoring in Magazine Illustration. His work at the institute has been outstanding.

Arden Boat Club Sold; May to Put Up New Structure

Announcement was made this week of the sale of the Arden Boat Club and 13.8 acres of ground in that area, by Arden May, to four men from Arlington, Va.

Mr. May also stated he planned to construct a building at Sand Flat, 105 by 30 feet, with a gasoline station, three store rooms, and 12 rooms with six shower facilities, for rental purposes.

He already has purchased $3,500 worth of steel and expects to begin construction in the near future. Mr. and Mrs. May's apartment will be in the building in addition to the 12 rooms.

The Arden Boat Club will be under the supervision of William J. Lochridge, of Arlington, Va., who will also maintain a hunting and fishing lodge in addition to the night club. He also expects to develop the area and erect a number of cottages. Other owners include Irvin J. Smith, William Siskin and Walter Plathe.

Rathbun Reports On State School Money

The State Department of Education reports that $149,632.02 has been paid to F. E. Rathbun, Treasurer, The Board of Education of Garrett County, as the third quarterly payment of the State's obligations for the financial support of the schools of Garrett County, the same running as follows:

Part Payment of Salaries	$ 2,450.00
$400 Per Classroom	17,690.00
$20 Per Pupil	23,186.67
Equalization Fund	97,356.35
Incentive Fund for Building	8,949.00
Total	$149,632.02

The State checks in payment of these amounts have been deposited in The Garrett National Bank, Oakland, Mr. Rathbun said.

The next quarterly distribution of State funds to the schools of this and other counties of the State will be made next June.

Only Partial Report On Rat Death Campaign Here

Only a partial report was available this morning on the quantity of rats poisoned throughout the county during the "rat death campaign", March 1 to 6, according to John H. Carter, county agricultural agent.

Only twenty-five cards have been returned but they show that approximately 300 rats were killed. Mr. Carter said around 325 cans of the poison were distributed.

150 Dairymen At Meeting This Week

Around 150 dairymen of the county attended the two dairy meetings held Tuesday and Wednesday, John H. Carter, county agent, reported. Around 100 attended the session at Sunnyside and about 50 at Grantsville.

Up-to-date information about the dairy industry were brought by John W. Pou, extension dairyman, and secretary to the Maryland Artificial Breeding cooperative; and John W. Magruder, extension agronomist.

Talk of Action For Sidewalk On Oak Street Bridge

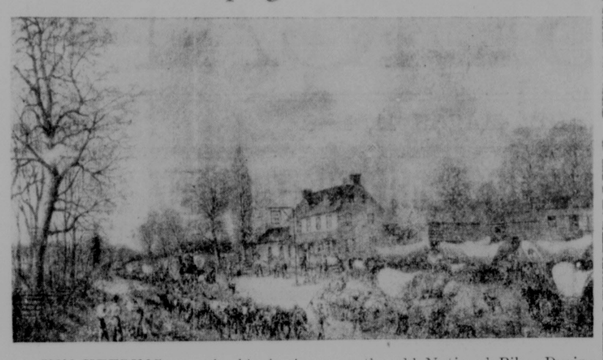
Some possibility of obtaining a foot bridge on the B. and O. overhead bridge on Oak street, was seen as the result of a letter recently to State Roads officials, by Senator L. M. Fraley.

Mr. Fraley met with G. Bates Chaires, district engineer, and Harold E. Rook, county engineer for the State Roads commission, on February 4, and discussed the dangers there, because of the lack of sidewalk, and also talked about some signal light at the Red House crossroads of U. S. routes 50 and 219.

Mr. Chaires wrote William F. Childs, Jr., chief engineer, on February 6, favoring some action, and last Friday some officials were here to make a check on the traffic over the bridge. The results showed 1455 vehicles and 365 pedestrians crossed the bridge during that day. The bridge is narrow and pedestrians must use the highway to travel.

Mr. Fraley said he also would make a request for a foot bridge along the bridge over Deep Creek Lake at Railey's. The bridge there is 600 feet long.

Inn and Innkeeping On the National Road



INN KEEPING was the big business on the old National Pike. During the golden years, 1842-53, taverns and inns averaged one per mile from Cumberland to Uniontown. Of the innkeepers, Jacob Brown, the Grantsville historian wrote:

Most of them were known to the writer in early life personally, and the rest by tradition, as it were. They were a very influential class of people, because they were great consumers, and afforded a market for nearly the whole product of the neighboring country. Some of them were prominent citizens in the different relations of life; others were arrogant, boisterous, or rough. Nearly every person had something to do with the hotel keepers; indeed they were both deferred to and feared, especially in the more early times.

These hotels or inns were in most cases, especially in early times plain log or frame houses often with additions as needed. However, there were some brick and stone edifices, notably at Grantsville and Little Meadows. In busy seasons the inns were often overcrowded, but the long common table in the dining room was loaded with good food from the mountain farms, as well as game from the forests. In the front part of each inn was the bar room, supplied with cheap corn whiskey and sometimes brandy and gin. Whiskey sold for about twenty cents per gallon and was doled out at three to five cents per drink. Hotel rates were moderate but not uniform; stage passengers paid fifty cents per meal: drivers and others much less.

Note: For additional data on the inns and innkeepers see Searight's "The Old Pike" and Brown's "Miscellaneous Writings" in the GCHS library.

West from Frostburg some of the inns were:

SAND SPRING TAVERN at the foot of Savage Mountain was kept in 1836 by the widow Ward. When snow fell a foot deep during the night of October 3, Mrs. Ward's yard was crowded with teams and wagons; they stayed over a day, the road being blocked by fallen timber.

THOMAS BEALL, as early as 1830, kept a tavern at the foot of Little Savage. Thomas Johnson, who succeeded Beall, was a fiddler; he owned a negro, a good dancer. Night after night, in the cheerful bar room, Dennis danced the "double shuffle" to his master's music.

JOHN RECKNOR kept a well known wagon stand as early as 1830 at the eastern approach to The Shades of Death. It was a log and frame structure, shaded by pine trees, on the north side of the road.

THE BRUMLEY INN at Piney Grove, on the Johnson property, was a frame building on the north side of the road, a stage stop. Joshua and Thomas J. Johnson were sons of Gov. Thomas Johnson, one of the largest land owners in this county.

NEAR PINEY GROVE Isaac Beall, M. D. Cade and others kept an old wagon stand. Cade died there in 1843.

LITTLE MEADOWS* had the oldest inn on the road—the log Red House Inn, established by Joseph Tomlinson in the 1760's. Here the Braddock and National roads coincide. When the National Road was built, Jesse, son of Joseph Tomlinson, erected the Stone House Inn. His son-in-law, Jacob Sides, operated the property and after him, in turn, Endsley, Thistle, Stoddard, Huddleson, Fairall, Cross and Mahaney. In the years of its decline Basil T. Garlitz, followed by George L. Layman, kept the Stone House Inn. Washington used to stop at the old Red House Inn. James K. Polk dined at the Stone House on his way to Washington in 1845, when Huddleson was host; the president-elect addressed a meeting of the neighborhood people. Jonathan Huddleson moved into the Stone House in 1842 and operated the inn for its six most profitable years; he also operated the farm and a store, and was for a time superintendent of the road. In 1862 W. M. F. Magraw, son-in-law of Jacob Sides, owned the property; he remodeled and improved the tavern. It is now a farm house.

IN SMOOTH VALLEY William Woodin kept an inn and small store until his death in 1834. His widow continued the business until she turned it over to her son-in-law, Peter Yeast.

AT THE LITTLE CROSSINGS BRIDGE there was no tavern prior to 1836. Subsequent to that year a tavern was established there by Alexander Carlisle. His house was a large frame structure on the south side of the road, kept later by John and Samuel McCurdy, David Johnson, Elisha Brown, Jacob Conrad and David Mahaney.

GRANTSVILLE had several hotels. In 1843 Henry Fuller built the National House, one of the few hotels of the olden times which is still in service. John Slicer was owner and operator in 1870. Arthur Lowry now operates the National. It is the town stop for all busses.

ADAM SHULTZ in the 1840s built a large brick tavern in the east end of Grantsville. His son, Perry, operated it until 1852. Part of the building is incorporated in the present High School building.

SOLOMON STERNER built the Casselman Hotel in 1842, and operated it until his death ten years later, when he was succeeded by his son, Archibald. It was a prosperous wagon stand. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Fahey are the present operators of the Casselman.

THOMAS THISTLE, as early as 1836, kept a tavern near the foot of Negro Mountain. He was one of the oldest and best known tavern keepers on the road. In 1844 William Dehaven kept the Thistle tavern, later Levi Dean.

THE HALDEMAN TAVERN on the east slope of Negro Mountain was kept by the widow of Haldeman, who married Daniel Smouse, Sr. It was a log building on the south side of the road, surrounded by spacious grounds, crowded at night with six-horse teams and canvas covered wagons.

ON NEGRO MOUNTAIN Dennis Hoblitzell presided in 1836. The tavern was of stone, celebrated in later years as a resort of "pig pelters," when it was kept by William Sheets.

THE STODDARD TAVERN on the east slope of Keyser's Ridge, in service as early as 1820, was occupied by James Stoddard prior to 1840. Stages stopped here as well as wagoners and travelers of every description. The "log cabin boys" of the Harrison-Tyler campaign of 1840 stopped over night at Stoddard's.

TRUMAN FAIRALL built a tavern on Keyser's Ridge in 1840 and operated it until 1853, when he moved to Iowa. The Stockton line of coaches stopped at Fairall's. John Woods also kept a tavern on the Ridge.

DANIEL FEAR kept a wagon stand tavern two miles west of Keyser's Ridge; a frame house on the north side of the road.

WEST UNION TOWNE. Prior to 1774 Aaron Parker settled at the Bear Camp, the junction of the Morgantown and Braddock roads, on Bear Camp Run (now Mill Run). James Brooks and Parker's settlement surveyed in a tract called "The Hotell". John Simkins settled on this land about 1787 and operated one of the noted inns on Braddock's Road; but the new Cumberland Road passed a mile north of Simkins' inn and his business was ruined. Then the Morgantown road was extended from the Bear Camp to the new road, and at the junction Simkins and Gov. Johnson laid out "West Union Towne". In 1823 Simkins sold two lots, with buildings, in the new "towne" to James Reynolds, who operated the house as a tavern until 1843, when Daniel Fear took over the business. The Augustine House was just west of Reynold's. West Union with its inns dissappeared after travel was diverted to the railroads.

OVER THE STATE LINE near the crest of Winding Ridge, John Welsh built his stone tavern about 1819, and at the foot of the ridge John Wable kept a tavern as early as 1820. Wable died there and his sons built a larger frame tavern, later owned and operated by the Augustines.

IN PETERSBURG (ADDISON) the first tavern was a frame house built by Gabriel Abrams. On the north side of the road Henry Wentling built and operated a tavern from 1820 to 1829. In 1832 Robert Hunter opened a tavern in a brick house on the south side of the road. Stage coaches stopped at Hunter's.

IN SMITHFIELD (SOMERFIELD) the Endsley House was the most noted old inn. It was built of stone in 1818 by Kinhead, Beck and Evans, the bridge builders. It was the headquarters of the Stockton stage line. Captain Thomas Endsley purchased the property in 1824.

It stands all alone like a goblin in gray,
The old-fashioned inn of a pioneer day,
In a land so forlorn and forgotten, it seems Like a wraith of the past rising into our dreams;
Its glories have vanished, and only the ghost
Of a sign-board now creaks on its desolate post,
Recalling a time when all hearts were akin
As they rested at night in that welcoming inn.
—James Newton Matthews.

Note: On July 4, 1792, a number of citizens of the County celebrated the day at the house of John Simpkins on the Allegany Mountain, where a dinner was provided and fifteen toasts drunk.

Tree Planting Time Approaching

Maryland has approximately 400,000 acres of land that should be reforested to protect the soils, streams, and harbors of the state. Harry W. Dengler, extension forester at the University of Maryland, reports that at the present time about 900,000 trees are planted in the state each year—enough for only 750 acres. At that rate it would take some 500 years to get the work done.

He calls attention of Maryland farmers to the fact that trees for planting on idle, abandoned, or badly eroded waste lands may be secured at a nominal cost from the Maryland Department of State Forests and Parks in Annapolis. Trees may be also obtained for roadside and windbreak plantings. Another source of trees, with certain restrictions, are the local offices of the Soil Conservation Districts and there are many private sources from which trees may be obtained.

Dengler recommends that planting be started when the ground is thoroughly warmed. This would vary from about March 20th on the lower eastern shore to April 15th in western Maryland counties. He advises farmers to check with local foresters or county agents for information on the types of trees best adapted to local conditions. Trees may be planted especially for Christmas tree use, for fence posts, or for forest growth. The variety should vary with the need.

DEER PARK

The Deer Park Homemakers club met at the home of Mrs. Mary Mayle with Mrs. Evelyn Perando presiding. A lesson on a pressure cooker was given by Mrs. Doralee Clary. Mrs. Mary Rollman directed group singing. Mrs. W. W. DeWitt, county president, and Miss Jessie Guard, gave a report on the Rural Women's Short Course, to be held at College Park June 14 to 19. The club voted $5.00 to the Red Cross. Twenty-five members were in attendance. Three new memoers were added. The next, meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Francis Clary with Mrs. Doralee Clary assisting. Mrs. Grace Thrasher, one of the first members to join the club, told of her hobby which is a specially built cabinet wired with electricity containing more than four hundred sets of salt and pepper shakers. No two are alike.

There's New Glamour in the Way it Goes

TAKE the glamour of its tapered gracefulness for granted, if you will. One glance tells you it's tops.

Take an inside peek at its newly fashioned interiors—and see if you're not dazzled by the luxury that greets your eyes.

But wait—just wait—till you learn what makes this banner beauty run off with the year's high honors on the highway. Dollars to drachmas—you'll fairly itch to get in and GO!

For now your right foot commands a Fireball power plant that's as eager as a panther on the prowl—yet is so quieted in purr and pulse you barely sense its telltale throb.

Now you slip through traffic or light out cross-country as relaxed as a baby with his bottle—in a body that's bountifully big, cozily cushioned, and insulated against the usual noises of traveling.

Now you experience the first scientific system ever devised to shield a car's ride against road noise, shake and the vibration build-up that previously took advantage of an automobile's tendency to play sound box.

Now you ride the washboard roads and cobbles as though they were carpet—thanks to coil springs all around—plus extra-low-pressure tires, carried on Buick's own wider, more stable Safety-Ride rims.

And last but best, if a Roadmaster's your choice, you can enjoy the really effortless driving—in a new kind of drive that not only frees you of gear-shifting, but that doesn't even shift itself!

It's Dynaflow Drive*—a drive that's devoid of all halt, lag and hesitation through all speed ranges—because here, for the first time, the power plant itself does what gears used to do.

Fact is, you'll find the new Buick sparkling with more than a score of new advances—in ten brilliant models that span three series and give you your choice of three wheelbases and four power ratings.

So why dally? Here, certainly, is the dilly of the year for smartness and roominess—for the newest in driving ease and riding relaxation—and for all those basic bounties that are forever Buick's.

Place your order with your dealer now—whether or not you have a car to trade—and hasten the day when you'll reach those motoring heights you hanker for.

"The Christ of Passion Sunday!" The Gospel for the fifth Sunday in Lent shows that our Lord faced His enemies with unusual courage. "I am come to send fire on the earth," He once said. Along the Potomac to Washington

By J. Glenn Beall

Debate on the European Recovery Program legislation started in the Senate the first of last week where it is expected the measure will come to a vote around March 15th. A determined effort will be made by a score or more of Senators to write amendments into the bill which will prevent any of the benefits of American aid to Europe finally reaching Russia or the Soviet satellite nations. It is being claimed that nearly a billion dollars of American money went into Czechoslovakia, in one form or another, between the time the war ended and that country came under the domination of Communist Russia. Over on the House side of the Capitol General Wedemeyer, whose report on China has been suppressed by the Administration, testified before the Foreign Affairs Committee. The General insisted that the furnishing of financial or economic aid to China would not alone be sufficient to stop the spread of Communism in that section of the globe; and if military aid is not given China, America will pay in blood for her failure to extend such aid.

The House had before it for consideration this week legislation to guarantee continued production of synthetic rubber in this country for at least two years to come, with the probability the Government will keep some sort of control over synthetic rubber production for an even longer time. Certain Government-owned rubber plants will be kept in stand-by condition ready to start production on short notice. Others will be sold or leased to private manufacturers, subject to Government control of production. The use of certain amounts of synthetic rubber in the manufacture of tires will be continued.

The Senate is expected to take up the Knutson Tax Reduction Bill soon after the middle of the month, following the Senate vote on the European Relief Program legislation. The Senate Finance Committee has already given its approval to the general plan for reduction of individual income taxes this year, but when the Senate completes its work on the Knutson measure it will probably call for an over-all tax reduction of somewhere between four and one-half and five billion dollars instead of the six billion dollar cut contained in the House Bill.

The Viers Mills Village Project

Having several requests and an especially strong one from Brooke Johns, President of the Montgomery County Board of Commissioners, I introduced a Resolution seeking an investigation of the Viers Mill Village Housing Project, located in Montgomery County between Silver Spring and Rockville.

I want to find out just what is back of this whole project—to ascertain whether or not the veteran is actually getting full value for the money he puts into a home. Off hand, I feel that the price of these houses, which will number 1,400 when completed, is far too much for the type of dwelling offered. A complete inquiry into this development has already begun. It's time we know the full facts.

Under The Dome

A delegation from Frederick came to Washington the other day and we went to the Post Office Department in connection with the first day's sale of the Francis Scott Key commemorative stamp. Included in the group were Guy Matter, Postmaster; Chas. Bowers, President of the Historical Society; Elmer Eshelman, President of the Chamber of Commerce; Glenn Swisher and Robert Nicodemus.

I introduced a bill that would repeal the District of Columbia business privilege tax, because I feel that this tax is unnecessary and unfair to the average business man.

It's good to report that we were able to get a Bailey bridge from the Public Roads Administration to replace a span destroyed by flood destroyed by flood waters near Corrigansville.

The Committees were very active this week. Judiciary Committee met in executive session and agreed to recommend favorably H. J. Resolution 9, proposed amendment to the Constitution with respect to the election of the President and Vice President which would abolish the Electoral College, etc. Committee on Un-American Activities conducted an open hearing relative to recent findings of the Civil Service Loyalty Board with reference to Dr. Condon of the Bureau of Standards. Armed Services Legal Sub-Committee met on investigation of disability retirements and heard Secretary of Defense Forrestal and Major General John E. Dahlquist, Department of the Army. Agriculture Committee met on various bills reorganizing the administration and handling of soil conservation activities in the Department of Agriculture.

You may be interested to know that the President signed H. R. 4141 to amend the National Service Life Insurance Act by extending for 2 years the time within which eligible persons may apply for gratuitous insurance benefits.

THREAT TO DEMOCRACY

The losers in Monday's municipal election are worthy of the sincere congratulations of their fellow citizens for a very special reason.

That reason: They were the means of creating more interest in a municipal election than has been the case for the past several years.

Dr. Harold Benjamin, in his forum address on Monday, mentioned in his question and answer period that the greatest threat to democracy today was the indifferent attitude of citizens, and cited particularly the number of Oakland citizens who weren't even registered to take part in a municipal election.

About 80 percent of those registered did vote on Monday. Of course the candidates had their share in this interest, with their automobiles to take the voters to and from the polls. But there are many others who should be on the voting books and who should take an interest in community affairs.

As we have pointed out before, unless we use the privileges which we have as a democracy, it is possible for them to be taken away from us eventually, by communistic or other groups from within or without our borders.

Details of the bazaar and style show sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's club, in cooperation with local merchants, will be discussed at a meeting of the women's group this evening at the William-James hotel.

The style show is scheduled for Friday, March 19, in the Episcopal Parish House, beginning at 7:30.

Six stores will participate in the style show, while fourteen other merchants will have exhibits.

many of our schools lack adequate classrooms, and the number of extra classrooms needed will increase constantly through September, 1951.

To Evaluate Program

Four members of our State Department of Education will come to Garrett County early in April to work in evaluating the present educational program to determine to what extent our instructional offerings are meeting the needs of our boys and girls. Dr. Clarence Newell, University of Maryland; Dr. E. L. Morphet, Florida State Department of Education; Dr. N. L. Englehart, New York City State Department of Education, building consultants, will visit and evaluate the physical conditions of all 47 school buildings, and then recommend a master county-wide school building program. The local school administration is charged with the responsibility of seeing to it that new buildings are functional ones which are carefully "tailored" to fit the contemplated subjects and programs of the school and community activities. To assist in this early preliminary and also final planning, arrangements are being made for the early employment of a competent architect with wide experience in school building, Mr. Hardesty said.

Building intelligently and wisely will entail working together among School Board, County Commissioners, school authorities, teachers, community citizens, P.-T.A. Council, interested clubs, school personnel and architect, it is our fervent desire to prevent building short-comings which could handicap not only the education of the present generation of youth but also children yet unborn who will occupy these same proposed school plants. Therefore, the utilization of a month or six weeks in making carefully laid plans based upon present facilities, present and predicted enrollment figures, population growth and educational program trends will result in economy in a long term investment of buildings. It is dubious that any building in Garrett County to house as many as a thousand pupils could be fully ready for occupancy as early as September, 1949, he stated.

Gives Reason For High Accident Rate

To the Editor:

I noticed in last week's paper about the staggering account of people being killed in auto accidents and the amount being crippled and wounded. But stop and think for a minute what is the cause of a lot of this man slaughtering.

If we allow intoxicating drink places along our highways, several to the mile, then stop and ask yourself why there aren't any more crippled and wounded. Let's all get together and get rid of this man slaughtering, home robbing and degrading monster, drink. Remember, a drunkard cannot enter the kingdom of heaven.

"Prince Edward Island is Canada's most blessed province. It has no unemployment and very little poverty. Though it permits divorce and has a divorce court provided for, only one divorce was granted in sixty years. There are no highwaymen, no gangsters, no commercialized vice, no real crime problem, and no penitentiary.

"There are only thirteen policemen for its 90,000 people, and it has had no execution in forty years . . . Its per capita savings rank proportionately greater than in any other Canadian province, and for its size it has more railways, more post offices, more telegraph lines than any other province. It is estimated that there are over 10,000 motor cars on the island, and the roads are winding and dangerous, yet in some years there are as low as two motorcar accidents.

"Is Prince Edward Island Heaven? There must be some catch in all this. No.; it is simply that the islanders adopted prohibition of the beverage alcohol traffic many years ago (in 1900), believe in and practice it, and have let it work out its own consequences. —Signs of the Times (Canada).

Respectfully yours,
SAM YODER

As there is a great need reported by our Missionaries in Japan, members are being requested to bring used or new candles, good worn used clothing, shoes (no high heels) and bedding to be sent to this country ravaged by war, typhoon and floods.

Free State Forestry

Maybe this column should be called "Swivel Chair Forestry" today inasmuch as the topic for discussion is a question which was brought out during a conservation with a couple of fellows in a gas station in the county. While talking about the plantations which are scattered about the county, the question arose as to whether these trees had not been planted too thick.

The majority of these plantings were made with a six by six spacing being used, that is trees were planted six feet apart each way. Using this spacing, it requires 1,210 trees to plant an acre of ground. To be sure older timber does not contain nearly this many trees per acre; however if a farmer were going to plant corn would he plant only one tenth of the field? The idea behind this close spacing when making the planting is the utilization of the planting site. Also even though part of the trees were damaged at some future time, there may be sufficient number undamaged to provide the basis for a well stocked stand in the future. True enough some times an epidemic attack of insect or disease will wipe out an entire planting regardless of the number of trees but other times only a portion of the total number will be injured.

Referring to the utilization of the site, even this many trees per acre will not fully utilize the site during the first years of the plantation; however present plantings in this county indicate that trees planted on this spacing will if a sufficient number of trees survive, more or less fully utilize the site within ten to fifteen years. This is also dependent upon the species in question. That is, pine will cover a site more quickly than Northern white Cedar when using the same spacing. Some plantations may close even sooner than this.

As the trees become larger and the branches close together some of the trees can be removed for Christmas trees or other similiar products. This will give the remaining trees additional growing room which is necessary to maintain the maximum growth rate and at the same time some return is coming off of the area.

As the trees close together, the lower limbs will begin to die for lack of light. This is a natural process and is called "natural prunning". By this means a tree will eventually begin to put on clear wood after these dead limbs are removed or fall off. If a stand of conifers has not been thinned previously, it is recommended that it should be thinned when the height of the dead branches equals about one third of the total height of the tree. It is a good idea to pick out a number of the best trees in the plantation and consider these as "crop trees" or the final trees to be removed. Thinning should then be done in such a manner to give these trees the required amount of room for best development. By this means, some unnecessary work may be eliminated. By the time the trees have reached this size, the ones which are removed should be large enough for some use, such as pulpwood, fuel, etc.

In some places a thinning which is made at this time is combined with a prunning operation on the selected crop trees. Prunning consists in removing the side branches in order to encourage the production of clear or knot free wood. Prunning is sometimes restricted to the first log of the tree as this is often the most valuable. In this case, the prunning is or can be carried out in two operations, the first taking off the limbs as high as a man can reach from the ground and the second, made some years later, removing the remaining limbs to the required height. In any prunning, the limbs should be cut off flush with the bark. A saw does the best job as it leaves a smooth stub. The use of an axe is generally not recommended. One or two whorls of live branches can be remvoed without damaging the growth rate of the tree.

A six by six spacing appears to work rather well with the conifers which have been planted in this county. A closer spacing will necessitate a thinning operation when the trees are younger and may not produce merchantable material, and a wider spacing will not give as complete utilization of the site at first and at the same time the trees will tend to spread out more rather than going upward which is desired to gain the maximum amount of wood producing area on a tree.

Certainly a six by six spacing is not the only suitable arrangement which can be found; however, for general planting practices, it has worked quite well in Garrett county.

Productive Capacity Increases As Ratio of The Educated Expands

Large Scale Education Increases Community Resources and Technical Skills, Speaker Asserts

What the rapid expansion of secondary schools has done to increase community resources and technical skills of all types, was related to the forum listeners at the second of the series of talks sponsored by the Oakland Rotary club on Monday evening. The speaker was Dr. Harold Benjamin, dean of the college of Education of the University of Maryland.

Although pointing out the aims of such expansion as unreal and fantastic, yet the results of increased productive capacity, development in the technical field and in the social field have been such, in his opinion, to outstrip the world in these respects.

With the aim a number of years ago being to educate 100 percent of students of high school age, the enrollment of population of these secondary schools doubled every ten years.

He foresaw the present trend toward collegiate education as ultimately reaching a similiar goal and was of the opinion that when that occurred that with increased productivity there would be a corresponding increase in needs for jobs where technical skills would be needed.

Being an officer in both World Wars he declared he was in position to judge both types of soldiers and stated, although the veterans of World War I were resourceful, that the educational level of World War II soldiers was greater and that there was need of a greater technical skill which was supplied by the present day soldier.

Because of this education of all the people he pointed out that our capacity for productive output was on a ratio of four to one with any other country.

One field in which he felt there had not been so much development, and that one in which there must be a great expansion, was in the area of the spiritual, which include poetry, literature, music, arts, ethics, religion.

He was of the opinion, however, that what would be done depended more and more upon the support of the majority, and not of a small group of individuals. Only by a more active part of the majority could America progress in Democratic living, he concluded.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

By LOUIE D. NEWTON, D. D.

SCRIPTURE: Acts 20:17-38; Ephesians 5:6-21.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Philippians 4: 4-9.

Christian Character

Lesson for March 14, 1948

WHO is the most valuable person in your community? In many communities it has come to be the custom to select the Man of the Year or the Woman of the Year, the idea usually being to name the person, through a process of sampling of public opinion, who has rendered the outstanding service of the year.

Dr. Newton

Sunday's lesson is a dramatic scene out of the long ago, picturing a community's tribute to a truly great man, the apostle Paul. Read Acts 20:17-38, and you will have the story.

* * *

LOVED AND HONORED

THE first impression I get from this story is the fact that these people of Ephesus loved Paul. They loved him enough to lay aside their work and hasten to the nearby seaport of Miletus to see him for the last time, and to bow down in his presence and honor him.

Why did they thus love Paul? Because he had told them about God. You need but read again the record of Paul's ministry in that important city of Ephesus to be reminded of how greatly he had served them in the name of Jesus.

Loved and honored! What a tribute to the worth of Christian character! Wouldn't you appreciate the tribute which they paid Paul as the goal out yonder to which you strive? Boys and girls of today may thus be honored tomorrow, if they will live for Jesus as Paul did.

THE POWER OF RIGHT LIVING

PAUL not only told the Ephesians how to live, but illustrated day by day in his own life what he preached to them. The most eloquent sermons are not spoken, but lived. "What you are speaks so loudly I can't hear what you say."

The boy and man who plays the game straight are putting into practice what the teacher and preacher proclaims on Sunday. The power of right living will win its way today, just as it did in the long ago when Paul witnessed for Jesus in Ephesus.

It was not easy to live for Christ in Ephesus, nor is it easy to live for him in Chicago or Los Angeles or Boston or Miami, but it is the one way to ultimately impress the world of the reality of Christianity.

PAUL'S CONSUMING PASSION

WE ARE what we are becoming, and never was this axiom of life more powerfully illustrated than in the case of Paul. "I press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus," Philippians 3:14. And in Ephesians 5:6-21, Paul reviews the qualities of conduct which produce worthwhile character, admonishing all Christians to strive for these qualities.

"I live, yet not I, Christ liveth in me," is another of Paul's watchwords, and still again, "I can do all things through Christ, who strengtheneth me."

It was the consuming passion of his life to embody the teachings of Christ in his words and in his works. It is conceivable that the people at Ephesus had come to see Christ in the life of Paul, and that his daily ministry in their midst convinced them that God was in Christ reconciling the world unto himself.

* * *

WHAT AM I WORTH?

THE question then emerges, What am I worth to my community? When I come to the end of the journey, will the people who know me best honor and love me for what I have done?

I can see the people of Ephesus bowing on the dock at Miletus, kissing this weary old servant of the Lord. It is a beautiful scene. This tribute meant more to Paul than all the gold of Ephesus would have meant. It was compensation of abiding worth to him. And what is vastly more important, it was glory to God which must have evoked the praise of the angels about the great White Throne.

On God's Word

John Wycliffe, in the introduction to his translation of the Bible into English in 1380, wrote as follows: "When the teachings of the Bible are generally accepted and acted on, then shall we have a government of, for and by the people." Four hundred years later the American republic was established—the first great democracy—and it was successful because the Constitution and the Bill of Rights were founded on God's Word.

Food prices were down 3½ percent from January but other costs of living hit record highs.

NEMACOLIN'S PATH
Thru Garrett County, Maryland

Maryland westward from Fort Cumberland has been fortunate from earliest historical times in the possession of several east-west routes of travel and trade. Most important of these was the Indian Trail known as Nemacolin's Path (1) thru the northern part of our county. Gen. Braddock's Road, built by his army during the French and Indian War, followed the general course of the old Path, and our present U. S. Route 40, the National Road, parallels and crosses both of the older highways. These roads across the mountains, linking the East and West, were historically and commercially of national importance; indeed, when France and England both claimed the vast territory west of the watershed—when British and French armies marched this way—they figured in international affairs.

Herds of buffaloes from west and east, coming to pasture in our glades, trod out "traces" of trails; Indians followed the buffaloes, and when the red men abandoned the Potomac valley in the 1730s, white traders of Virginia and Maryland soon followed them into the Ohio valley, thru dense forests and open glades over the old mountain trails.

GIST'S JOURNAL of 1751 — The Ohio Company (2) was organized to secure the Indian trade and to make settlements in the Ohio valley. In 1751 Christopher Gist (3) was directed by the Company to organize an exploring party and find "the nearest & most convenient Road—— from the Company Store at Will's Creek to a Landing at Mohongeyela." Thence he was to go down the Monongahela and Ohio Rivers, noting the kind and quality of the land, and sites for locating "Store Houses & other Houses for the better carrying on of a Trade" with the Indians and future settlers.

On November 4, 1751, Gist set out from the Company Store House at Will's Creek, traveling an old Indian trail "very full of old Trees and Stones." The following day the party stopped about three miles west of the present Frostburg. On the 8th they camped at Little Meadows, remaining there eleven days. "We hunted all the ground for 10m or more and killed several Der & Bears, and one large Elk—The Bottoms upon the Branches are but narrow with some Indian Fields."

On December 7 Gist arrived at Nemacolin's camp near Red Stone Creek (Brownsville, Pa.); from there he continued his journey into Ohio, returning by "a much nearer Way Home", presumably by Nemacolin's Path, not thru Turkeyfoot. He wrote: "(I) am of the opinion the Company may have a tolerable good Road from Will's Creek to the upper Fork of Monhongaly." He spent seventeen days traveling from the Monongahela to Will's Creek, "as we had a good many Skins to carry & the Weather was bad We traveled but slow".

CRESAP AND NEMACOLIN — Col. Thomas Cresap (4) of the Ohio Company, in 1753 was directed to lay out and open a trail from Will's Creek to the Monongahela river. He employed Nemacolin and other Indians to do the work; hence the name "Nemacolin's Path." They removed logs and other obstructions from the old Indian path, making a good pack horse trail. Col. Washington later improved the path so that his artillery and wagons could cross the mountains.

GEORGE WASHINGTON: MESSENGER TO THE FRENCH — The governor of New France (Canada) in 1749 sent Capt. Celeron de Bienville with a party of soldiers, Canadians and Indians down the Allegheny and Ohio rivers to take possession of the country by placing inscribed leaden plates at certain points. Virginia also claimed the Ohio valley for herself and Great Britain. French aggression continued, so, in 1753, Governor Dinwiddie sent Major Washington with a message to Saint Pierre, the French commander, protesting the French invasion and requesting that they leave the valley.

The young major took with him Jacob Van Bram as interpreter, and at Will's Creek employed Gist as guide and four other men. The party left Will's Creek November 15, traveling horseback over Nemacolin's Path. They camped that night on George's Creek and the following day reached the "big fork of the Youghiogheny"; on the 18th they arrived at Gist's "house in the new settlement".

On December 11 Washington delivered his message to the French Commander at Fort Le Boeuf, received his reply, learned all he could of the French intentions and positions, and, with Gist, returned to the new settlement on January 2, 1754. He then traveled the Path and arrived at Will's Creek on the 6th, passing on the way 17 horses loaded with stores and materials from Virginia for a fort at the Forks of the Ohio.

This day we arrived at Will's Creek, after as fatiguing a Journey as it is possible to conceive, rendered so by excessive bad Weather. From the first Day of December to the 15th there was not one Day on which it did not rain or snow incessantly; and throughout the whole Journey we met with nothing but one continued series of cold wet Weather, which occasioned very uncomfortable Lodgings; especially after we had quitted our Tent, which was some Screen from the Inclemency of it.

CAPTAIN TRENT TO THE OHIO — Advised that the French were preparing to construct a chain of forts in the Ohio valley, the Virginia Assembly took steps to erect a fort at the junction of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers, where the Ohio Company had already begun the construction of a trading post. Capt. William Trent with a company of volunteers arrived at Wills Creek in February, 1754, marching thence over Nemacolin's Path to "the Forks", where his men began the construction of a fort. But on April 17 a large force of French appeared, and Ensign Ward, then in command, was obliged to surrender. The French permitted the Virginians to return to Will's Creek. They then enlarged and completed the fort, naming it Fort Duquesne.

WASHINGTON'S EXPEDITION AGAINST THE FRENCH 1754 — In the meantime Governor Dinwiddie enlisted 600 volunteers who were placed under Col. Joshua Fry. George Washington, as Lieut. Colonel, was second in command. Washington reached Will's Creek on April 20, 1754, five days before Ward's company arrived from the Ohio. He acted promptly; with only about 150 men he marched on April 29 over Nemacolin's Path, intending to prepare the trail for artillery and wagons as far as the mouth of Red Stone Creek on the Monongahela; to fortify that place and wait for Col. Fry with the main body of troops.

The expedition camped at Little Meadows (6) on May 9. Some traders came in, whom the French had warned to leave the Ohio. On the 23rd the Virginia troops arrived at the Great Meadows. (7) Here Washington learned from friendly Indians that a small body of the French was in the neighborhood. He surprised them on the 28th, killed ten, including Jumonville, the commander, and took the remainder prisoners, except one, who carried the news to Ft. Duquesne.

The Virginians strengthened the stockade at Great Meadows and named it "Fort Necessity". Col. Washington had about 400 soldiers at the fort, when, on July 3, French and Indians, said to number about 900, attacked. The battle continued until midnight when Washington surredered to Capt. de Villiers, on condition that his troops be permitted to return to the English settlements and that they build no fortifications west of the mountains.

After several days painful marching over Nemacolin's Path, carrying their wounded, the troops arrived at Will's Creek. Washington went to Williamsburg, Virginia, to report. Col. James Innes took command at Will's Creek, where he began the construction of a fort and log barracks for troops. General Braddock later named this fortification "Fort Cumberland" in honor of the Captain-General of the British army.

Thus the French and Indian War began in our neighborhood—the war which decided the fate of a large part of North America, including the two thirds of Garrett County west of the Continental Divide.

Voltaire said, "A cannon shot fired in the woods of America set all Europe in a blaze."

(1) NEMACOLIN, a friendly Delaware Indian, resided on Dunlap's Creek near Brownsville, Pa. When Gist visited his camp in 1751 Nemacolin complained that the white people had taken his land near Philadelphia without payment.

(2) THE OHIO COMPANY: See page 147 of the June 30, 1945, Glades Star.

(3) CHRISTOPHER GIST, a surveyor, son of Richard Gist of Baltimore County, also went to the Ohio for the company in 1750. On October 31 he set out from Col Cresap's and traveled thru Pennsylvania. At Loggs Town on the Ohio he found "a pacel of reprobate Indian Traders." In Ohio he visited a white woman of whom he wrote: "We left Mushingum and went W 5m, to the White Woman's Creek, on which is a small Town; this White Woman was taken away from New England when she was not above ten years old by the French Indians; she is now upwards of fifty, and has an Indian Husband and several children. Her name is Mary Harris, and she still remembers they used to be very religious in New England, and wonders how the White Men can be so wicked as she has seen them in these woods."

Gist and his sons, Nathaniel and Thomas, were with Braddock's army. After the defeat he was captain of a company of scouts serving on the frontier. He died in 1759 of small pox.

(4) COL. THOMAS CRESAP, a native of Skipton, England, born in 1694, came to Maryland when fifteen years of age, and finally settled about 1740 at Shawnee Old Town on the Potomac. Col. Cresap and his sons were noted Indian fighters and pioncers in Allegany County.

(5) WILL'S CREEK: The city of Cumberland is located in part on the site of Caiuetucue, an Indian town. The early white settlement there was known as "Will's Creek", from Will, an Indian, whose wigwam was about three miles above the junction of the creek with the Potomac. Cumberland was our county seat from 1789 to 1872.

(6) LITTLE MEADOWS, a glade on Meadow Run at the foot of Meadow Mountain: an historic camp ground on the Braddock and National roads, three miles east of the town of Grantsville. It was included in the "Good Will" tract, patented to Joseph Tomlinson in 1761, on which he built his noted Red House Inn. The present Stone House Inn was built by his son Jesse, in 1816.

(7) GREAT MEADOWS, a glade on Nemacolin's Path near Uniontown, Pa.; site of Fort Necessity. Included in a land patent to Washington in 1767.

(8) FROM WASHINGTON'S JOURNAL: May 11. Detached a party of twenty-five men, commanded by Captain Stephens and Ensign Peronie, with orders to go to Mr. Gist's to enquire where La Force and his party were.—— I also ordered them to examine closely all the woods round about, and, if they should find any Frenchman apart from the rest, to seize him and bring him to us, that we might learn what we could from him.

May 12. Marched away, and went to a rising ground, where we halted to dry ourselves, for we had been obliged to ford a deep river, where our shortest men had water up to their armpits.

(Evidently they marched from the Little Meadows and forded the Casselman River at the Little Crossings near Grantsville.——Ed.)

(9) COL. JOSHUA FRY was thrown from his horse on his way to Will's Creek, where he died on May 31, 1754, leaving Col. Washington in command of the expedition.

Large Number of Veterans' Claims Filed In 6 Months

Nearly 5,000 claims involving reemployment, promotion, and seniority rights of veterans were filed with field offices of the Bureau of Veterans' Reemployment Rights, U. S. Department of Labor, between August 1947 and February 1948, Robert K. Salyers, BVRR Director, said today.

The claims Mr. Salyers said, involved rights in some cases of hundreds of veterans similarly situated.

In the six month period 2,908 claims were settled through field offices while 1,930 were still pending in February.

Mr. Salyers gave much of the credit for prompt settlement of claims to volunteer veterans' reemployment rights committeemen in every section of the country.

The Veterans' Reemployment Rights Committeeman for the Cumberland area is Mr. Thomas F. Conlon, Liberty Trust Building, Cumberland. Veterans in this area having any question or doubts about their reemployment rights either with respect to reinstatement on the job or such benefits as vacation, seniority, wage increases or other matters should contact Mr. Conlon or the local office of the Maryland State Employment Service.

Teachers Utilize Motion Pictures

Numerous motion pictures have been shown to the pupils of Oakland High School recently. All of these have been educational and of interest to the students. After each is shown a discussion is held and questions are asked and answered. They are scheduled as part of the class room instruction.

The larger amount of these have been seen by eighth and ninth graders. Those which have been shown are the following: "Southern California," "Petroleum and It's Uses," "Arizona's Mineral Resources and Scenes," "A Date With West Virginia," "First Steps in First Aid," "Amazing America," "Sugar in the Everglades," "A Short Course in Paper Making," "Trees and Men," "Carlsbad Caverns," "Thunderheads Over the Pacific," "Apples," "All America," and "Sulfur."

"Sulfur," "Amazing America" and others have been shown to the juniors and seniors. Many other films have been ordered and some classes are renting films pertaining to special subjects which they are studying or will study.

Special Topics

Several science pictures have been received by the school and Mrs. Donna Littman has been showing these in her science classes. Plans are being made to obtain films on France with French dialogue for Miss Sybilla Paynter's French classes. Some students in the senior problems of democracy classes have taken the ordering of films on juvenile delinquency as a project. A few movies of longer length portraying classical literature may be ordered, mainly for English classes.

Turkey Growers Expect Good Year

Good demand for turkey meat this winter together with high feed prices has forced close selling of turkey breeding flocks, according to Wade Rice, University of Maryland poultryman. He states that many experts are forecasting an 18% drop in 1948 turkey production over 1947; a 16% drop in 1947 production over 1946 was reported by the U. S. D. A. some months ago.

Moreover, the heavy storage stocks of turkeys of a year ago, have dwindled under a good demand and high red meat prices, so that current storage holdings are slightly below the 5-year average.

"This looks like a year when turkey breeders will hold their breeding birds late into the season in order to fill an overflow of orders," he declares. "Many breeders already have sold their season's prospective output of eggs and poults.

Improvement Noted In Kempton Mine

A number of recent improvements supplementing generally good safety conditions at the No. 42 mine of The Davis Coal and Coke company at Kempton, are commended in an inspection report issued by the Bureau of Mines. The report also recommends about a dozen further safeguards. The Garrett County mine employed 218 men and produced 1,500 tons of coal a day when Joseph Marshalek inspected it in December and January.

Commending the adoption of a systematic timbering plan between inspections and removal of some loose roof during the inspection, the inspector proposed removing or adequately supporting some remaining loose roof.

Inspector Marshalek noted with approval the use of permissible explosives fired with permissible blasting units by shot firers who tested for explosive gas before and after blasting. He advised firing all on-shift blasting shots or series immediately after charging and noted that one shot firer did not test the roof and faces before and after blasting on shift.

The inspector commended increasing the air flow in one section during the inspection, and advised repairing or replacing the water gauge on the No. 2 ventilating fan and posting abandoned workings. Although gas was ignited in this mine in 1916 and company records showed that it had been detected with a permissible flame safety lamp several times, he found none during this inspection.

The inspector proposed adequately rock-dusting the dry surfaces of the No. 1 belt conveyor section to within 80 feet of the faces. To supplement several haulage and electrical improvements, he advised cleaning the haulageway clearance space at two points, frame-grounding three of the shortwall mining machines and several of the coal drills, equipping three of the main power cables with disconnecting switches, and providing overload protection and power taps for four of the locomotive trailing cables.

New office equipment and a radiator are ordered for the treasurer's office. A new index system for the records is being established in the clerk's office which will save much time and effort.

The court room and other rooms that have been painted present a most pleasing appearance.

Accidental Survey Gives Town Its Name

The Garrett County community of Accident got its name in 1751, when a couple of surveying crews "accidently" inspected the area for George Deakins, a gentleman to whom King George II, of England, apparently owed a bit of money.

The story is contained in this month's issue of "The American Magazine," under the title "What's in a name." It seems Mr. Deakins was promised a grant of land by King George and sent out two surveying crews to look over land in Western Maryland. Both crews inspected the same parcel of ground.

Deakins called it an accident on the part of the two surveying teams and then called the settlement Accident, too.

Regulations Stipulate These Trees Must Not Be Cut Less Than Seven Inches in Diameter

The timber cutting regulation, recently established by the Garrett County Forestry Board, under the terms of the Forest Conservancy Act, will include the following tree species as desirable trees, it was announced this week by the Department of Forests and Parks:

According to the department, no tree of the foregoing species shall be cut that is less than seven inches in diameter, measured one foot above the average ground level, unless prior approval is obtained from the county forestry board. All other species, it was pointed out, may be cut to any desired diameter.

The department stated the regulation has the force of law and copies of the regulation have been filed with the clerk of the court of appeals and with the bureau of legislative reference.

The Forestry Board declared that studies have shown that mine prop operations, which take trees less than seven inches in diameter, are invariably unprofitable. It was emphasized that the regulation does not apply to those farmers and others who cut timber for their own land for personal use.

All communications in regard to this regulation are being directed to the district forester, at the Court House in Cumberland.

Loss of Benefits Affects Local People

"Loss of benefits on account of delayed filing is a serious problem at this time," declared William W. Wood, manager of the Cumberland office of the Social Security Administration.

Explaining that benfit payments cannot be considered until an application is on file, the local manager emphasized a national need for understanding the program of insurance protection.

When a worker attains age 65, he or she should contact the local field office of the Social Security Administration to ascertain what rights and privileges should be exercised in protecting and conserving the worker's social security funds.

"A second time for action involves the immediate family or close relatives of a worker who died before or after retirement. Inquiry should be made as soon as possible," the local manager stated, "in order to protect family rights under the survivorship provisions of the social insurance program.

Better Barn-Lighting

—more work done with less effort

When a farmer tries to do his work by the light of a single drop-cord bulb in the center of his barn, he not only strains his eyes, but takes longer to do his work.

What's more he cannot see quickly into the shadowy stalls and takes chances on stumbling over unseen objects.

Good lighting, one of the best all around protections a farmer can have, should be planned carefully for best results. Relighting a barn is not expensive. The important thing to keep in mind is to place the lamps in the right location and to use bulbs of the right voltage.

An added convenience is a two-way switch in the barn and in the house.

What a strange world! This little boy sees only a warped image when he views the globe through ill-fitting glasses. His world is out of focus. To correct this faulty view, he must remove the spectacles.

To strengthen their outlook, children must have the benefit of spiritual training. They must be allowed to look upon a more beautiful way of living—and then be encouraged to better their activities and habits. It is the Church which helps give them the clean, clear vision of a truly successful Christian life.

Bring the children of your family and your community to church school and church—and bring the world into proper focus for them.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Judge Henderson Delivers Charge To Grand Jurors

March Term of Circuit Court Opens Monday When Investigating Body Begins Its Duties

Associate Judge George Henderson delivered the charge to the grand jury Monday morning as the Garrett County Circuit court opened its March term.

Judge Henderson reviewed the history of the grand jury system, outlined the duties of the jurors and instructed them to inspect public records, the jail and Court House, and to return such indictments as they may find necessary.

Gentlemen of the Grand Jury:

It is customary for one of the Judges at the opening of each Jury Term of Court to give instructions to the Grand Jury, or it is termed "to charge the Grand Jury."

You have been chosen by lot from among the male citizens and voters of Garrett County to serve as Grand Jurors for the March Term, 1948, of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

As a result there is temporarily imposed upon you a special duty of assisting the various State and County officials in preserving the "peace, government and dignity" of this County and this State.

The Grand Jury is a very old and very splendid institution. It first came into use in England, and its beginings probably date back to a time prior to the Norman Conquest in 1066.

As you know the Grand Jury is a body of citizens who inquire into criminal matters in a community and make presentments or indictments, called "true bills," of those who, they believe, have committed criminal acts. Such presentments or indictments are duly presented to the court; and upon the indictments the accused are tried by the court with the aid of a petit jury, or if the accused so elects, by the judge himself.

When this country was first settled, in large part by colonists from Great Britain some three hundred years ago, they brought with them the English common law with its grand and petit jury systems. This law and this system prevail in Maryland today.

Grand Juries have always been considered—certainly in Maryland—as a bulwark of liberty to the citizens. Unless the grand jurors find that there is reasonable ground to believe that an accused person has committed a crime, their duty is to refuse to find an indictment. They thus prevent innocent persons from being put to the expenses and humiliation of a trial where there is really no case against them. This function has been extremely important in the age-long battle for individual right and liberties and particularly when arbitrary rulers attempt to place persons on trial where no real offense had been committed, and to force convictions of persons whom they dislike and wanted to get rid of.

Apart from certain specific duties, which will be hereafter referred to, imposed upon the Grand Jury by the Legislature, your function is that of an investigating and accusing body. You do not "try cases," and you have nothing to do whatsoever with the sentences which are imposed or the means which may be taken to rehabilitate a person who has been convicted of crime. Those matters may and should be of great interest to you as members of the community, but they have nothing to do with your duties as Grand Jurors.

You should consider all evidence which may throw light on the matter under investigation, whether it tends to establish the innocence or the guilt of the accused. If, in the course of your investigations, you have reason to believe that other evidence exists, not presented to you, but within your reach, which would qualify or explain away the charge under investigation, it is your duty to require such evidence to be produced. After you have heard the evidence with respect to any charge, you should then proceed to deliberate among yourselves as to whether or not to present or indict.

It is, of course, not your duty to undertake to regulate, control or investigate the private affairs, lives, or morals of individuals, unless you have reason to believe that their conduct affects or constitutes a violation of the criminal law of this state. You are, of course, not to be busybodies and you are not censors of other people's affairs except in so far as they directly affect violations of the criminal law of the State.

It is necessary in the case of any indictment or presentment for twelve of your members to vote in favor of such indictment or presentment. An affirmative vote of a mere majority of your members present will not be sufficient to sustain a valid presentment or indictment, unless such affirmative vote consists of at least twelve.

Matters may arise of such character or of such public notoriety as to warrant on your part an original investigation and presentment and indictment of certain persons. In making any such investigation it is within your province to summon any persons, believed by you to have knowledge of the conditions under investigation, to appear before you and testify respecting the matter which you are investigating. For that purpose you may summon before you anyone, officials or otherwise, to give evidence pertaining to such matter. If necessary you may summon the heads of important branches or departments of the State, County, or City Governments for such purpose.

Your proceedings must be absolutely secret pending the return by your presentment or indictment. At that time, of course, the presentment or indictment sets forth the nature of the charges against a specified person or persons; and a list of some of the witnesses who appeared before your body in connection with these charges is also placed on such paper. Even after the return of a presentment or indictment, you should not disclose in any way the nature of your deliberations or how you voted with respect to the presentment or indictment. In fact, nothing should be disclosed as to what went on in the Grand Jury room unless you are directed by the Court to make any such disclosure.

While testimony is being produced before you, the only persons allowed in the Grand Jury room besides members of your own body are the State's Attorney (who is your legal adviser), the Court Stenographer if requested by you and directed by the Court, and the witnesses testifying before you. Included in the latter group are such persons as may appear as custodians of records or guards in charge of dangerous prisoners. The State's Attorney does not have the right, however, to examine any witness before you unless you yourselves desire him to do so.

After you have heard the testimony in connection with a charge and are prepared to deliberate and to vote on the matter, no one except the members of your body is allowed to be present.

It is no longer necessary to call to your attention especially a number of statutes concerning crime. However, the Court is obligated to call to your attention Article 51, Section 22, of the Code of Maryland, requiring you to visit the jail, inquire into its condition, the manner in which it is kept, the treatment of prisoners, and report the same to the Court.

While not required by law, it is customary for the Grand Jury in a body to inspect the Court House and report upon its condition.

The Local Code requires that you appoint a committee of your body to examine the books of the Treasurer of Garrett County and report their condition to the Court. You are not required to make an audit of these books as that is done by the State Auditors. You will simply use your best efforts to see whether the books are properly kept and that the moneys of the County are being properly handled.

You are a judicial and not a legislative body. You take the criminal laws as you find them; and no matter whether you think them wise or unwise, you will indict such as may have offended against them if sufficient evidence to warrant such action be produced before you. You may on your own motion originate charges against offenders, though there have been no preliminary proceedings before a magistrate, and though neither the Court nor the State's Attorney has laid the matter before you. This is, in fact, your duty, if you have such knowledge, or know of those who may be able to furnish the evidence.

Upon retiring to the Grand Jury room, you will organize by appointing one of your members to act as clerk and one as doorkeeper.

The Clerk will now swear the Bailiff, who will conduct you to the Grand Jury room, where you will begin your duties.

Provisions Against Brush Burning Went Into Effect March 1

The provisions of Regulation No. 4, governing brush and debris burning, went into effect on March 1, District Forester William A. Parr, announced.

He urges care in the burning of trash, brush, or other debris, saying that the dangerous forest fire weather of early spring is on us again. He also urged everyone to be careful with cigarettes and camp fires.

The provisions of Regulation No. 4 are:

Protection from Fire

1. Debris and brush burning:—The following burning regulations shall apply only to the burning within two hundred feet of woodland or inflammable material that could ignite and carry fire to woodland outside the limits of incorporated towns. Uncontrolled burning of debris is prohibited at all times. During the three spring months of March, April and May and from September 15 to December 15, burning shall be permissible only after 4 p. m. and before 12 midnight (EST) except when the ground is covered with snow.

Controlled burning after 4 p. m. and before 12 midnight (EST) during the above mentioned months and at all other times shall require the taking of the following specific protective measures and such other precautions as necessary to prevent the spread of fire to woodland.

Unless there be a natural firebreak of at least ten feet in width surrounding the area to be burned which is free of inflammable material, it will be necessary to:

A. Plow or otherwise construct a fireline at least ten feet wide completely around the area to be burned, free of inflammable material.

C. Have at least one watchman on the ground until the last spark is out.

THE REPUBLICAN

Is This Dictatorship? . . .

A news item in the daily press this week revealed a startling bit of information. It said "The United States served blunt notice today that it will cut off all American financial and recovery aid to Italy if the Communists win control of the Rome government in the April 18 elections."

This policy came from a special adviser to Secretary of State Marshall, so it must be official.

In other words our representatives were saying, "You do as we say, or we don't give you any more money." We'll cut off your share of candy.

We love our democracy and way of life, and we all would fight to preserve it, but getting at the heart of the matter do we have any more right to force democracy down the throats of foreign countries than Russia has to make communists out of them?

Bringing the same principle closer home we have just this week the announcement that all counties and incorporated towns will have to change their fiscal years to abide by a state regulation to make them uniform. This particular change is probably for the better. But the regulation also provides that if the counties or incorporated towns do not do what the state asks, then they will not be entitled to any of the state money coming in from the sales tax. In other words, do as we say, or we'll cut off an amount of money that is rightfully yours anyway.

It seems the approach to these problems is all wrong. The responsibility of helping one another does not end with a lavish distribution of money.

We've got to show these other countries that democracy has it all over communism. But in our opinion we'll never show them by proving how much money we have to throw away, and we'll never show them until we learn to live it in our own country.

The statements of our public officials and their apparently dictatorial manners are proof that we have a long way to go.

Truman Urges Draft Law and Universal Military Training

President Truman proclaimed this country "the principal protector of the free world" yesterday and called for full military strength, backed by a new draft law, to give force to his declaration.

Mr. Truman said "The very existence of democracy" is threatened by Communist expansion. The time has come, he said, to "join our strength with the strength of other free men the world over" to stop it.

The president accused "one nation, Russia, of trying to sabotage the peace and of seeking to spread totalitarian rule over the still free democracies of Western Europe."

He urged adoption of the European recovery program, universal military training for all young men, and selective service to give the armed forces the men they need, up to age 26 or so.

Sales Tax Man Here

P.-T.A. Council To Meet

The Garrett County Council of Parent-Teacher associations will meet Tuesday evening, April 6, in the Oakland High school, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. Britton Martin, Mt. Lake Park, president.

Many Miners Idle

It was estimated that more than half of the deep mines in this and Allegany county soft coal fields were idle yesterday as "pension paralysis" continued to creep through the area. A few strip mines are also down.

Railroad authorities said mines along the Western Maryland lines between Cumberland and Elkins were generally idle.

Mine officials express the opinion that by the first of the week, unless there are developments to cause a change, practically every union mine in Maryland and nearby West Virginia will be idle, as men follow the walkout policy started when John L. Lewis, their president, declared their contract had been "dishonored" by coal operators.

To Discuss Cancer Drive

At the regular meeting of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions club next Monday evening at 6:15 at the William-James hotel, Elza Bray, chairman of the cancer control committee, will discuss the plan with the club for bringing the cancer drive to a successful conclusion in the county.

The Lions club has sponsored this campaign which will be carried on throughout the entire county.

To Complete Law Work

Eleanor Ann Pritts, Kitzmiller, is one of 35 law students at West Virginia university, Morgantown, who will complete work toward their degrees in May, it has been announced. They will be graduated in June.

Farming for Better Living Program Launched in County

A program designed to assist farm families of Garrett county in obtaining increased benefits from farming through better farm management and the proper use of the land in attaining efficient production on the farm, was launched last Friday evening at a meeting in the office of the county agricultural agent.

Attending the meeting were James Copeman, agricultural counsellor for the Monongahela Power company; John H. Carter, county agent; W. W. Nace, district soil conservationist; Mrs. W. W. DeWitt, president of the County Council of Homemakers clubs; Mrs. Kermit Glotfelty, chairman of the Associated Women of the Garrett County Farm Bureau; Dorsey Guard, chairman of the agricultural conservation program in the county; Foster Yost, president of the Garrett County Farm Bureau; Merle Garletts, Marvin Callis, vocational agriculture instructors; Dr. F. D. Custer, veterinarian; H. C. Riggs, cashier of the Garrett National Bank; Frank C. Kley, manager, West Maryland Power company; Thornton Deffinbaugh and Wilbur Close, of the Mountain Democrat; and George H. Hanst, of The Republican.

"Farming for Better Living" embodies the same principles and practices recommended by agricultural experiment stations for many years, practices which have proved successful from a farm management standpoint, according to Mr. Copeman. They are practices which strive to make the farm self-sufficient by encouraging the farmer to grow, preserve and process his own food and feed and maintain fertility of the soil, thus insuring his income through the principles of sound farm management.

The principles emphasize the value of a well balanced farm plan and apply equally well to any size farm unit in the county.

The program has been carried on in fifteen or more counties in West Virginia, and in a number of other states for the past several years, and usually concludes with the naming of a farm family who made the most advancement throughout the year in improving his position. In some communities dinners have been held where the winners and runners up were honored.

At last Friday's meeting, Mr. Nace was named temporary chairman of a "Farming For Better Living Council" which is to be composed of those present at the meeting, in addition to others who were suggested as being interested in the welfare of the farm families.

Those who enroll are given a booklet in which various simplified records are kept. In addition the booklet carries a number of recommendations for a progressive farm program. These recommendations include ones on general appearance, convenience and efficiency of the farmstead, feeding the family, care of the land, poultry, dairy and livestock program and farm management.

Another meeting is scheduled for Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the county agent's office, postoffice building, at which time a permanent chairman and council membership will be named.

In the meantime council members are contacting farm families and asking them to enroll in the program.

$10,000 BEQUEST TO HOSPITAL IS RECEIVED SUNDAY

Amount Which Was Deposited Monday, Was Counted in Campaign Total Last June

The Garrett County Memorial hospital fund received a check for $10,000 on Sunday from the estate of Mrs. Elizabeth Nelson Lofthouse, of Nassau, Bahama Islands. That amount was left last June in the will of the former Oakland resident, who was a daughter of Andrew and Anne Dickie Nelson. The amount is in memory of her parents, who are buried in Oakland cemetery.

The check was received by George H. Hanst, chairman of the hospital campaign fund, from Godfrey W. Higgs and A. M. C. Johnson, executors of the estate, from Nassau. It was drawn on the Royal Bank of Canada and made payable through the Chase National Bank of New York City.

In a letter to the chairman last June, it was stated the money would be forthcoming in due course, but that first it would be necessary to obtain approval of the Exchange Control Committee before dollars could be transferred out of the Bahamas.

Older residents of the town remember that Mr. Nelson, early in the century, had a meat market on Alder street. For several years Mr. and Mrs. Nelson lived in what is now known as the Conneway house, south of Mason street, which Mr. Nelson built.

Mrs. Lofthouse was a well known concert singer and also was owner of a hotel and other real estate in Nassau. A sister, Mrs. Louise Nelson Stewart, of Tampa, Florida, and a brother, Robert Nelson, visited in Oakland last year.

Contributions and pledges received in the campaign last year, exclusive of the amount left by the late George W. Loar, amount to $101,239.83, and all but $8,793 of this amount now has been deposited in the Garrett National Bank. The balance is expected to be forthcoming soon, from thirteen organizations or individuals.

Sanitary District Set-Up Planned; Meeting on Monday

R. E. Weber, Thurl Tower, Claude Stanton and C. E. MacMurray, members of the Deep Creek Lake Association, appeared before the board to discuss the situation regarding a sanitary engineer, garbage disposal, and other matters.

Another meeting was set for Monday, March 22, at 10 a. m., to draw up definite plans, according to J. Edward Helbig, president of the Commissioners.

Delegations Appear

A number of persons and delegations appeared before the Commissioners in regard to repairs to roads, and schools.

A Mt. Zion delegation asked about the school building which was to have been built there. The board told the citizens it had done everything in its power to have the building constructed but that the same had been held up by the School Board and State Board of Education, but it was felt certain that the building would be completed this summer.

James Gilbert and Mr. Hanlin, district 8, asked for work on the old Gorman-Bayard road. A district 2 delegation asked for work on the Mel Coddington road. William Umbel requested a portion of the old Markleysburg road past his property be closed. Mr. Failing, district 1, requested work on a road from Swanton to Green Glade, Some relief was promised.

Among the orders for payment were one of $2,000 to the Board of Education toward the purchase of the lot for the County Library, and one for $2,244.06, to the Board of Library trustees, on the county library levy.

The next regular meeting of the Board will be April 5 and 6.

O.H.S. Plays To Be Presented Tonight

Two one-act plays will be presented this evening by thespians of Oakland High school, in the school auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock.

"Angel Face", a comedy, will be given first followed by a super-natural affair in one act, "The Opening of a Door."

Admission will be 25 and 35 cents, all children and high school students being admitted for the former price.

There will be a number of features between presentations.

Town Must Act On Fiscal Year Change

One of the problems to face the new Mayor and Town Council of Oakland, at its organization meeting in April will be the question of changing its fiscal year to conform to a recent act of the General Assembly.

Under provisions of Chapter 328 of the Acts of 1947 of the Maryland General Assembly, it is mandatory that the county, as well as all other sub-divisions in the state make their fiscal years conform with the state's fiscal period which ends June 30, and begins July 1, or to end December 31 and begin January 1. The county's fiscal year ends at present on December 31, but the fiscal year of the town of Oakland ends on February 28 and begins March 1.

The change is said to be necessary for the proper function of the Maryland Commission on Uniform Accounts, according to James J. Lacy. Once the fiscal period is adopted it cannot be changed without permission of the State Comptroller. Each county and incorporated unit in the state adopting fiscal periods, as provided in the act, shall thereafter keep and maintain its books, records, journals and fiscal reports by such methods as will permit the division of all data, statistics and financial information contained therein into half-yearly periods.

Any government unit which fails or refuses to comply with the uniform accounts act shall be denied all funds, grants or state aid to which it is entitled to receive under state law. This includes income taxes, racing taxes and amusement and license taxes which are apportioned to the various cities, towns and counties.

If there are other towns in the county whose fiscal years do not end either June 30 or December 31, they will have to change their periods to come under the state act, if they expect state funds, it was stated.

Oakland High Loses To Greenbelt Teams

Both boys' and girls' basketball teams of Oakland High school lost to Greenbelt high school teams on the latter's court last Friday evening in a class "B" championship playoff.

The boys lost 56 to 33, with Arnold bearing the load of scoring with 14 points. Kelly and Yost got four each, Lambert 6 and Fauber 5. Greenbelt led at the half 27 to 16.

The girls' team lost 29 to 18 in the preliminary contest.

The teams were taken to Greenbelt in automobiles given for that purpose by a number of citizens, and the teams visited scenic spots in Washington, D. C., on Saturday before returning to their homes.

Plans Made For Junior Baseball

Any boy who became 17 years of age prior to January 1, 1948, will not be eligible. All players must be residents of the community as of February 15, to be eligible for competition.

ARDATH BURKS WILL BE FINAL FORUM SPEAKER

To Discuss "MacArthur's Japan —Is It Democratic?" in Methodist Assembly Room Monday

Ardath W. Burks, the fourth and last speaker in the Lecture Forum sponsored by the Oakland Rotary Club, will appear at the Assembly Room of St. Paul's Methodist church on Monday, March 22. He will speak on the subject, "MacArthur's Japan—Is It Democratic?"

Because of the beginning of Holy Week Church services, the forum will begin at 8:30 p. m., instead of 8:00. This change in time will permit those who attend church to also be present at the lecture.

Mr. Burks is a native of Ohio. For three years he was a news reporter for a chain of community papers in southern Ohio. Burks studied political science at the University of Cincinnati where he first became interested in Far Eastern affairs. Having received his A. B. degree in 1939, he accepted the position of Research Director, International Relations Bureau in the University of Minnesota. In 1941, he was awarded the degree of Master of Arts in political science, with emphasis on Chinese and Japanese politics and government. Since 1946, Burks has been a candidate for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy at the School of Advanced International Studies in Washington.

At the outbreak of World War II, Burks was an analyst in the Far Eastern Unit, Office of the Director of Air Intelligence, U. S. Army Air Forces in Washington. His studies were used in planning General Doolittle's token air raid over Japan in April 1942. Burks enlisted in the U. S. Naval Reserve in January, 1943. His 18 months' overseas tour of duty as Intelligence and Language officer carried him throughout the Pacific area including Hawaii, the Central Pacific, the Philippines, New Guinea, Australia, China, Korea and Japan. He was attached to the XXIV Army Corps which invaded the Philippines at Leyte in October, 1944. For the last two months of the war, he was assigned as a target specialist to the Headquarters Staff of General Lemay and General Spaatz, whose 20th Air Force B-29s raided Japan. Following the Japanese surrender, Burks served with the United States Strategic Bombing Survey in Tokyo.

Ardath Burks recently collaborated in the writing of "Japan—Two Years After," a survey on the occupation since the surrender. He is at present completing a study of Japanese economic theory and policy. He has contributed articles on Japan for the forthcoming edition of Collier's National Encyclopaedia, for the American Year Book of 1947 and for such periodicals as the Far Eastern Survey.

Completes 64th Year In Oakland Business

Alonzo D. Naylor completed his 64th year in business last Friday, March 12, and entered into his 65th year with the same vigor that has characterized his activities over the past decade.

It was on March 12, 1884 that Mr. Naylor came to Oakland to take over the blacksmith business of the late Charles H. Sincell. He soon added wagons and farm implements, then later plumbing, heating and electrical equipment, finally becoming the general hardware store which remains today.

Mr. Naylor, who has passed the 86-year mark, is still actively engaged in the business of the A. D. Naylor and company, and still never misses a day at the store if he is in town. He usually walks to and from his work and takes an extra hour or so at lunch time for relaxation.

RULE OF LAW IS ADVOCATED BY FORUM SPEAKER

"Only Means Left to Eventually End War," Dr. Gewehr Asserts In Address

A rule of law for the nations of the world as the only means left to eventually end wars, was advocated on Monday night by Dr. Wesley M. Gewehr, chairman of the history department, University of Maryland, who was the third speaker on the forum program of the Oakland Rotary club. In recommending this to the United States and all other nations, Dr. Gewehr pointed out that the world had tried every other method to prevent war, without success, and that wherever a rule of law had been set up it had worked. His two specific examples were in regard to piracy and the use of narcotics.

In outlining the place which the United States held in the world he declared we were regarded as a dangerous nation because of our tremendous resources and the power to wage a war, if our attitude was one of aggression.

But he also felt that we were in danger ourselves and that as a country we were not in a position to do what we need to do because "our thinking has not caught up with our national progress."

Others see us as a menace to the world, the same as we see Russia, he emphasized. One of the real fears of European people was the fear of a restored Germany, he said.

The question of what the United States would do with her leadership, this position in the world which had not been necessarily sought, was the important thing, he felt.

Declaring "the days are evil and we must do something about it," Dr. Gewehr launched into an explanation of the effect which the atomic age will have upon the nations of the earth.

In his opinion the old world passed out of existence in July 26, 1945, the day the atomic bomb came into being, and that we are now living in an entire new age where eventually there will be no possibility of monopoly, no supremacy among the nations, but that the main issue will be that of survival.

He stressed that there was no time to remove basic causes of war, no time to change human nature, but that a new type of thinking and organization was needed.

As a result he recommended his rule of law by the organization of all nations. The other alternative was the choice of an immediate bid for world empire which would lead to world chaos and confusion.

Dr. Gewher declared there was a rising war fear in the United States and a definite lack of confidence in the power of the United Nations to prevent war, but that there was a rising confidence in the possibility that a change might be made in the United Nations which would make effective a rule of law.

He stressed that the basis of fear throughout the world was fear of nations, not fear of the people of those nations. He suggested that something be done about national sovereignty as paving the way for this eventual rule of law. He explained that a rule of law (our constitution) worked in this country, that no state would ever think of waging a war with another state, and that the same principle could be applied throughout the world, if enough nations were willing to combine for this one particular purpose.

"We control the destiny of mankind. Will we accept the responsibility?" he concluded.

White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

Here you find the distinction of taper-thru styling–the regal comfort of an all-coil-spring ride, now newly shielded against vibration – the Fireball action of a great straight-eight engine that boasts the quietest purr and pulse in all motordom.

Already you have reason to grant that it sets a new measure of motorcar excellence, regardless of price. Now look at something where comparison ends – at Roadmaster's Dynaflow Drive.*

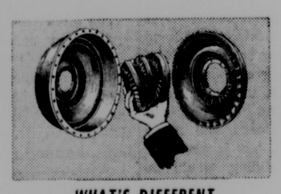
For no automobile drive ever developed makes driving so effortless, yet gives you such near-miracle performance.

Here you not only drive without a clutch pedal and without manual gearshifting – but also without any break in your Roadmaster's gait, as it accelerates between all speeds. That is because no gears ever shift anywhere in the car – not even automatically!

Here the power plant itself does what gears used to do – responding to the touch of your toe on the treadle through all speed ranges – without trace of lag or halt or hesitation.

So though you've already decided there was no surpassing the Roadmaster's super excellence in terms of its 4400 pounds and 18 feet of top styling, luxury and power – just boost your expectations still higher.

See the Roadmaster – try Dynaflow – and you'll find more reason than ever to get your order in – with or without a car to trade.



WHAT'S DIFFERENT ABOUT DYNAFLOW DRIVE*?

To an efficient new pump (left above), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) and an ingenious new supercharging assembly (in hand) which produce a torque-boosting action in starting and accelerating. The result is the first device on any American passenger car which employs liquid to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and high gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated and a simple control gives you manual selection of power ranges and direction.

A meeting was held in my office Tuesday at which time the pesky Japanese beetle problem was discussed. Present were Dr. E. N. Cory, State Entomologist of Maryland, and a number of constituents from each of the counties in my district interested in this particular situation. Montgomery county has appropriated $10,000 for this year's war on the damaging beetle. Frederick county authorities have set aside $6,000 for this work.

This group was interested in securing additional federal funds inasmuch as the funds already allocated by the government are small for the amount of work that must be done if great crop damage is to be averted.

Since I have seen the severe destruction these pesky beetles are capable of causing, I am more than ever bent on cooperating in every way possible to see the proper provisions are made to eradicate these insects.

The Sub-committee on Roads of the Public Works Committee has approved the drafting of another bill to supersede House Resolution 4867 and 4868. The new bill will provide a two-year plan whereby construction of primary, secondary and urban roads will be built. Maryland's share for the first year is $4,791,532. Almost five million is provided for the second year.

Telephone calls flooded our office concerning the rumor that the machinery of Selective Service was beginning to grind away once again so soon. I immediately got in touch with the Armed Services Committees of both House and Senate and was told that there isn't any legislation before either committee at this time to provide for selective service. All of us hope that there will be no need for this legislation.

Can you pick out your neighbors?

• Their faces may not be familiar. But these men and women are typical of the "home town folks" who provide the telephone service in your community.

• Most telephone people live in the communities they serve. This in itself makes for more efficient operation. But that's not all. Because telephone people are local people, they are interested in local activities. You'll find them willingly doing their part in important civic affairs.

• Finally, the fact that these people are your neighbors brings a note of friendliness into the very human job of providing you, day by day, with good telephone service.

To all of you—mothers and fathers: We, at Englander's Pharmacy, do not want to recommend, or suggest, medicine to be given to a sick baby. If baby is sick—call your doctor!

When baby is sick, he or she will have an above normal temperature. We suggest that you keep an accurate fever thermometer on hand so that you will know the warning signs of a sick baby. Baby cannot always make you understand when cold symptoms begin. We adults recognize the warning signs in ourselves, but we cannot always determine whether baby's fretting and crying is caused by teething or colic. But, when baby's temperature is high, help is needed from a trained physician.

TO KEEP YOUR BABY HEALTHY & HAPPY WE SUGGEST . . .

1. Have a fever thermometer in your home. Use it. Call your doctor when your baby is sick, ask his advice.

2. Be sure your baby has an adequate vitamin diet. Babies need vitamins A and D in order to grow straight and strong, vitiamins B and C to keep healthy. Know that your baby is not being starved of essential vitamins. A plump baby is not necessarily a healthy baby, is not necessarily forming strong hard teeth and straight, sturdy bones.

3. And remember—special attention and care is given your baby's prescription at Englander's Pharmacy where cleanliness is our watch word.

"As the Twig is Bent"

But Alexander Pope was, nevertheless, right when he wrote, "As the twig is bent, the tree's inclined." One of the strongest influences in the life of a man is the environment in which he grows up.

In these confusing days youngsters feel even more than their parents the bewilderment of the times. When it is hard for adults to maintain their sense of values, it is far more difficult for youngsters to gain such a foundation.

The most constructive influence in any community is the Church. It provides the guidance, the spiritual insight, the sustaining power that enable parents and children to find the highest values in life.

There is a church in your community that needs your support. There are boys and girls growing up in your community who need the training that church—with your support—can provide.

Need For Reading Labels Emphasized

Two much emphasis cannot be placed upon the need for reading labels on drugs and medicines before taking them, according to Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health. Frequent reports are received of accidents, some of them fatal, affecting people who have formed the hazardous habit of taking medicines without carefully reading the labels.

Equally dangerous is the habit of taking medicine after the directions on the label have become obliterated, which many people do thinking that they can remember what the bottle contained. Reaching for a bottle and taking medicine in the dark is another custom frowned upon by Dr. Riley. It is important to guard against these very dangerous habits and to remember that the law requires labels to be attached to drugs and medicines in order to protect the public.

Keeping drugs and medicines in kitchen cabinets, close to food supplies, is another objectionable habit. This custom was probably responsible for the recent death of an infant. In preparing a feeding for this baby, Boric Acid was used instead of infant food. This unfortunate tragedy might have been averted by keeping the drug far from any food, or by reading the label.

Lay people are likely to look upon Boric Acid as a harmless white powder with many acceptable household uses. Although weak solutions of it are used on such delicate structures as the eye, even small quantities are poisonous if taken internally.

Dr. Riley urges people to follow the simple rule of reading the label before using anything from a carton or bottle, either as food or as medicine. He particularly warns against trusting to memory as to where a particular preparation is kept and using it in the dark. In brief, his advice to the public is: "Be sure you know what you are using, and when in doubt—Don't."

Projects To Supply Information For School Consultants

In order to get information to assist the school consultants who will be here in April, projects are underway by R. Bowen Hardesty, assistant superintendent of schools.

One announced last week was that of the questionnaires which have been mailed to each of the 47 principals in the county schools, which will supply information helpful in formulating the school building program. This material was to be returned yesterday.

The second project is that of placing on a county-wide map, called a spot map, the location of every child who was in school on February 28.

A system of marking will be used to indicate whether or not each child is an elementary, junior or senior high school student, and whether or not each child is being transported at public expense.

Also included in the survey will be the children who are not in school but who should be as the result of the law which goes into effect in 1949, requiring those under sixteen years of age to attend. Mr. Hardesty said the number of pre-school children would be taken into consideration.

When this map is completed, it will help in formulating a master plan for the county-wide building program, Mr. Hardesty pointed out. He added that this picture also would be divided into five regions of the high school areas, to get a clear outlook of the population centers.

With these two projects completed, the consultants who are due here in April can have a better picture of the situation. In addition, one of the three consultants will visit each of the forty-seven schools in the county to gather the information first hand. These consultants who have been secured are Dr. Clarence Newell, University of Marylnad; Dr. E. L. Morphet, Florida State Department of Education; and Dr. L. M. Englehart, New York City.

Approve Measures At Kitzmiller Mine

Safeguard for personnel and property adopted recently at the McNitt Coal Company's 350-ton-a-day Hamill mine are endorsed and further precautionary measures suggested in a reinspected report issued today by the Bureau of Mines. At Kitzmiller, the mine employed 70 men when reexamined in February by Inspector Joseph Marshalek.

In summarizing recent safety gains, Inspector Marshalek commended the prying down or effective timbering of loose roof along the 16 left haulage road and at two specified working sections, the exclusive use of permissible explosives and electric detonators fired with permissible blasting units, recording of the daily ventilating fan inspections, coursing of sufficient air to two working faces to carry off blasting fumes, several precautions against electrical hazards, suitable fire extinguishers for the permanent underground substation, and fire examinations after every on-shift blasting operation.

Among the principal operating improvements suggested by Marshalek were maintenance of unobstructed clearance along two haulage roads, use of enclosed trip lights and attachment of drags to ascending trips, improved guarding of the trolley wire, frame-grounds and overload protection for certain electrical equipment and several other electrical safeguards, and removal or adequate support of remaining loose haulageday roof.

Other suggestions for promoting safety in the mine embraced improved surface and underground storage of blasting materials, use of incombustible stemming and short-circuiting of shot-firing cables at battery ends, installation of solid, fireproof stoppings between the main intake and return airways and preshift mine examinations, effective fire protection underground, 100 percent wearing of safety-toe shoes, use of goggles by employees performing eye-hazardous work, and bans on using open-flame lights and smoking in the mine.

Britain's socialist government ordered a purge of Communists, their sympathizers and active fascists from government departments handling security matters.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

By LOUIE D. NEWTON, D. D.

SCRIPTURE: Mark 4:26-29; Luke 4:16-22a; II:20-2; Romans 14:17.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Isaiah 60:1-3, 10-14.

The Kingdom of God

Lesson for March 21, 1948

JESUS went back to his boyhood home in Nazareth, and on the Sabbath he went into the synagogue, "as was his custom." They gave him the Book of Isaiah, from which he read a passage in the 61st chapter, adding, "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears," Luke 4:21.

Dr. Newton

Jesus had come to let people know about God — to reveal the Father's perfect love for all men. He loved the Bible, and was constantly reading it, which in his day was the Old Testament only. And he loved the Sabbath day, which we now call the Lord's day. Beginning with his resurrection, the first day of the week has been observed as the Lord's day. And Jesus loved the appointed places of worship, and was always found in some synagogue on the Sabbath. Don't you wish you might have been in Nazareth that day when he stood up to read the Scripture?

* * *

WHAT HE CAME TO DO

JESUS, I repeat, came to reveal God to men, which is but another way of saying that he came to teach men about the Kingdom of God. Here we shall need to read Mark 4:26-29, and Romans 14:17.

"The Kingdom of God is as if a man should cast seed into the ground," said Jesus; and Paul, in Romans 14:17, says, "The Kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Spirit."

Jesus, then, came to establish a kingdom within the hearts of men. It means the rule of God in human hearts. What he wills, we gladly do. It manifests itself in the daily life of the individual, in the home, in the school, in the church—everywhere.

* * *

"THY KINGDOM COME"

SO VITAL is this truth for the Christian that Jesus, in the pattern prayer, teaches us to say, "Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as in heaven."

If we live in the atmosphere of this prayer, we shall embody daily the fruits of the coming Kingdom of God. If we really "seek first the Kingdom of God, and his righteousness," we lift the level of life wherever we stand and serve. This is precisely what Jesus did. "He went about doing good."

We help to answer the prayer, "Thy Kingdom come," when we do with all our might what our hands find to do—in the home, in the community, in the church.

* * *

KINGDOM OF GOD AMONG MEN

IT IS not enough to consider this truth in terms of some far-off dramatic event. It is a present force and factor in today's world.

One day the Pharisees asked Jesus when the Kingdom of God should come. He told them that it would not come with observation—that it is within the hearts of men.

What did he mean? I believe that he meant just this, that the Kingdom of God will and must manifest itself in the common affairs of everyday life. We may hinder its manifestation. We may retard its coming. On the other hand, we may make it manifest and hasten its spread to earth's remotest bounds.

How? By yielding ourselves to the rule and reign of God in every relationship of life. In race relations, in social service, in relief to the afflicted, in united effort for peace, in better housing, in better recreational facilities, in educational opportunities for all. The Kingdom of God is not an impractical theory, but a working principle, even as the leaven works in the loaf.

* * *

WHEN WILL IT COME?

THE Kingdom of God will come when redeemed hearts everywhere enthrone God in their whole attitude and purpose. Then, and not until then.

Will it come? This is a stubborn question. From our viewpoint, it may seem doubtful; but Jesus declares that it will come. "I have overcome the world," he declares.

The one question for you and for me, What part shall I have in the coming of the Kingdom of God upon the earth? We each decide by our willingness or unwillingness to follow him.
